Notable Funeral Of Mrs. Blake

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Blake formerly of Quincy took place Thursday at the church of the Immaculate Conception, and is reported by the Globe as follows: Archbishop William H. O'Connell occupied the throne on the gospel side of the altar, and a dozen clergmen assisted in the solemn high mass of requiem. The great church was filled with a throng of people who came to pay their trioute of respect, Catholics and Protestants alike, for Mrs. Blake was in her own circle of friends sincerely loved, and in the community widely known and admired.

Rev. Thomas I. Gasson of Boston college, the celebrant, delivered a ulogy at the close of the mass, and he arch-bishop coadjutor pronounced the final absolution.

Four of Mrs. Blake's sons, Frederck, Arthur, Fulton and Gerald, with two classmates, Bartlett H. Hayes and Malcolm Donald, were the pallbearers, and the ushers were Hugh Bancroft, Henry McGrath, Frank Fitzpatrick, Charles Moran, Charles Belden, Burnside Atwood and N. B. Vanderhoof.

A large number of the sisters of the Good Shepherd, the sisters of Notre Dame, the sisters of Charity and the Grey Nuns, to all of whom Mrs. Blake had been a good friend, were in the church, and almost every prominen Boston physician, associates of Dr. John G. Blake, Mrs. Blake's husband,

The music for the solemn high mass was arranged by George E. Whiting, organist of the Immaculate Conception church, the Gregorian mass being sung.

The interment was at Holyhood, where the commitment services were said by Rev. J. Havens Richards, SJ. of the church of the Immaculate Con-

Longfellow Statue

In connection with the Longfellow centennial comes the announcement by a Boston committees of the Longfellow national memorial association of its desire to erect at Washington a statue to the great New England poet. Already almost one-half of the sum necessary for this purpose has been subscribed. The Boston committee has high hopes of readily securing the larger part of the money yet de-

England already has a large statue to Longfellow erected in Westminster abbey and the committee points out that this fame entitles him to a suitable monument at the national capital here. President Roosevelt has written a letter heartily in favor of the plan. Subscriptions for this Longfellow monument are being received by Lee, Higginson & Co. for the Boston committee.

Pawtucket, R. I., March 1.-His elothes blood-spattered, his hands cut and terribly scratched and darkened by bloodstains, a man giving the name of Walter A. Barker, a jeweler of Attleboro, was arrested by a clever ruse and later charged with the brutal murder of Mrs. Mary Henderson, who was killed with a hatchet in her store Wednesday and the money till rifled.

Frank Phillips, a driver on a brewery wagon, was passing Daggert park, some distance from the scene of the murder, yesterday, when he was accosted by Barker. The man inquired of the driver the way to an Attleboro

Phillips noticed that there were numerous blood spots on the man's overcoat, and when he drew a white linen handkerchief from his pocket Phillips saw that that too was covered with blood. His suspicions were at once aroused. He then requested the man to get into his team, telling him that he would drive him to the Attleboro car

As the man stretched forth his right hand to catch hold of the handle strap to assist himself in getting on the team. Phillips also discovered that the man's right hand was terribly scratched and covered with a clot of hardened blood. * Phillips as he drove the man down Main street remained cool and kept the conversation running on in a light vein. At the head of Main street Officer Fiughes of the Pawtucket police appeared. Phillips suddenly drew up his team to a standstill and before the be wildered man could make a move to escape or tell what happened to him, he was under arrest.

He was brought to the Pawtucket poice station and locked up. He gave the name of Walter A. Barker and said that he lived in Attleboro and was a jeweler by trade. He stated that he was 52 years old and that he had fallen down and cut his hand, thus accounting for the scratches on his hand and blood on his clothing. City Physician Richards was summoned and said that the blood from so slight a cut could not make so many blood stains.

Keeper Reed of the city asylum was called to the police station and positively identified the man as the same he had seen running from the direction Iso saw the man

The man told the police that about the time the murder was committed he was in a saloon on the corner of Broadway and Benefit street, over a mile distant from Mrs. Henderson's store. He then said that after remaining in the saloon a short time he took a car and went down to Providence, but failed to ccount for his whereabouts during the

WATERING OF SECURITIES

Original Capitalization of $33,-000,000 Raised by Harriman to $125,000,000 -- Witnesses' Retusal to Answer Questions

New York, March 1 .- The interstate commerce commission has concluded its New York hearing on the investigation of the operations and relations of the Union Pacific system and, while there will be oral argument heard at Washngton on an April date to be decided later, the testimony has probably all been taken. There has been no decision yet as to an appeal to the courts to com pel Edward H. Harriman and Otto H. Kahn to answer the many important questions declined by them, but the question will be considered after the commission returns to Washington.

The closing hours of the hearing brought a statement from Controller Mahl that financial statements were not sent to Southern Pacific stockholders for several months before the dividend meeting in July last, this in contradiction of Harriman's testimony a suggestion from Commissioner Har ian that the 30 percent dividend on Alton was illegal under the Illinois con stitution; a partial clearing away of the aspersion about the mortgaging of the Murrayville-Springfield cut-off before i was built and a long discussion of the propriety of capitalizing the old expenditures for betterments on the Al

Samuel Felton, president of the Chicago and Alton since 1899, was called to show that about $1,000,000 from income as against proceeds from the sale of securities was included in the state ment that showed that $22,000,000 had been expended in improvements. The $22,000,000 also included $2,780,000 expended since last June and paid for by car trust certificates. This reduced the expenditures from the sale of securi ties in the Alton to between $18,000,000 and $19,000,000.

Charles W. Hilliard, controller of the Chicago and Alton, was recalled. He explained that the branch line, or cut off, from a point near Murrayville to Springfield, which he had testified had been mortgaged before it was built was one which the Chicago and Alton had a right to build. The proceeding was not unusual. The enterprise and the method of mortgaging were legiti mate. Then Kellogg elicited a state ment of the Chicago and Alton's assets and liabilities in 1898, before Harriman entered the property, and at the pres ert time. These figures showed that before 1898 its capitalization was, in round numbers, $33,000,000, against $122,872,328 on June last. The witness said the car trust certificates were not included in the capitalization, so the total should be $125,000,000 and not $122,000,000.

Mr. Kellogg endeavored to show that the Harriman management of the Chicago and Alton had capitalized the old debts of the old Joliet and Chicago road prior to 1803, but Hilliard said his knowledge of the road's affairs did not go back that far. It was elicited, however, that there had never been a foreclosure of the Chicago and Alton rail road or railway, while the Joliet and Chicago had been foreclosed. The witness was examined as to the $12,000,000 which it is claimed the Harriman party added to the capital of the Alton because that amount had been expended on improvements, or had been lost by former shareholders. It developed that neither witness nor counsel knew if there had ever been a foreclosure, so Kellogg amended his question to include "improvements or iosses or both." The witness said that the $12,000,000 in question had previously been paid and the accounts written off. He did not know if other rail roads ever added to the capital in that

Witness would not admit that certain operating expenses had been capitalized by the Alton. Certain construction expenses had been so charged, he sald. Kellogg elicited the admission that the discount on the bonds had been so charged that while the books disclosed it, the annual report would tend to confuse the public in regard to this

The witness repeated his testimony of Wednesday as to the transfer of the Alton from the railroad company to the railway company through Louis Stanton, and said that it was evident from the books that the syndicate had simply handed over the $22,000,000 in bonds and had received the preferred stock and the St. Louis, Peoria and Northern property. Commissioner Lane then asked the witness how much the Harriman interests had paid for the Chicago and Alton and how much they got out of the transaction. Hilliard had no means of knowing.

Pittsburg, March 1 .- Two persons were seriously injured, several slightly hurt and a two-story frame building and a street car demolished, causing a monetary loss of $7000, when an empty street car got beyond control of the motorman on a steep grade and after running wild for two squares left the rails and dashed into a confectionery store. The store was filled with persons when the car struck the building. A defective brake was the cause of the

If a convention could be held of all the Rheumatic sufferers who have been cured completely by the use of Uric-O, there would be such a rejoicing as to convince every skeptic that there at last been found the true "Fountain" of health, and yet this would be a decided error, for Uric-O is not a "cure all," but simply a cure for Rheumatism and Rhenmatism only.

Every sufferer of Rheumatism who wants to be rid of the sleepless nights, the nerve blading, muscle twisting hours of pain, should lay aside all other forms of treatment, get a bottle of Uric-O and start rejoicing on his way to health. It matters little how long one has suffered from the trouble nor how intense the suffering, Uric-O will cure it. Cure it completely, cure it permanently and cure it to ne suffering, Uric-Owill cure it. Cure it com-letely, cure it permanently and cure it to tay cured. Muscular, Articular and Inflama-ory Rhematism yield at once to this mighty lealing agent. Druggists and physicians overywhere are gladly recommending Uric-O or Rheumatism because they know its wonderful curative propertives cannot be xaggerated.

Uric-O acts directly upon the blood, muscles nd kidneys. It neutralizes the uric and heumatic acid poison, and drives it from the

"But, Brad, think of what it means to us if we make good.'

"Cap'n Ez, we got that job because nobody else would take it that way. We can do it if anybody can, but nobody else would be fool enough to gamble against the Lord Almighty's weather. We'd be called fools from here to Provincetown."

The captain drew a long breath. "All right," he said gloomily. "Maybe you're right, Brad. It is a crazy gamble, I s'pose, and I was afraid you'd see it that way. We've flunked once, and, no matter how good the reason is, no more big jobs 'll come our way. But if we make good-whew!"

Now it was Bradley's turn to hesitate. There was some sense in what his partner said, but it was playing against odds and with the last dollar on the table.

Suddenly Bradley spoke. "Oh, hang It, what's the odds?" he exclaimed recklessly. "Go ahead, cap'n! I'll sink or swim with you!"

Captain Ezra grasped his hand. "I swore you would," he cried. "Son, this job's goin' to make us!" Bradley's laugh was short and rather

Schwab to Teach 3,000 Boys Secrets of Steelmaking.

A GREAT SCHOOL PLANNED

Financier's Design at the Bethleham Mills Is to Meet Efforts of the Kaiser With German Boys-Huge Machin Shop to Be Built.

Charles M. Schwab, head of the Beth ehem Steel company and other organ izations, has evolved the scheme where by he hopes to train American boys to become the world's greatest makers steel in all branches, says a specia dispatch from Bethlehem, Pa., to the New York Times. He offers an oppos tunity for 3,000 boys to enter the great mills at Bethlehem, Pa. If they will do as he says and as he has done him self, he declares they will be able not only to become mechanics, but experts with a full knowledge of the highest development of the iron and steel busi-

"The Bethlehem Steel company in tends to compete with the world in all grades of work from armor plate and cannon to the finest of tools, such as gauges that will record the thousandth part of an inch," said President Arch Johnston when asked why the company was anxious to engage so many apprentices. "In heavier work America has no equal, but the German empire in the manufacture of the finer articles has no equal.

"The German superiority today is due to the care of Emperor William. who has encouraged manufacturers. He also has been the greatest personality the world over in the training of boys in technical schools. Mr. Schwab, the principal owner of the Bethlehem Steel works, has been a close student as well as a great admir. er of the German system. He has devised a plan whereby we think the Geman method will be improved upon,

"If so many can be had, 3,000 bors and youths will be employed by the Bethlehem Steel works to be transformed into highly trained, thoroughly skilled mechanics, artisans and meta workers, who will help to make this the leading steel plant on the globe. Boys will get something for their serv ices, and as they advance their wages will increase. Mr. Schwab has designed money prizes and sets of tools for those showing the greatest efficiency at given periods.

"A great technical school will also be instituted in connection with our plant. The courses both in the school and in the factory will include thorough instruction in the rudiments of each trade, leading up through every detail until the apprentice is turned out a finished artist in his particular

"Among the trades to be taught the following are the most interesting: Brass molding, both bench and floor work; iron molding, bench and floor work; the laying of fire brick and manipulation of fire clays in the buildng up of furnaces, electric wiring care of dynamos and batteries, electric motors and electric machines; steam fitting in its most complicated forms from the smallest one-eighth pipe up to huge sizes carrying hundreds of pounds of pressure; toolmaking, comprising the making of the almost infinite variety of tools used on the different machine throughout the whole vast establish ment as well as the finest grades of tools in all industries, arts and sel

"Two of the courses will be armor plate and projectile making. The arm or plate makers will be taught the en tire science from the molding of in gots, heating, forging and annealing The company will also offer a chance for its bright boys to take up drafting. "There will not be any formality in entering the service. Those who wish to start work are simply asked to present themselves at the gates of the works."

A course in which even the men who are now trained must receive instruction is in the manufacture of the gray structural iron. This does away with the riveting of iron for bridges and skyscrapers. It was invented in Germany, but Mr. Schwab believes it will attain higher development at Bethle hem. With gray structural iron it is said the material for a bridge or sky scraper now costing $100,000 can be furnished for from $85,000 to $90,000 and will be lighter and stronger than

An immense new machine shop, which will be erected for the manufacture of the finer grades of tools, will cost $2,000,000.

Russian Children's New Games.

The influence of the patriotic stand which the school children of German Poland have made against their oppressors has spread into Russian Po land, says the London Chronicle. In Warsaw the youngsters are playing a new game called "demonstrators," in which they divide themselves into two camps-"Cossacks" and "patriots," or "demonstrators." The latter form processions and advance singing Polish melodies, whereupon they are immedi ately charged by the "Cossacks," and after a scuffle are driven off, leaving their "dead" and "wounded" on the ground. In St. Petersburg the school shildren have started a game of "bomb throwers."

The Democrats could not retain their lead, however, for on a vote to lay on the table a motion to reconsider, the opponents of the ship subsidy were dedeated, 156 to 159, and the vote to reconsider the first vote was adopted, 164.

Then there were other votes, but immediately after the first ballot desertions began, and on the final vote to pass the bill as amended the work done by the Republican leaders during the height of the battle was made manifest. The hill was passed, 155 to 144.

The Scrap Book

Elsewhere in this issue we present the first installment of a new feature, the "Scrap Book," which we commend to the attention of our readers. To neglect to read it would be as if one were to fail to pick up a dollar bill which was honestly one's own for the taking. He who reads will get at least five or six laughs which will stir his liver, kill the microbes in his system, and strengthen his whole organism against disease, dejection, cowardice and all other insidious enemies of our kind. He will also be inspired by a noble little poem, by pathetic and heroic passages, and by the wisdom of the wisest. He who reads will be a better and happier soul for the reading.

Good as a dollar? By Jupiter, we wrong ourselves by the comparison! It is good as health, good as wisdom, good as laughter, good as sympathy and heroic example-good as the most precious things known to us poor mortals struggling through the mystery, toil and trouble of life!

Lincoln's Mental Powers.

Lincoln was always strong with a fury. He knew how to handle men, and he had a direct way of going to the heart of things. He had, moreover, unusual powers of mental discipline. It was after his return from congress, when he had long been acknowledged one of the foremost lawyers of the state, that he made up his mind he lacked the power of close and sustained reasoning and set himself like a schoolboy to study works of logic and mathematics to remedy the defect. At this time he committed to memory six books of the propositions of Euclid, and, as always, he was an eager reader on many subjects, striving in this way to make up for the lack of education he had had when a boy. He was always interested in mechanical principles and their workings and in May, 1849, patented a device for lifting vessels over shoals, which had evidently been dormant in his mind since the days of his early Mississippi river ex-Demarest. Growth is predominantly a function ing up and growing process. Work His voice and mouth were grave, but may furnish the conditions under which Miss Clemmens glanced rather blank- itself it is destructive. By work we do grow by work. We grow during rest. "I think," she began, with a caim Rest is not the only condition of growth, but it is one of the essential conditions. The best work that most of us do is not begun in our offices or at our desks, but when we are wandering in the woods or sitting quietly with undirected thoughts. From somewhere at such times there flash into our minds those ideas that direct and control our lives, visions of how to do that which previously had seemed impossible, new aspirations, hopes and desires. Work is the process of realization. The careful balance and the great ideas come largely during quiet and without being sought. The man who never takes time to do nothing will hardly do great things. He will hardly have epoch making ideas or stimulating ideas.-World's Work.

Will Require Sixteen New 6,000 Ton, 16 Knot Steamers

By a vote of 155 to 144 the ship subsidy bill passed the National House last night. Many changes have been made in the bill from first to last.

The Brazil line will require at least four, and probably five new steamers on the run from the Atlantic caost; the Argentina line at least five, and probably six new steamers, and the Pacific-South America line six new steamers—all of a speed of 16 knots.

These ships will have to be constricted under the provisions of the ocean mail law of 1891, will have to be built on designs approved by the navy department, and held at the disposal of the government as auxiliary cruisers or transports in war.

It is estimated that each of the 16 knot steamers required for service on tons or unwards and will cost about $1,200,000. They will have considerble cargo capacity, and their speed s such that the United States will possess a mail service to South America uperior to that of anyEurothe building of these ships can be admitted free of duty, if their builders

The Farmer.

By THEODORE ROOSEVELT. from the President's Latest Book, "A Square Deal."

ONDITIONS have changed in the country far less than they have changed in the cities, and in consequence there has been little breaking away from the methods of life which have produced the great majority of the leaders of the republic in the past. ALMOST ALL OUR GREAT PRESIDENTS HAVE BEEN BROUGHT UP IN THE COUNTRY, and most of them worked hard on the farms in their youth and got their early mental training in the healthy democracy of farm life. The forces which made these farm bred boys leaders of men when they had come to their full manhood are still at work in our country districts.

SELF HELP AND INDIVIDUAL INITIATIVE REMAIN TO A PE-CULIAR DEGREE TYPICAL OF LIFE IN THE COUNTRY, LIFE ON A FARM, IN A LUMBERING CAMP, ON A RANCH.

Neither the farmers nor their hired hands can work through combinations as readily as the capitalists or wageworkers of cities can work. It must not be understood from this that there has been no change in farming and farm life. The contrary is the case. There has been much change, much progress. The granges and similar organizations, the farmers' institutes and all the agencies which promote intelligent co-operation and give opportunity for social and intellectual intercourse among the farmers, have played a large part in raising the level of life and work in the country districts.

In the domain of government the department of agriculture has accomplished results as striking as those obtained under any other branch of the national administration. By scientific study of all matters connected with the advancement of farm life, by experimental stations, by the use of trained agents sent to the uttermost countries of the globe, by the practical application of anything which in theory has been demonstrated to be efficient—in these ways and in many others great good has been accomplished in raising the standard of productiveness in farm work throughout the country. Farming has tended more and more to take its place as an applied science, though, am hour, as called for in the schedule. ing before the legislative committee on as with everything else, the theory must be tested in practical work and can avail only when applied in practical fashion.

The man on the farm more than any other of our citizens today is inward trip the speed of the train ure. ### A Bonded Zone For Export.

By LESLIE M. SHAW, Secretary of the United States Treasury.

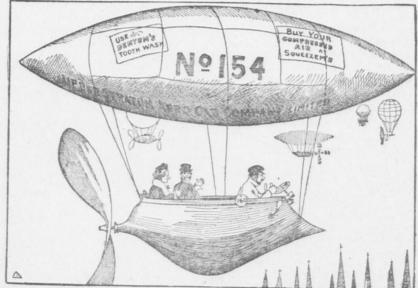

UPPOSE instead of a bonded factory, we bond a well defined section of land containing, if you please, several thousand acres. Within this bonded territory all kinds of factories could be built and into this zone all kinds of raw material could be entered WITHOUT THE PAYMENT OF DUTY. This port should, of course, contain no dwellings. I would allow free coal and every other element of manufacture EXCEPTING LABOR to

In other words, this free port should be a great consumer of American labor, the product of which, under the most encouraging conditions, should be for export AND FOR EXPORT ONLY. If it was removed from the port for the purpose of DOMESTIC consumption it should pay the same duty as if imported from abroad. I do not see wherein the American people could be harmed by such a policy, and it would result in furnishing employment to those who choose to live beneath our flag, consume our products and work AT THE AMERI-CAN SCALE OF WAGES.

All New England would be benefited by such a port somewhere on the north Atlantic coast. A similar port should be established in the vicinity of Norfolk and another on the gulf.

It will take time to develop the thought, but it is in absolute harmony with the present bonded warehouse, bonded factory and drawback policy, and we have the example in the free ports of Germany.

FOR MATTER FOR OUR "SCRAP BOOK" PAGE

The American Press Association offers the following cash prizes for anecdotes-odd, humorous, pathetic or heroic; not exceeding 300 words, and preferably of not more than 200 words-for use in our "SCRAP BOOK" page:

For the best anecdote, One Hundred Dollars For the second best, Fifty Dollars For the third best, Twenty-five Dollars For the fourth best, Ten Dollars

The anecdotes may be original or from reprint. If reprints, the source or author should be given if possible.

More than one prize will be given to one contestant if his offerings merit such reward.

In the awards, no preference will be given to original over reprint, to new over old, to long over short anecdotes. Pathetic and heroic stories are as likely to take prizes as humorous anecdotes. The interest in the story will be the only test of merit.

The contestant who sends the greatest number of good anecdotes, not neglecting stories of, or current in, his own locality, will perhaps stand the best chance in the awards. Poor and pointless anecdotes should not be sent to us; they are

The American Press Association reserves the right to use anecdotes for which no prize is given-reprint anecdotes without compensation; original anecdotes to be paid for by us at the rate of One Dollar each.

Rejected anecdotes will be returned only to those who enclose stamped and addressed envelopes for the purpose.

The contest will close on Thursday, March 28, 1907. No anecdotes received after that date will be considered. The awards will be printed in the American Press of April 6, 1907. The cash will be sent to the successful contestants as soon as the awards are determined.

CHURCH OFFICIALS SUED

Relatives of Head of Christian Scientists Ask For Account ing, Restitution, Receivership and Injunction -- Allegations In Bill Filed at Concord

Concord, N. H., March 2.-A bill in phone. equity to secure an accounting of the Glover Eddy, head of the Christian Science church, was filed in the superior court of Merrimac county by Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover of Dead- done. wood, S. D., and his daughter, Miss Mary Baker Glover, and George W. Baker of Bangor, Me., nephew and "next friend" of Mrs. Eddy.

Besides demanding an accounting of all transactions in connection with Mrs. Eddy's affairs, the bill asks for restitution in case any wrongdoing appears; for an injunction, during litigation, against interference with her property and business, and for a re-

In a statement issued last night by William E. Chandler, as special counsel in the action, it is declared that Glover is actuated by no spirit of disrespect to his mother, but believes that the proceeding is in her real interest, and that neither is the action directed against the religion of the Christian Scentists. The statement further declares that Glover has long thought that his mother was growing too feeble in body and mind to attend to important business matters, but that he was unable to confirm this suspicion, because those immediately about her seemed unwilling to allow even her nearest relatives to have an interview long enough to reyeal her actual condition.

Early in January, however, it is stated, Glover, during a visit to Concord, was enabled to talk with his mother for three-quarters of an hour. and as a result, after due consideration. he decided upon the present action "as an imperative duty too long neglected." The statement further says:

"It was clear that, as Mrs. Eddy could not personally do anything about this enormous business, carried on by her authority and much of it in her name, necessarily it was all conducted by the various persons surrounding her at Concord and in charge of the affairs at Boston, who were not under any real $60,000. responsibility to her for what they were Specifically the bill alleges that the plaintiff, Mrs. Eddy, who sues by her next friend, is and for a long time has than was elected president of the repub been incompetent to do business or to her name in connection with her prop- gether as a general assembly.

The next allegation is that the defendants have possessed themselves of her person and property and have carried on her business.

Third, it is alleged that having done this, knowing of her infirmity, they have become trustees for her of all property which has come into her posession and are bound to give account therefor and of all their transactions in her name.

Fourth, it is alleged that there is reason to fear that the defendants wrongfully converted some of her property

Christian Scientists Surprised

Boston, March 2.-Every Christian Science leader in this city, the home of the mother church, and the place of resi dence of nearly all the defefndants in the suit brought in Concord, expressed surprise and astonishment at the action of the relatives of Mrs. Eddy. Some of the officials were easily accessible and listened to the news of the suit with great interest. Others refused to either be seen or answer any inquiry by tele-

"The assertion on the part of these people bringing the suit to the effect that Mrs. Eddy is infirm mentally is about as absurd as possible. I myself have seen Mrs. Eddy several times recently and I only wish that I could handle the property as well as she car

"It is a strange proceeding to make a person account for his or her own money, and that is what is apparently being done at this time. As yet nobody in Boston knows about this suit, that is, nobody of the faith. We of the church in Boston had not anticipated trouble of any kind and the news comes as a thunderbolt. There has been no trouble so far as I know between Mrs. Eddy and her son."

A DEED AND A WORD.

A DEED AND A WORD.

A little stream had lost its way Amid the grass and fern.

A passing stranger scooped a well, Where weary men might turn.

He walled it in and hung with care A ladle, at the brink;

He thought not of the deed he did, But judged that all might drink.

He passed again, and lo, the well.

He passed again, and, lo, the well, By summer never dried, Had cooled ten thousand parching tongues And saved a life beside.

That thronged the daily mart
Let fall a word of hope and love,
Unstudied, from the heart;
A whisper on the tumult thrown, A transitory breath, It raised a brother from the dust, It saved a soul from death.

Burke on John Howard.

He has visited all Europe not to survey the sumptuousness of palaces or the stateliness of temples, not to make accurate measurements of the remains of ancient grandeur or to form a scale of the curiosity of modern art, not to collect medals or collate manuscripts, but to dive into the depths of dungeons, to plunge into the infection of hospitals, to survey the mansions of sorrow and pain, to take the gauge and dimensions of misery depression and contempt, to remember the forgotten. to attend to the neglected, to visit the forsaken and to compare and collate the distresses of all men in all countries. His plan is original, and it is as full of genius as it is of humanity. It was a voyage of discovery, a circumnavigation of charity. Already the benefit of his labor is felt more or less in every country.

Won His Bet. General Miles, in company with a friend, was walking down Pennsylvania avenue, when a person entirely unknown to the veteran soldier rushed up to him and, grasping his hand, said warmly, "Well, Nelse, old boy, I'll bet anything you don't remember me!"

"You win!" coldly and laconically re plied Miles, as he released himself from the grasp of the stranger and resumed his walk .- Woman's Home Companion.

Rain for a change. Awfully slippery this morning. Clearing and colder Sunday.

Owing to the festival of Bethany circle the Mothers' meeting is to be held a week later, on the 13th.

The annual concert and dance of Quincy lodge 194, L. O. L., will be held at Faxon hall, March 27.

Wollaston lodge A. F. & A. M., will work two degrees at its next meeting, with several candidates. The lodge is having a prosperous season.

Another old resident passed away yesterday, Mrs. James H. Burkett of Adams street who became 94 years of age in January.

On Wednesday, March 6th, Rev. H. C. Parke of Christ church, will conduct a light rattan stick." the noon service at 12.30 at St. Chrysostom's church, also the evening service at 8 o'clock.

The millinery class of the Quincy Women's club is to meet twice a week at the club house, on Mondays from 10 to 12 and Thursdays from 2 to 4. The class is limited to twenty.

The anneuncement that there is to be a large variety of desirable articles at moderate prices should attract many to the Spring Festival next week Tuesday and Wednesday at Bethany chapel.

Among the important matter to come before the City Council on Monday evening are several public hearings on petitions of the telephone company for attachments, locations for poles, and for underground conduits.

The Current Events club has been given up owing to various reasons. The club was late in organizing and the Friday meetings were attended by constant bad weather which resulted in small attendance. Mrs. Frederica Babcock has invited those of the Atlantic class who are able, to attend her other classes out of town. As a speaker, Mrs. Babcock is especially suited to a woman's club, for her lectures are clear concise and elucidating.

Colors In Fruits.

It is known that ripening fruits absorb greater or lesser quantities of oxygen and give off carbonic acid, that a certain portion of the fiber is converted into sugar and another portion into water and that the coloring proc ess depends much on the supply of sunshine while this chemical action is taking place. But exactly why the outer membranes of fruits take on a positive color, why one plum is blue and another red, why one apple is red and another is yellow, is a question which scientists have never yet agreed upon. -London Telegraph.

CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH.

A Daring Young Adventurer With Thrilling Career.

Captain John Smith of Willoughby

Lincolnshire, was the man to whom the success of the first English perma. nent settlement in North America was directly due. Though only twenty-six when the expedition sailed with his on board, he had already enjoyed such a succession of thrilling experiences was the lot of few men even in the adventurous age of Elizabeth. At the age of sixteen he had entered on a military career in France and the Low Countries In 1600 he sought service against the Turks, who were then at the height of their power and had only lately ceased to threaten Vienna itself. On the war to the east he was thrown overboard as a Huguenot and was rescued by pirate, from whom his inexhaustible resourcefulness enabled him to escape after a time. He then entered the Aug trian service and soon signalized him. self by a series of brilliant exploits. One of these, the defeat of three Turk ish champions in single fight, earned him his well known coat of arms, "three Turks heads in a shield," from Sigismond Bathori, prince of Transyl. son living within five miles of the club vania. Later he was taken prisoner b can only attend one of the season's the Turks and owed his escape to the interest with which he inspired a Turk ish lady. A FUNNY DAY IN SENATE

Carmack Makes Great Display ot Sallies and Has a Wordy Combat With Gallinger, Frye and Others

Washington, March 4 .- Beginning at 11 o'clock Sunday, by far the larger part of the session of the senate was devoted to a filibuster by the Democratic senators against a ship subsidy bill as it passed the house and when *************** the senate adjourned a few minutes before midnight the bill was still pending, but it was facing the absolute certainty of defeat with the close of congress today.

Speeches intended for no other puroose than to kill time were made by enators Carmack, Dubois, Overman, ewlands and others, who frankly conessed their intention of defeating consideration of the measure. When the recess was taken at 11:40 the friends of the bill had given up all hope of seuring any shipping legislation during he present session.

Never before has the senate appeared o relish so much an attempt to kill legslation by filibustering methods. Mr. Carmack, as the director of the minority movement against the bill, kept the members convulsed with his sallies. He scorned subterfuge and at the outset of his remarks came into the open Evidently the West Quincy people by addressing himself principally to the have little hope of better street railway term "filibusterers" which Mr. Gallinger service with Quincy, and as an alterna- on Saturday applied to the Democratic tive are seeking another outlet. "If the senator wants a direct answer," said Carmack, "Tennessee stands by the Constitution and Webster's dictionary."

Just as Mr. Tillman had produced a burst of laughter, during the discussion of the amount of steel in a ship, by asking how much "steal" there was in ship subsidy, Mr. Frye took occasion to rebuke the whole proceeding as unseemly and undignified. For the senate to hold a session on the Sabbath day, he remarked, for the sole purpose of frivclous debate for the amusement of the galleries, was about the most unseemly proceeding he had ever witnessed. While he spoke, Frye turned so as to face Carmack, who was seated. He at

Woman's Income Declared L Have Been "Grossly Overestimated"-- Deed of Trust In He Son's Favor Drawn In a Hurry

Concord, N. H., March 4.-Frank S. Streeter, the legal advisor of Mrs. Mary Columbia court, M. C. O. F., at Baker G. Eddy, issued a long statement last evening in the nature of a reply to various allegations in the bill of equity of the Daily Ledger, is increasing in Which has been brought against truspyroxylin and 400 pounds of dynamite popularity. Some Quincy people should tees and directors of the Christian Sciwere seized. The raid was due to in- try for the $185 offered in prizes for ence church by relatives of Mrs. Eddy, with the view of obtaining an account ing of funds. The statement says:

"Early Saturday morning I sent to Mrs. Eddy a copy of the bill in equity as published, but not yet served upon any of the defendants, so far as I am informed. I have since had a long personal conference with her at which this proceeding and matters connected therewith were fully discussed.

"In common with her many friends she believes that the initiative in these proceedings was not taken by her son any other business that may come be- or other relatives, but by others who in a markedly unusual manner and by unique methods are undertaking under the guise of court proceedings, to continue the persecution begun some time

> "From my conferences with her at this time, and on other recent occaions, I am able to speak definitely and positively. Her clearness of mind and esolution of purpose has been in no respect impaired by her advanced years. Her capacity to think clearly and to deal accurately and justly with important business affairs has never been more perfectly demonstrated than in her confereis s and acts in the last two weeks, and in numerous business letters in her own handwriting, which I have received from her during that time.

> "The amount of Mrs. Eddy's property has been grossly multiplied by rumor and unfounded report. She is not posessed of large wealth as the term used. Mrs. Eddy receives no incom from the church, nor from the publication society connected with the church. Her sole income for many years has been from the copyright on her own books, and the amount from this source has been grossly overesti

"Mrs Eddy's business affairs have een managed by herself, with the aid of Mr. Frye, her devoted and loyal servant, and under the oversight and per sonal audit of another gentleman whose name has not been mentioned but who stands for all that is honerable and of good repute in financial circle er property and investments, as wel s her annual income and expenditures, have been carefully kept and requently audited. The last audit was n October, 1906.

"None of the defendants named, except Mr. Frye, have any connection ith the management of her property investments and have any knowledge whatever in reference thereto, nor have my of the said defendants ever received any property of Mrs. Eddy which they hold in trust or otherwise, except in one instance, for the benefit of a relation. "With reference to the report that within a few days Mrs. Eddy has placed in the hands of trustees a large amount of money to be held and used for the benefit of her son and her grandchildren, I have nothing to say. Whatever Mrs. Eddy may or may not have done toward providing for her family is a matter which ought not, for the present at least, to be discussed by me

"It is obvious that I ought not to talk about the legal aspect of the case, no what will be the course of the proceed ngs so far as Mrs. Eddy is concerned The proceedings are unusual. So far as this case can be considered a legiti mate proceeding in equity, it seems to he an attempt to have the personal rights and privileges of a citizen adjudicated in a way unprecedented in New Hampshire, so far as I am aware, and f it shall appear that these proceedings have been instituted for the purposes other than the ascertainment and pro ection of the plaintiff's legal rights the method of dealing with such a case will be carefully considered by Mrs. Eddy's counsel before making any pub ic statement."

It was learned last night that about 4 o'clock last Friday afternoon, the day on which the bill in equity was filed, messenger from George W. Glover of Deadwood, S. D., the son of Mrs. Eddy. delivered to her a letter in which Glover tated his purpose of beginning the suit. At 4:50 o'clock that afternoon Rev. Irving C. Tomlinson, one of the defendants named in the suit, left Conord, his mission being, it is under stood, to go to Glover. Tomlinson had n his possession for delivery to Glover deed of trust for a certain sum of noney variously estimated at from $100,000 to $250,000. This money, it is declared, was to be delivered to Glover on three conditions, as follows: First that neither he nor his household hould make any further demands upon Mrs. Eddy. Second, that they should offer no objections to the probating of any will that might be offered after her death. Third, that they should not seek myself according to my own notions of New England. "The defense is confident that no application will be made by the district attorney for the appointment of a commission in lunacy. But if such application is made it will be met by us with such overwhelming proof against it that there is not one chance in a thousand of the appointment being made. We know positively that there is not a show for the appointment. We are confident of an acquittal. The evidence has been all in our favor and we believe that Thaw will go from the Tombs a free man inside of a month. In fact, we are certain."

Central American Complications Washington, March 4.-Developments in the war in Central America, with the indications that at least four of the republics may become involved, have led the state and navy department officials to consider the expediency of increasing the American naval force in those waters, and it is probable that within a few days several other ships will be ordered there to protect American interests.

SPOONER RESIGNS

Senator From Wisconsin to Resume the Practice of Law

Washington, March 4 .- Senator Spooner has written a letter to Governor Davidson of Wisconsin, tendering his resignation as a senator of the United States, to take effect May 1 next. The letter was dated Saturday, but the fact that such a letter had been written or that Spooner contemplated resigning did not become known in the senate until late Sunday, when it created great surprise, and the Wisconsin senator at once found himself the subject of many anxious inquires.

To all he replied that his mind was fully made up. He had found, he said, that to continue in his present position would require a sacrifice on his part that he could not justify himself in making. In reply to questions he said he would resume the practice of the law, but declined to say whether or not he would be located in Wisconsin. He did say, however, that he would continue to be a citizen of that state as long as he lives.

The law does not require that a resigning senator should do more than Spooner has done, but some senators who have resigned have given notice to the senate.

Savage is an advertising sketch artist and has been occupying a window in this city, mak ing a specialty of getting young girls to allow him to make their pictures. Yesterday afternoon he had six girls between the ages of 12 and 14 years of age in his room, giving them liquor is which he administered some kind of drug. The police last evening found the girls unconscious. Savage and Corothers and the six girls were taken to jail. Physicians gave the girls emetics and they regained conscious ness. The girls said that the men forced them to drink. Physicians say that at least two of the girls are the

> Over a thousand people were attracted to the scene who found the new boulevard and the slope of Third hill advantageous points from which to view the conflagration. It is almost impossible to check an ice house fire after it once gets a good start, and the fire burned first one roof and then another. The loss on buildings, which were owned by the heirs of the Eaton family, was $5,000 to $6,000 but would cost more to replace. The loss on ice was total and will foot up $10,000 to $12,000. The ice was insured for $1,000 but application had been made for $6,000 more.

At 9 P. M. the fire was under control, but it was not until 9.40 that the recall was sounded. They commenced at the smoking car. revolver in each hand and quietly asked the passengers to "shell out" to the man behind, who was closely following. When they came to Jeff in the day coach he at once grasped the idea that it was a hold-up and he drew a revolver and shot at the foremost robber, who shot twice at the negro. The first shot went wild and struck Westlake, but the second shot the negro in the head and killed him instantly. The robbers left the train as it entered the vards at Cornell.

Westlake, the wounded passenger was taken to Liberal, where his hand was dressed by a surgeon. As soon as communication could be had with Agent Donahy of Pittsburg a switch engine with several officers was sent to Cornell, four miles from here.

The country surrounding Pittsburg is thickly settled and is dotted with villages and mining camps. It is reported that the news that a miner was killed by the bandits has aroused hundreds of other miners, who will attempt to capture and lynch the robbers. There were few passengers on the train and the robbers got about $100 in cash and a few watches and revolvers.

Four Together In Six Day Race

The Coliseum was packed to the doors with people last night to witness the start of the six-day roller skating race. At ten sharp, General Manager Lanworth fired the gun that started the race.

Burke took th lead. Holden, the Lynn whirlwind, was right at his neels. Hamilton Jr. got a bad start ut easily caught the bunch.

Neafsey, who had just forsaken the mateur ranks, proved the sensation of the night, trying hard to get the ead, which he obtained with a furious burst of speed at the last minute.

There was no let-up from start to inish. Burke, Holden, Neafsey and Hamilton, Jr., stuck together and lapped the rest almost at will. Holden got the lead several times during the vening but could not keep it. Guiol took a bad toss on the second

The Cups Won by Wollaston Players But Tournament By Granite City

The duplicate whist tournament a the rooms of the Granite City club or Tuesday evening brought out a good attendance of whist players, including a number of the cracks from the Wollas ton whist club. It was an invitation tournament and served to establish a bond of good fellowship between the Twelve pairs were in play, six from Wollaston and six from the Granite lity club. Two handsome silver loving ups were the prizes sought and they were captured by Fuller and Thompson of Wollaston whose score was plus 5 2-6. the Granite City club men had done any officers for the ensuing year were team work and considering this they elected: did excellent work.

Although the two cups went to Wollaston the tournament was won by the Granite City boys. The score of the Granite City club was plus 11 2-6 and minus 5 4 6, while that of Wollaston was plus 14 and minus 19 4-6, which means that the Granite City club won

The individual scores were as follows: T. Fuller and G. R. Thompson, plus 52-6 I. H. Hill and J. Q. Cudworth, . O. Langley and H. F. Tilden. S. Brokaw and C. E. Barker. plus 2 2-6 E. E. Hoxie and J. ### Holden and Hamilton Lead

The second night of the roller kating race at the Coliseum furnished some very sensational racing. Holden, the Lynn flier, and Hamilton, Jr., succeeded in stealing two laps on Burke, and one on Neafsey.

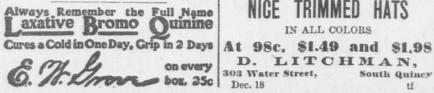

The race had been going 20 minites, when Burke and Neafsey got mixed up, Holden saw his opportunity and with a furious burst of speed pened up a quarter of a lap before the other could follow. Hamilton was right after him and the two tore round the rink at lightening speed and lapped Burke and Neafsey. After the field had settled down, Hamilton, Jr., jumped to the front in an attempt to gain another lap. Holden and Neafsey tacked on behind, and for five minutes some of the hottest sprinting ever seen at the Coliseum was witnessed. The three succeeded in gaining a lap on Burke. Merritt and Neville had several bad falls. The standing of the contestants is as follows:

Miss Bennett.

The funeral of Miss Eliza J. Bennett was held this morning from St. John's church, mass being celebrated by Rev. Julian E. Johnstone. The Ladies' Auxiliaries of Division 10 and 25 were present in a body. There were also delegations present from the Phipps associates and from the employes of the Tubular Rivet and Stub Co. All of these organizations sent beautiful floral pieces.

Weak-Kneed City Authorities

Editors Daily Ledger: All winter the spur track which eads from Hancock street to the Quincy depot has been allowed to remain unused on account of a little snow which could be removed at a rifling expense. I say it is shameful for the Street Railway Company o be so penurious and regardless of the convenience of their patrons, and weak kneed in the city authorities to permit it. I personally don't care as I always walk, and if I decide to ride, all cars start a few seconds before the train arrivals have time to get to Hancock street. The need or dvantage of this is beyond my knowledge of street car management. The remedy for all these corporate lights and petty meannesses is in the hands of the Council. Refuse them few favors, occasionally, and see low quickly they will move.

Yours truly, James L. Edwards.

Command to "Fire" Would Have Precipitated a Massacre--Order Restored by Large Force of Cossacks Armed With Lances

St. Petersburg, March 6 .- The opening of the duma, or lower house of the Russian parliament, although in itself devoid of incident, was made the occasion of a great revolutionary demonstration by the St. Petersburg proetariat and the students of the city, which resulted in several encounters between the police and the populace and more or less serious injury to a number of the latter. The situation was such that the authorities finally were forced to fill the streets with military patrols, as in the ominous days of the Trepoff

After the adjournment of the house a tumultous crowd, estimated to number close to 40,000 persons, with red banners flying and accompanied by the music of revolutionary chants, started, like the followers of Father Gapon on Jan. 22, 1905, toward the central quarter of the city, where the winter palace of the czar is located. #### FISHER SURRENDERS

Says He Stuck to His Engine

Until Collision Occurred New Haven, March 6 .- William E: Fisher of this city, engineer of the special, who disappeared after the headon collision Saturday between a regular passenger train and the special, with company F, Second regiment, C. N. G., Governor Woodruff and members of his staff on board, in which three persons were killed and more than a score injured, accompanied by counsel, surrendered himself to the cor-

It is claimed that a light rain was falling which froze on the windows of the cab and that for this reason Baggagemaster Fitzsimmons, who had been sent to attend to the switches, sat on one side of the cab on the lookout for Hill's siding, while Fisher on the other side was on watch. There were a number of switches passed and the Hill's siding switch was mistaken by both for a switch on a spur track running into an acid works.

Both of them discovered that the tracks continued parallel. Then came Fitzsimmons' question: "Where's Hill's siding?" Fisher realized then that he had passed the siding and was running on the main track parallel to it. He shut off steam and applied the brakes. His engine was then just rounding a small curve, the headlight of the up-bound train appeared in front, Fitzsimmons jumped, and then came the crash.

FUND OF $200,000

Said to Have Reen Collected For Corrupt Purposes

TO DEFEAT POLICE BILL

Measure Designed to Give New York Commissioner Greater Power Opposed by His Inspice tors, Who May Lose Jobs

Albany, March 6 .- Coincident with the arrival of Police Commissioner Bingham of New York to urge, and three inspectors of police to oppose the police bills now pending before the legislature, which are designed to give the commissioner control of the discipline of the force, a scandal has broken out over the collection of a corruption fund by the police to defeat the measure Specific and detailed information with reference to the collection of this money and the plans for its use has been sent here.

The charge is that one inspector of police in New York collected $750 from 11 gambling houses and other illegal resorts in New York city. It is alleged that this collection was made with the avowed purpose of bribing legislators to vote against the bill, and that the original assessment was $500, to which an extra $250 was added for "expenses in New York city." It is, of course, charged that the assessment was levied on the hundreds of illegal resorts, and that in this way a fund of upwards of $200,000 was collected. But there seems to be reason to believe that in 11 cases special information has been secured of the collection.

It is further declared that the fund thus collected has been placed on deposit at a Jersey City trust company, thus keeping the scandal out of the state and preventing the possibility of the payment of money at the state capitol arousing suspicion. Members who vote against the bills are to be paid by drafts upon the trust company, but if they prefer to get their money in more emote parts of New Jersey it will be arranged. The publication of these details has caused a sensation here. In the course of the hearing on the so-called Bingham bill vesterday afternoon Commissioner Bingham disovered three of his inspectors, Hussy, Walsh and Baldwin, in the room, and promptly challenged the propriety of heir appearance against the measure. Pointing to the chairs, he said:

"Two men that I made have the nerve to come up here and oppose this bill. There sits a third (pointing to Walsh) in whose district I made a raid over his Lead last Saturday night upon a pool room which had been in operation for 10 days."

The Bingham measure abolishing permanent inspectors, leaving the choice of those officers to the

The incident began with an objection Interposed by Mr. Delmas for the defense to a question asked Wagner by Jerome, who wanted the witness to repeat certain conversations he had with Thaw in the Tombs. Delmas protested that he had not been allowed to go into these conversations on direct examination. He was proceeding at some length to state the position of the defense when Jerome interrupted with the remark that the argument did not call "for a stump speech." Delmas protested against this "offensive language by the learned district attorney." Fitzgerald interposed in the discussion and Delmas was soon lost to view because of the turn affairs took. During the course of his argument Jerome placed himself on record by saying that the legal assumption before the court today is that Harry K. Thaw is insane. He declared the alienists for the defense have shown Thaw to have been insane as late as Sept. 22 last, and in the absence of proof to the contrary the assumption is that he remains in-

Stanford White. Much of the day was given over to technical questions concerning the mental and physical examinations to which Thaw was subjected in the Tombs by Wagner and Evans. The testimony was of the dryest sort and both judge and jury maintained attitudes of weariness during its progress. The scope of the cross-examination seemed limitless, extending even to hallucinations of the taste and illusions and hallucinations of smell. Wagher declared that when there were such hallucinations in a subject they were indicative of serious brain disorder. Thaw, it developed, however, had no such haliucinations or illusions.

LICENSE VOTE REDUCED Less Than Thirty Vermont

Towns Favor Liquor Selling Burlington, Vt., March 6 .- A con tinuation of the sentiment against liquor selling, which has been a marked feature of the March elections in Vermont since the prohibitory law was repealed four years ago, was again manifest throughout the state yesterday. In the elections held a month after the re peal of the law in 1903, 92 cities and towns voted in favor of license. In 1904 the number was reduced to 49, in 1905 to 36, in 1906 to 27, and only 3 cities and 22 towns were recorded yesterday as favoring the sale of liquor during the coming year.

There was no change in the number of cities, for although Burlington voted against license yesterday for the first | r 10 15 abc time, Barre, which has been dry for two years, decided in favor of liquor The reduction came in the

A BOUND UPWARD

Reading Stock Gains Eight Points In Half an Hour

736,500 SHARES TRADED

Unconfirmed Rumors That Road Has Passed to Harriman--Upward Flight of Stocks Followed by the Whole Market buying of the shares of the Reading Pacific contest six years ago. Reading had been strong in the face of a generally weak market all through yester lay morning's session of the Stock Exchange, when, shortly after 1 o'clock, here developed an enormous buying movement in the shares which carried the price up more than 8 points in half

Up to the close of the market there was nothing official to show the source of the purchasing orders, but a per istent rumor was in circulation that E. H. Harriman was buying the stock with the object of acquiring control of the property and that Harriman was aking all that was offered in the oper market, in addition to the holdings of H. C. Frick, which he was said to have purchased privately. It was said also that the Reading stock held by the Lake Shore had been turned over to Harriman, so that he would have abso-

The reports as to Harriman buying were circulated generally throughout the financial district and were given credence in spite of the lack of any hing official to confirm them; bu there were other rumors. One of thes was that J. P. Morgan & Co., who for merly dominated Reading, were buying to resume their former position in the roperty, another was that the New York Central, which owns the Lake Shore, was adding to the Lake Shore's holdings of Reading, and a third at tributed the buying to the Delaware Lackawanna and Western. Still an ther rumor was that Frick was buying ack stock that he sold some time ago

All the time that the stock was go ing up efforts were made without suc ess to discover the source of the buying and to obtain either denial or confirma tion of the various reports in circula tion. Harriman, who is in Washington, was informed of the use of his name in connection with the Reading transactions and he then made a statement through his secretary to the effect that he was "not interested in Wall street, and did not care to be there." Further than this nothing official was obtainable. The brokerage houses handling the buying orders were numerous and their identity gave no indication whatever as to the persons for whom they were acting.

The trading in Reading reached the extremely large total of 736,500 shares. The magnitude of the sales seemed to preclude the idea that an ordinary manipulative maneuver for higher prices was being executed.

The blocks traded in were extremely share lots, with one block of 10,000 changing hands at 125. The strength in Reading attracted attention early in the day, owng to its being in sharp con trast to the weakness in the list gen

The market opened with a rally from Tuesday's decline, but before noon the better tone gave way to a renewed bearish sentiment and the decline be came violent. The feeling on the exchange bordered on demoralization, with extremely heavy liquidation and declines for many issues to the lowest point of the year. The Harriman shares and the stocks in what is called the Standard Oil group were notably Hill stocks.

This condition of the market held an automobile driven by McLeod. antil shortly after 1 o'clock, when the sensational buying of Reading began. At that time the stock was selling at 116 1-8. Suddenly it developed that all of the stock offered was being taken on an ascending scale of prices. Lots of from 2000 to 6000 shares were traded in rapidly and the price rose in about after the recent weakness in the market served to strengthen she entire list and a general rally was soon in progress which continued up to the close, which was strong and active.

In connection with the Reading rumors interest attaches to the fact that the Baltimore and Ohio, in which Harriman interests have large holdings, owns a total of $30,332,500 of Reading. Lake Shore holds, or did hold, an equal

The Reading company owns the entire capital stocks of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company and the Reading Iron company, $14,500,000 of the outstanding $27,425,800 capital stock of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and a controlling interest in the capital stocks of various other companies operated by or affiliated with the Philadelphia and Reading company. The capital stock of the Reading company authorized and freight train here. The locomotive of issued is $140,000,000.

BEFORE GRAND JURY

leged Solicitor of Bribe Boston, March 7 .- The Suffolk county grand jury acted promptly in taking up a charge that Representative S. J Lamoureux, a member of the legislature from North Adams, had solicited a bribe on a promise to obtain favorable action by two members of the committee on judiciary against several bills now before the committee and aimed at a shoe manufacturing company.

The charges, which appeared in a Boston morning paper yesterday, were made by William H. McMasters, who claimed that the representative came to him and asked for money. The amount involved is said to have been New York, March 7.—Sensational $180. The grand jury heard the testimony of McMasters, as well as that of James O'Shea of Holyoke and Inspec tors Lee and Armstrong of police head quarters.

Speaker Cole of the house was asked what comment, if any, he had to make on the story printed in regard to the allegations of bribery in the case of Lamoureux. He said: "If any member of the legislature has committed any crime, he should be dealt with by the proper authorities in exactly the same way as any other violator of the law. "M'CALL IS ANCIENT"

Senator Beveridge's Opinion of Massachusetts Congressman New York, March 7.—"Mr. McCall is able but ancient. Calhoun said all that McCall said; Shay of Massachusetts the first rebel against nationality in our history, acted all that McCall said: Quincy of Massachusetts declared in congress that the Louisiana purchase 'dissolves the Union.' But none of them uttered the real sentiment of Massachusetts-the true soul of Massachusetts has been voiced by her Adamses, her Websters, her Sumners, her Hoars and her Lodges. I prefer them to her Shays, her Quincys and her McCalls." This was Senator Beveridge's reply to Congressman McCall of Massachusetts at the dinner of the Indiana asso ciation here last night. The senator had been speaking of the power of the nation as distinguished from that of the states. He pointed out several great enterprises-irrigation, suppression of child labor, suppression of lotteries, etc .- which he said the states were unequal to and the nation undertook.

He began his reference to McCall by aying: "The other day at a banque in this city a voice from Massachusetts denounced 'the dangers of na tionality.' No such voice can ever speak for Indiana without misrepre senting Indiana. McCall warned u against the 'dangers of centralization. I got down my Calhoun and read the same thing from that great secessionist and able 'states' rights' doctrinaire."

system in Everett, Superintendent of Schools states in his annual report that it was established last year by the Friday club, and it is proving very popular and successful. Since October in 1905, $5,409.30 worth of stamps have been sold, and at a recent canvass it was shown that there were 4,000 pupils patronizing the system; 923 had accounts in the bank 750 therefrom and 667 had accounts in the bank previous to this system's establishment. This shows that 900 nearly two-thirds of the children patronize the system, and a large number of new bank accounts have been opened and many have added materially, in this way, to accounts already started. These facts alone justify the system, but not the least of its benefits is the habit of thrift and saving for a specific purpose.

Floor Plan For Post Office

Postmaster Hammond has received an outline plan of the first floor of the proposed new post office building for Quincy. The building will face on Washington street and will have a short flight of wide steps leading to the main entrance in the centre.

This entrance leads directly into the public lobby, which runs parallel with Washington street. On one side of the obby there will be 446 boxes and 30 drawers. Back of this and ont he north and south sides are the main work room mailing and money order rooms.

There is also to be a ladies retiring oom on the south side.

A more detailed description of the lay out of the building can not be given at the present time, as the scale of the drawing did not accompany the plan. Postmaster Hammond has sent to Washington for the scale and when that arrives a full description of the buildng will be given.

To Don Diego to Cheat.

"To Don Diego" was at one time a way of saying to cheat. Steele speaks of a man as looking as if he had been 'Don Diego'd to the Tune of a Thousand Pounds," and in 1607 Webster wrote that "a Dondego is a kind of Spanish stockfish or poor John." It was really a general term for a Spanfard, Diego being St. James, the national saint of Spain. But exactly how the expression got its peculiar uncomdimentary sense does not appear. In modern times, of course, a "Dago," in has worried me to think we weren't the mouths of sailors and others, means any one from a Mediterranean country.

Blacksmith Shop Fire

The alarm from Box 445 at 8.46 Thursowned by the Quincy Quarries Co. located at the Dell quarry.

Just what caused the fire is at present unknown, but when the department arrived it was burning briskly and the could be seen for miles. Some difficulty was experienced getting water onto dreds of windows fronting it. the fire as there is no hydrant very near the location of the building.

This unavoidable delay gave the fire a good start and the building was practically destroyed. In the building there was a large number of valuable tools used about the quarry. Some of these were ruined, while others can be made useful again.

The building, which was of wood, was valued at $500, and was a total loss. The value of the contents is estimated at between $600 and $700, and the loss will perhaps be $300. The recall sounded at 10 o'clock.

Near the burning building was a mall building in which was kept a fles from the jackstaff at the bow. quantity of powder and dynamite. sparks were constantly falling on this ouilding and there was some danger of an explosion. This would certainly have been the result had the building taken fire. Chief Litchfield realized this and stationed men about the building who kept it wet down with chemicals.

Had Box 442 been pulled instead of 445 some time would have been saved in the arrival of the department. Box 442 is located at the Hitchcock quarry near the fire, while Box 445, the one pulled, is located on Common street near the corner of Quarry street. This caused the department to go out of its way some to reach the scene of the fire.

Library Notes.

Those who are fortunate enough to enjoy a summer outing in the quaint head, and all others who would like ok is published by A. W. Elson & Co., and is made up of thirty-three photo-gravures with accompanying text, being one of a limited edition of 350 copies. Of course it is expensive and of course such being the case and from the style of the book, it is not one for general circulation. All interested are welcome to look at it in the library.

Anyone desiring a certain book which is out in circulation may have that book reserved for him one day by leaving his library card with a self addressed postal card.

Alger's, Castlemons' and Ellis's books for boys have nearly all become worn out in circulation, and if the boys will look in the Ledger of Saturday they will find a fine collection of new books listed. There are also as many books for girls.

PRECOCIOUS JOHN DAVY.

Childhood Incident of the Author of

"The Bay of Biscay." An interesting anecdote of the youth of John Davy, who composed the famous song "The Bay of Biscay," shows how decided and precocious was this musician's aptitude for the art he ultimately practiced with artistic if not financial success. John Davy was born near Exeter in 1765. At the age of six he evinced a passion for music, which he sought every means of gratifying. He was in want of a musical instrument and determined to provide himself with one of however rough a nature. So from a neighboring smithy he purloined twenty to thirty horseshoes. From these he selected as many as formed a complete octave and, having suspended them in an upper room, amused himself by imitating upon them the chimes of the neighboring church of Crediton.

By these and other means he obtained a knowledge of music which some thirty years later enabled him to produce many dramatic pieces and such songs as "Just Like Love," "The Death of the Smuggler" and "The Bay of Biscay," only the last of which has remained popular.

After twenty years' work in London Davy died in St. Martin's lane in 1824. He was buried in St. Martin's churchyard.-London Chronicle.

inks, but here is a method of making ink which can be wiped off a sheet of paper with a pocket handkerchief without leaving a trace: Dissolve some starch in water until it is as thick as cream. Then add to the starch a few drops of tincture of iodine, which will turn the starch to a dark red color. Now take a pen and write with this prepared ink upon a sheet of note paper. The ink will dry right away, after which you may erase the whole of your letter by simply wiping the sheet with a pocket handkerchief. It will disappear as easily as chalk will from an ordinary school blackboard when a rubber is used upon it.-London Tele-

Member of Bay State Legislature Is Indicted

CASE IS HURRIED ALONG

District Attorney Said to Fear Immunity of Man Who Is Alleged to Have Requested and Received Bribe

Boston, March S .- S. J. Lamoureux of North Adams, representative from the Second Berkshire district, was arrested on an indictment returned by the Suffolk county grand jury, charging him with corruptly requesting and accepting a gratuity. The indictment consists of four counts and alleges that Lamoureux received $180 from William H. McMasters of this city on a promise to obtain favorable action to influence two members of a legislative committee against a certain bill now pending in the legislature.

Lamoureux, who, at the opening of the session of the house yesterday afternoon, asked the members to suspend judgment, went directly to the court house and was arraigned before Judge Brown in the superior court, where he pleaded not guilty to the charge.

District Attorney Moran asked for a speedy trial, claiming that there was danger of a legislative investiga tion which would render immune from appearing in court a number of witnesses who it was desired to hear at the trial. Judge Brown refused the re quest, although District Attorney Moran stated that Lamoureux's counsel was also anxious for a quick disposi tion of the case.

Judge Brown said he saw no reason to disturb the regular trial list next week, but was willing to have the district attorney and Lamoureux's counse agree on a date. Lamoureux was then admitted to $2000 bail, furnished by friends, and was taken to police headquarters, where he went through the formality of being booked. The grand jury has been sitting on the case for two days, taking up the charges almost immediately after their ppearance Wednesday in a local paper Five witnesses were heard and yester day the district attorney had an inter view with five members of the commit tee on judiciary.

Lamoureux was born in North Adams 30 years ago and is a lawyer. This is his second term in the legisla ture, where he has twice been clerk of the committee on railroads.

The so-called immunity in connec tion with members of the legislature referred to by the district attorney de veloped last year, when members of the legislature were prevented from testifying in the superior court by reaexempts members from appearing before a lower court when they have already appeared on a similar case before a committee of the legislature. During a trial in the Suffolk count; court, last year, there was being held at the same time a special investiga tion by the committee on rules, which immuned all the members from testify ing in the court proceedings. The legislative investigation resulted in the expulsion of a member on the charge of attempting to bribe another member.

was issued by the department of justice concerning an opinion submitted to President Roosevelt by Attorney General Bonaparte as to whether certain failure and neglect of Fisher to obey immigrants who were landed in South Carolina last fall are legally in this

The opinion, in effect, is that the immigrants were entitled to admission to the engineer and fireman of the reguthe United States and that they are in | lar and the fireman of the special. this country legally. The attorney general holds further, however, that under the provisions of the recently enacted immigration act, the immigrants in question could have been excluded. The statement says:

"It appears that certain private parties made up a fund amounting to about $30,000, which was placed in the hands of Immigration Commissioner Watson. With these resources he went abroad corporations of the state and country and collected a number of persons who and that investors would be far safer if were willing to migrate to South Caro- they placed their money in real estate, lina, where labor, it is understood, was in great demand.

"Second, this did not operate, however, to include laborers in question because, according to the construction placed upon the act of 1885 by the courts, it was an essential condition to a violation of that law that the laborers should be under a previous en-

"Third, that although the passage of these laborers may have been paid in pursuance of an offer of solicitation of employment and in violation of the provision of the act of 1903, this would not render the aliens themselves liable to to this city and arraigned before Com exclusion, as this act did not contain missioner Hayes on a charge of the lar any provision excluding from admission | ceny of a letter. "Fourth, that If, however, the laborers in question had been otherwise excluded from admission, the fact that their passage was paid by the commissioner of the state of South Carolina would not have changed the result, since, in the first place, the commissioner apparently did not act in an official capacity for the state, but under permission of the state to act as the representative of citizens who contributed money to aid in bringing over the immigrants and, in the second place, if he prey to the flames. The Great Danderine Never Fails to Produce the Desired Results

MISS Lewis' hair was very thin and it was less than two feet in length when she began using Danderine. She says her hair and scalp are now fairly teeming with new life and vigor.

That's the main secret of this great remedy's success as a hair grower. It enhvens, invigorates and fairly electrifies the hair glands and tissues of the scalp, causing unusual and unheard-of activity on the part of these two most important organs, resulting in a strenuous and continuous growth of the hair.

The following is a reproduction of Miss Lewis' last letter:

Dear Doctor Knowlton:-You know I told you in my first letter that my hair would not reach much below my shoulders, and that all of it together only made one tiny braid.

I am sending you my photograph, which I had taken at Stevens Bros. It tells the whole story better than I can tell it. Everybody I know is using Danderine, so you see I am doing something to show my appreciation Sincerely yours, (Miss) EVA LEWIS.

> Danderine makes the scalp healthy and fertile and keeps it so. It is the greatest scalp fertilizer and therefore the greatest hair-producing remedy the world has ever known It is a natural food and a wholesome medicine for both the hair and scalp. Even a 25c bottle of it will put more genuine life in your hair than a gallon of any other hair tonic ever made. It shows results from the very start.

> > NOW at all druggists in three sizes.

25 cents, 50 cents and $1. per bottle To show how quickly Danderine acts we will send a large sample free by return mail to any one who sends this advertisement to the Knowlton Danderine Co., Chicago, with their name and address and 10 cents is silver or stamps to pay postage.

Perkins Returns New York Lite

Campaign Contribution New York, March 8 .- George W Perkins, former first vice president of the New York Life Insurance company and now a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., has sent to the New York Life his personal check for $54,019.19 to reimburse the company for the Republican campaign contribution made from its funds in 1904, in connection with which Perkins was recently made defendant on a charge of larceny. Announcement of the restitution of the principal of $48,500 and interest to date was made by President Orr of the New York Life, who also gave out a letter from Perkins which explains itself. It is as follows:

"In 1904, at the request of the then president of the company, I advanced $48,500 as a payment on behalf of the New York Life Insurance company to the Republican national campaign committee. I did this with the understanding with the president that I should be reimbursed by the company. Subsequently I was so reimbursed. The payment was made without any thought on the part of the president or myself of personal advantage, but solely in the belief that it was for the best and broadest interests of the policyholders, both at home and abroad.

"In dismissing the criminal proceedings instituted against me for accepting reimbursement, the courts have intimated that the payment and, therefore, the reimbursement, was not for a proper corporate purpose. I therefore return to the company the amount of money paid by it to me, inclosing herewith my check for $54,019.19 to cover principal and interest."

CHAPTER XVIII.

HERE was a mystery about the captain's visits to the big house. Up to the beginning of that week he had called on Tuesday and Friday evenings only and had remained until after 10 o'clock, joking, laughing and apparently enjoying himself, But now he came every night and seemed less talkative and more glum each time; also his calls grew shorter, and he went home as early as half past 8. The sisters did not know what to make of it. It was pleasant and encouraging to have him come so often, but why didn't he stay longer? Miss Tempy thought he must be worrying over the big contract.

She asked Clara for her opinion, but Miss Hopkins seemed very indifferent. She used to come into the sitting room as soon as the work was done to listen to Captain Titcomb's stories, but of late she had gone straight to her own that he didn't know's 'twouldn't be room. The old maids did not urge her easier to haul the carryall himself.

On the afternoon of the previous Sunday Miss Tempy had taken a sudden notion to go over to the Methodist chapel and attend the Sabbath school concert. The chapel was on the road

"Dear me!" thought Miss Tempy. "He must be gittin' absentminded.

It is doubtful if the captain would have heard even then, but Jonadab Wixon was coming down the road, thus, fore and aft, the absentminded one was obliged to heave to, and when Captain Jonadab pointed out Miss Tempy he turned his horse and drove back to where she was standing.

"Well, I do declare!" exclaimed the lady, smilingly conscious of a becom-"I'm all out of breath callin' after you. I don't know what folks will think!"

The captain didn't appear to care very much what folks might think. He was polite as usual, but seemed to be a trifle nervous and kept glancing up and down the road. Miss Tempy, unconscious of the nervousness, went gushingly on.

"What a lovely horse!" she cried. "I declare, it must be a pleasure to ride behind him. I do so like to ride with a nice, gentle horse like that. Father tiny schooner, the Lizzie. almost unnecessary vigor. The turn was made in a hurry. They wheeled back into the direct road to the Port and moved swiftly along it. Captain Titeomb did not say much, but as Miss Tempy talked continuously he had little opportunity. "Now nice the horse does go!" com-

The young lady, who had been intently watching the approaching buggy, stepped to the edge of the sidewalk and waited until the equipage drew up. She was dressed in her new gown and jacket and certainly looked very pretty. She nodded to the captain, whose face was redder than usual.

"How d'ye do, Clara?" said Miss Tempy, trying hard not to be patroniz-"I s'pose you're takin' a walk. You look reel nice. Where are you

Miss Hopkins replied that she didn't know just where she should go. "Well, I hope you'll have a pleasant afternoon wherever you go," gushed that he must be going and went. Bradley retired soon after, and the sisters followed his example. The old house grew still. Miss Prissy was dropping into a comfortable doze when she felt herself clutched violently by the back hair.

Paris, March 9 .- A sudden, virtually Cananimous and unexpected strike on the part of practically all the electricians of Paris at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon resulted in the almost complete para-Tyzation of the business of the city by the time night had fallen. A number of theatres had to forego their per-Cormances, several of the evening news-Dapers were unable to get out their editions, and the great department stores were burriedly emptied. The strikers demand the fulfillment of the promises to improve their condition, which they claim were made to them last July. Many of the great department stores of Paris rely entirely upon electricity for lighting and heating. These buildings are not piped for gas, and when the electric lights went out no oil lamps were on hand. It was impossible to get out the later editions of the afternoon newspapers and the offices of the morning papers were scenes of confusion. The typesetting machines and printing presses are at a standstill. Only The Parisian appeared in its full size this morning, this because it possesses its own electric installation. The reason for the strike by the electricians are as follows:

The company that supplies electricity was recently accorded concesstons by the municipal council, and it now refuses to carry out certain resolu tions passed by that body under which the electrical workers are granted an eight-hour day and old-age pensions. These stipulations are not written in the Contract with the city, but it was un-Cerstood that they would be granted.

The men are exasperated by what they characterize as bad faith on the mart of the company and now claim recognition as employes of a municipa department, with the privileges at-Eached to employment by the municipality, which include vacations, pay while | conductors and motormen of the Springthey are sick and the granting of pen- field Street railway, the Springfield and sions at a specified age.

The strikers held a meeting last evening and after a number of violent speeches had been delivered they voted probable that the increase will average to continue the strike until all their claims were granted. It was anmounced that the electricians of Lyons, Marseilles and other large cities in France were prepared to join the Paris provement and demand similar concessions. The strikers showed themserves as strongly in favor of the taking over the the electric lighting plants formed by milk dealers of the state by the various municipalities. A delegation of prominent citizens called on Premier Clemenceau at a late hour last night and discussed the sit-Mation with him. The premier promised to bring in a regiment of engineers quartered at Versailles to replace the strikers, but he later decided not to take this step and expressed his deterimmation to use every effort to overcome the strike by conciliatory means. The strikers have staunchly resolved to maintain a firm attitude and fight to the end.

The strikers number 1300 highly skilled workmen and it will be almost impossible to replace them. As a rule the men ceased work quietly, but in some instances they extinguished the this being the amount of the bond which fires of the central stations, which it the company gave on William F. ### Japan and America Will Fight Some Day.

By United States Senator GEORGE C. PERKINS of California

HE science of war supervenes only upon a foundation of ALL OTHER SCIENCES. No nation in all history has ever manifested a greater capacity for perfect unity of purpose than the Japanese. No nation has manifested a greater aptitude to seize upon AND APPROPRIATE the novel and unique defense that he all that the ages have disclosed to the other nations in art, in science and in government.

> The Japanese race, wherever distributed, however numerically strong in any foreign country, will remain a CONSOLIDATED UNIT in support of the aspirations of the Japanese race, and however distant their residence from the throne of the mikado will still constitute an element of strength in the unity of the empire.

> NATURALIZATION IN ANY COUNTRY IN WHICH THEY MI-GRATE WILL NOT ELIMINATE THIS RACIAL INSTINCT.

Conflicts between nations are the result of antagonisms which lie at the very foundation of their purposes, their aspirations, their growth AND EXPANSION. The presence of Russia as a prime factor in the commerce of the Pacific coast was inimical to the aspiraone to raise the dog license fees, another tions of the Japanese empire in the same line. The occupation of Manchuria and the fortification of Port Arthur were the IMMEDI-ATE EXCUSES, but not the real causes of the war. The real cause of the war was the inherent antagonism of interest and purpose which could find NO OTHER SOLUTION than the arbitrament of the

We have acquired territory in the Pacific ocean. We have laid the foundation for commercial primacy on that great sea. We have a position at the very doors of the orient by the possession of the Philippines and a base of naval operations in the middle of the ocean by the incorporation of the Sandwich Islands. We have a shore line under Farnum, aged 20, while attending a the jurisdiction of the American flag which, following its indentations on the Pacific ocean borders of the Pacific states and the territory of Alaska, comprises 25,000 miles. The countries under the jurisdiction of our flag lying behind this line possess resources equal to the ULTI-MATE SUPPORT OF EMPIRES of wealth and population. We have laid the foundation for commercial supremacy on the Pacific coast, and at some point in the future course of national destiny the pathway of national progress on the part of Japan and the United States will converge to a point of INEVITABLE CONFLICT.

It is useless to speculate as to what the occasion or excuse for this conflict may be. The small cloud of war which is now hanging on the horizon of the two nations appears to relate to the dissatisfaction of Japan with the domestic policy of the state of California relating to its educational interests. The administration of the educational affairs of California has not been fortunate in meeting with the approval of the empire of Japan, but this educational policy is not the reason for disturbing the amicable relations between the two nations.

THE FUNDAMENTAL CAUSE LIES AT THE VERY FOUNDATION OF THE NATIONAL CHARACTER OF THE NATIONS TO THE CON-TROVERSY.

PRIZE CONTEST

FOR MATTER FOR OUR "SCRAP BOOK" PAGE

The American Press Association offers the following cash prizes for anecdotes-odd, humorous, pathetic or heroic; not exceeding 300 words, and preferably of not more than 200 words for use in our "SCRAP BOOK" page:

For the best anecdote, One Hundred Dollars For the second best, Fifty Dollars For the third best, Twenty-five Dollars For the fourth best, Ten Dollars

The anecdotes may be original or from reprint; If reprints, the source or author should be given if possible. More than one prize will be given to one contestant if his offerings merit such reward.

In the awards, no preference will be given to original over reprint, to new over old, to long over short anecdotes. Pathetic and heroic stories are as likely to take prizes as humorous anecdotes. The interest in the story will be the only test of merit

The contestant who sends the greatest number of good anecdotes, not neglecting stories of, or current in, his own locality, will perhaps stand the best chance in the awards. Poor and pointless anecdotes should not be sent to us; they are only a vexation.

The American Press Association reserves the right to use anecdotes for which no prize is given-reprint anecdotes without compensation; original anecdotes to be paid for by us at the rate of One Dollar each.

Rejected anecdotes will be returned only to those who enclose stamped and addressed envelopes for the purpose.

The contest will close on Thursday, March 28, 1907. No anecdotes received after that date will be considered. The awards will be printed in the American Press of April 6, 1907. The cash will be sent to the successful contestants as soon as the awards are determined.

You may think you had a conscience and believed in God, but what is a conscience to a wife? Wise men of yore erected statues of their deities and consciously performed their part in life before those marble eyes. A god watched them at the board and stood by their bedside in the morning when they woke, and all about their ancient cities, where they bought and sold or where they piped and wrestled, there would stand some symbol of the things that are outside of man. These were lessons, delivered in the quiet dialect or art, which told their story faithfully, but gently. Morris Manor was a boarding school for boys, with a few day pupils drawn from the rich owners of country homes thereabouts. Just across the tree lined avenue was a fashionable school for girls. Evidently from this school had come the small sister of his rebellious pupil. He leaned over the window ledge to see whether they were safely on their homeward way, and suddenly his fingers gripped the rough stone

The twins were dancing up the street, one on either side of a tall, slender girl, clad in a natty skating suit, with a scarlet tam-o'-shanter on her well

He might have known that Willie

was her brother. Her odd, demure way of saying startling things had first attracted his attention to her and finally nearly wrecked his last year in college. How could he work, then, with the thought that love and the girl who was all in the world to him were alike beyond his reach? There was his future to carve, his mother to support, a few of his father's debts to pay, and on the other side Natalie Pelham, the Pelham wealth, the Pelham position. Edit-1

The changes in Presidents Roosewelt's official family have been completed, with the result that there are two new faces in the cabinet. Postmaster General George von L. Meyer, Former Ambassador to Russia, and Secretary of the Interior James R. Garfield, who was Commissioner of Corporations, are the "babies" of the official circle, supplanting Secretary Straus as such. Secretary Garfield is one of the youngest men who ever cattained cabinet honors. He is not about the same age when he became Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor four years ago.

Drift of Opinion.

Nothing else at the same cost adds so much to the attractiveness of a community, nothing else gives such an sir of prosperity and thrift, comfort and content, as the good repair and neat apmearance of buildings and fences and scenerally kept up premises. A few dolhars spent by way of paint, and a little time spent now and then in fixing up, toning up and keeping things in order, leas a most wonderful effect and a store of satisfaction. Great and imposing edifices are not necessary to beauty and Dettractiveness. We know of some humtole cottages, yet they are so enveloped in neatness and tidiness of all things mound about, that they give a most decifded wish to own just such a place, as they give out the best impressions of comfort and happiness on the part of The occupants. - Gloucester Times.

The year 1906 was certainly a banner year for births. It breaks the in a number of years. Mr. Perry and record for but 805 were born the previous year. Of the births in 1906 the female gender predominated for there were 460 girls and 433 boys. There were also six twin babies.

The following table gives the number of males and females each month of the year with the total for the month as compared with the total

March was the banner month with 88, while July was a good second with 85. Every month had over 60 the smallest month being 62. The total for the year averaged over two each day. Just think of it. Who would have thought it. The year 1907 will also be a good year from all the whispering about storks being about. Unfortunately all that were born did not live for some passed away in early infancy.

He is king of our hearts, and a ruler by right No wonder all love him, so winsome and wee And never was monarch more petted than he - Cassell's Little Folks.

A part of the great growth of Quincy comes from the big increase of births over deaths. The totals by years are surprising. In 1870 there were but 209 births in Quincy; last year there were 893, over four times as many. As recently as 1885 there were only 393 births, and in 1895 but 645. There were over twice as many births as deaths in 1906-446 deaths and 893 births. Is it any wonder the city grows and that there is need of more schoolhouses? The figures of births by

For the Annual Banquet Of Quincy Board of Trade

The Quincy Board of Trade has been exceptionally fortunate in securing prominent gentlemen for its including Speaker Cole of the House, Congressman-elect O,Connell and Representative Luce.

Speaker Cole is serving his second House. He entered the legislature in 1903, the year 1907 being his fifth year. His nominations were usually unanimous and in the three years there was no regular nominated candidate in opposition at the

Mr. Cole is about 43 years of age and has been a life-long resident of Andover. For many years he has published the Lawrence Daily Telegram and the Andover Weekly Townsman and is popular with newspaper men, He has been for five years chairman of the town finance committee, eight years on the school committee, also on the park commission.

He is a Mason, Odd ber of Royal Arcanum, A. O. U. W., Grange Home Club of Lawrence Andover Club, Essex Club, Annisquam Yacht club and other organ-During his candidacy for Speaker

rugged physically and mentally. He is, therefore, naturally a positive man. He has convictions, deep ones, on the great questions which most affect the people. The interests of corporations must go hand in hand, with the interests of the people, he believes. This has been his policy and his platform. His influence in the lower branch has been marked. His conduct of the hearings on gas matters was masterly, and his entire fairness won high praise for him.

"While not narrowly partisan, he is nevertheless a strong party man, and above all a thorough believer in and worker for republican organization. Mr. Cole, is an aggressive, incisive debater on the floor. On several occasions he has been called to the chair in the absence of the speaker and has acquitted himself well."

Representative Luce has been one of the leaders of the Legislature for several years, and came into prominence in securing the passage of the Luce caucus act and the present election laws of Massachusetts which have been copied by the other states. Hon. Joseph F. O'Connell will take his seat in Congress when it next assembles as our representative, succeeding Hon. W. S. McNary. His aggressive fight for the nomination last fall won for him many friends, who expect he will make a good record at the National capitol.

Mr. Chamberlin of Brockton and others are also expected to speak. The banquet will be held at Quincy Music hall and the tickets at $1 are in demand.

The horrified sisters turned to stare at the black tunnel of the hall, and then footfalls were heard on the walk, coming up the steps. Clara's voice became audible. She was speaking in agonized whispers.

"Who"- began Bradley. Clara appeared, clinging to the arm of Captain Eri Hedge. Captain Eri looked puzzled, but he grinned when he saw the tableau in the dining room. He told the story the next morning to his messmates, Captain Perez and

Captain Jerry, about as follows: "You see, I'd been up to lodge meetin' and stayed a little longer'n usual. I was comin' home by the short cut, and jest as I got abreast the old maids' house the front door bust open, and somethin' comes prancin' down the walk flutterin' and flappin' its arms like a hen tryin' to fly. Thinks I, 'Has that speritu'list camp meetin' I went to last summer struck in?'

"But the critter swooped out of the gate and bore down on me like a hawk on a June bug. Then I see 'twas Clara Hopkins, scart pretty nigh to death. "'Oh, Cap'n Eri!' says she. 'Oh, even then, but I knew if Brad Nickerson took any stock in it somethin' was up. And the poor girl was tremblin' like Peleg Myrick's pup. "'All right, Clara,' says I. 'Let's go in and shake hands with 'em.'

"So in we went. When we struck the dinin' room there was Brad in the middle of the floor lookin' pretty toler'ble foolish, with Prissy moored to his coattails and Tempy with a clove hitch round his waist. All hands looked s'prised to see me, but no more 'n I was to see them. 'What is this?' says I. 'Living statues?'

"Brad, he kind of grinned. 'Well,' says he, 'the ladies thought they heard some one in the kitchen, but I guess'-"'Thought we heard 'em!' busts out 'Why, you heard 'em your-

"And now Brad, he held up his hands, poker and all. 'All right, all right!' says he. 'Now that we're reenforced maybe we'd better go out and interview 'em. They might die of old age if we stay here much longer.'

"So he winked to me and the fleet got under way. Me and Brad led off, like a couple of tugs, and the women folks strung out behind, like coal barges, holdin' on to each other's wrappers and breathin' hard.

"We opened the kitchen door and sailed in-that is, Brad and I did. The coal barges got in a lump, so's to speak, in the doorway and stayed there. There was a lamp burnin' side of a pan of dough on the table, but, jest as I expected, we was the only humans in

"Brad looked puzzled, sort of. 'I sartinly heard something movin' out here,' he says. 'Most likely 'twas a stray cat, and it's hidin' around somewheres.'

"But jest then comes a whistle-a squeal, I mean-from the barges. Tempy's headlights were poppin' out of her head, and she was p'intin' a shaky finger at the floor. There was big muddy footprints all over it.

The Abuses of Divorce Should Be Squarely Met.

By Rev. M. O. SIMONS of Cleveland, O.

HE foundation of society is the home, but TO BE A GOOD FOUNDATION it must be a GOOD home. A bad home, made bad by intolerable conditions which have become fixed and which have utterly destroyed the TRUE MARRIAGE, is no foundation for society. Its continuance may be a greater social evil than a divorce could ever be.

Women are coming to their own in America, and that is WHY divorces are more numerous among us. It is very significant that twothirds of the divorces are granted to WOMEN. It has become possible at last for woman to throw off intolerable burdens which have crushed her in all the ages. And one thing that puts under suspicion much of the discussion about divorce is that it represents the traditional point of view of the MAN. The traditional and the ecclesiastical points of view are the man's point of view and do not represent the HIGHER APPRECIATION OF WOMAN or of her position in the marriage relationship.

Divorce is regarded as a disease, when, as a matter of fact, it is only a SYMPTOM of a disease, which disease is wrong ideas of married life, of home life. Treated as a symptom and safeguarded, the institution of the home may be benefited and not hurt by it. To assume that it cannot be SAFEGUARDED is unwarranted. In some cases it is a wrong and a soundal an abuse of divorce would injure society. But to expect divorce to show no abuses would be as unreasonable as to expect democracy to show no abuses. To prohibit divorce BECAUSE OF ABUSES would be as unreasonable as to revert to monarchy because of the abuses of democracy.

PEOPLE SHOULD MAKE SOME VENTURE OF FAITH IN DEAL-ING WITH DIVORCE AS THEY DO IN DEALING WITH DEMOCRACY AND BELIEVE THAT ABUSES CAN BE SO MET AND MASTERED THAT THE DANGER IN EXTREME LICENSE IN DIVORCE CAN BE

The Scrap Book

Elsewhere in this issue we present the first installment of a new feature, the "Scrap Book," which we commend to the attention of our readers. To neglect to read it would be as if one were to fail to pick up a dollar bill which was honestly one's own for the taking. He who reads will get at least five or six laughs which will stir his liver, kill the microbes in his system, and strengthen his whole organism against disease, dejection, cowardice and all other insidious enemies of our kind. He will also be inspired by a noble little poem, by pathetic and heroic passages, and by the wisdom of the wisest. He who reads will be a better and happier soul for the reading.

Good as a dollar? By Jupiter, we wrong ourselves by the comparison! It is good as health, good as wisdom, good as laughter, good as sympathy and heroic example-good as the most precious things known to us poor mortals struggling through the mystery, toil and trouble of life!

IMMIGRATION LAW

An Urgent Need of Its Definite Interpretation

Division of Opinion as to Whether States Have Right to Induce Immigration Through Agents--Hawaii Is Disturbed

Washington, March 9 .- A conference merce and labor on the opinion submitted to the president by Attorney General Bonaparte on the South Caro lina immigration case. It appears clear in the view of the officials of the depart ment of commerce and labor, that the attorney general's opinion sustains the opinion of the department that the im migrants landed at Charleston last No vember are legally in this country.

It is not so clear, however, that un der the laws, other immigrants, whose passage to this country is paid by either states or individuals acting for states may be landed in America before July 1 next, when the provision of the new immigration law goes into effect.

Those who participated in the con ference were Secretary Straus, Solici tor Earle and Messrs. Barker and Larned of the department of commerce eral Cooley of the department of jus full text of Attorney General Bonaparte's opinion was available. The de- by a rat. partment of commerce and labor desires to obtain a definite interpretation of the law, because several southern states have delegated to agents the work of securing immigrants who will locate within their borders. It appears problematic whether, under the present law the states have the right to induce im migration except by advertising.

of next July, they will not have the right, but among the lawyers who have examined Bonaparte's opinion there is a division of opinion as to whether im migrants can be brought to this coun try now by the assistance of states.

Consternation In Hawaii

Honolulu, March 9 .- The opinion of Attorney General Bonaparte to the effect that assisted immigration is now illegal has caused the greatest consternation here. It is feared that it will cause the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars involved in the charters of the steamers Heliopolis and Kumeric. besides defeating the effort to introduce European immigration into Hawaii. A special meeting of the territorial board of immigration will be called to consider the subject and will cable its views to President Roosevelt.

One Man Routed Band of Robbers Bakhmut, Russia, March 9 .- An unsuccessful attempt was made to rob the at Pavlovka, where $12,500 was on deposit. Twenty armed men demanded of the clerk in charge that he turn over the money. Under cover of his desk, the clerk, who was alone opened fire on the would-be robbers killing two of them and wounding four. The remainder fled empty-handed, abandoning their four bleeding comrades to the hands of the police.

Smoot Receives Warm Welcome Provo, Utah. March 9 .- When Senator Smoot and party arrived here from Washington many citizens, a large del egation of students and a brass band were on hand to welcome the senator He was taken to the Brigham Young university, where an informal reception was held. Smoot said that the action of the senate, deciding him entitled to

Discarded Lover Shoots Himself Cleveland, March 9.—Repulsed by the woman with whom he was madly in love, Henry De Burt, a prominent con tractor, fired a bullet into his head while standing in the doorway of the woman's home. Good Business Conditions New York, March 9 .- R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says that traffic conditions have improved somewhat, increasing the distribution of merchandise. Retail trade is good for the season and late buying of winter goods, necessitated by severe weather in many sections, has depleted stocks in a most satisfactory manner.

New Record For Billiards

New York, March 9 .- J. F. Poggenburg, former national amateur champion billiardist, established a new national record of 216-14 in a match in the national amateur tournament here. Poggenburg won from his opponent T. M. S. Rolls, by a score of 300 to 96, closing the match in the 14th inning with an unfinished run of 101.

To Start Old Age Pension Scheme London, March 9 .- The Tribune confirms recent rumors that the forthcom ing budget will provide a certain sum of money for some kind of old age pension scheme, the government having decided to make a start in this direction this year. ### Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato can dollar-not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow.

HONEST, NOW-AIN'T I RIGHT?

THE SPHINX.

Nothing by Which We Can Accurately Tell Its Age.

The great sphinx of Gizeh bears no inscription by which we can tell its date. In 1816 Caviglia, who in modern times was the first to clear away the sand, found between its paws a stela of the reign of Thothmes IV., and therefore it was believed that the sphinx was carved by that monarch. But in 1858 the excavations of Mariette uncovered a stela bearing the name of Cheops, on which is a reference to the sphinx. The inscription is evidently of a late period, but is supposed to be an exact copy of an ancient carving, and the translation seemed to place the sphinx earlier than the pyramids and consequently to prove it the most ancient piece of work in the world. Still there remained four lines be read, but M. Daressy deciphered them, and it appears that the inscription is in two parts. In the earlier lines there is no mention of the sphinx, but the lines which date from the Persian occupation mention the repair of the sphinx. There is, therefore, nothing by which we can tell the date of the monument, and the only evidence we have is the headdress of the Colossus. Its hood is ornamented behind with three bands, a large one between two smaller bands. Now, this is a-34 fashion which only existed toward the 35 end of the twelfth dynasty in the 39 reigns of Usurtesen III. and Amenemhet III. As this family showed much zeal for the god Harmaklin, whose portrait the sphinx is, it is probable that the monument is the work of Amenemhet III.-London Globe.

As might be expected, a walrus is about as helpless on land as a canalboat. It is with no little difficulty and drags his huge bulk upon a sandy shore even with the boosting he gets from behind by the breakers as they roll in and dash against him. His hind flippers are of little use on land, and on William Lochbead and family have sand or pebbles, where his front flippers do not hold well, the labor of floundering forward is so great that he never stirs beyond the edge of the water and usually lies with his body half awash, with the salt spray dashing over him like torrents of rain. ### Lecture on Christian Science

The address by Rev. W. S. Perkins, D. D., pastor of the Universalist fines in the district court this morning church on Sunday was the first of a series of three lectures on "Christian Science." The subject was the philosophy of this form of religion or creed. The text used was Luke 17:23 -"And they shall say to you, see here; or, see there: go not after them, nor follow them."

In opening his address he made the statement that he had no prejudice night. against Christian Science or Christian Science people; that the promises of the Christian Science church of protection and prosperity, health and happiness, represented ideal life; that these things really were the things that we all are striving to attain.

The principle objection to the Christian Science church is in the church is not what is known as a democratic one, but is governed by what might be termed the aristocracy of this church—at whose head i "Mother Eddy."

One of the things that attracts notable mention is the old saying, that "Nothing succeeds like success," and from this standpoint this church has certainly a right to be recognized success as the Christian Science church has succeeded, must have some ground for its existence.

One of the requirements of its mempers is that they should not subject its creeds or standards to reason That they should accept these teach ings as revelations or facts, and by studying them perfect themselves for the mastery of mind over matter. Philosophy may be roughly divided

The School Committee Comment on The Delay

The School Committee of 1906 are outspoken and unequivocal in their comment on the city's delay in supplying the necessary school accommodations. We quote from their annual report:

The schools of the city are in good condition, are in charge of good eachers and commendable progress s being made in all departments.

The work of the High school is not what it would be, if it were housed Paterson quarry which he recently in one building where the full spirit of the school would be developed. Notwithstanding the objectionable conditions that prevail, it is fair to say that good progress is being made. It is believed that at the beginning of the winter term a part of the new building will be in such shape that An important meeting of Quincy it may be occupied, and that at no distant day the entire building will be finished. In the opinion of your committee, the city will then have a thoroughly equipped building in which all citizens may take just pride. How long this will be large enough to meet the needs of the school it is ing so rapidly that any prediction in this direction is unwise. When the time does come for another high school building it will have to be built in a new location. In the Lincoln and Coddington districts there is a pressing demand for greater school accommodations. At the Lincoln, enlarged quarters are needed; at the Coddington, the demand is for a modern school building of at least fourteen rooms. The condition as when originally built more than fifty years ago, except that it has been enlarged by the addition of a story. Land has been purchased which materially increases the school lot. The schoolhouse at Atlantic already contracted for, will be ready for occupancy in 1907 and will relieve the long standing overcrowding in that district. There seems to be on the part of hose who are responsible for the present situation, an unwillingness to recognize the necessity for greatly increased school accommodations, yet birthplace of President John Adams on this growth of our school population deed, can be very accurately forecast. There are over six hundred new pupils entering the schools each year. There are less than five hundred going out, there are from one hunto be provided for annually; hence, it is clear that an eight room building is required every two or three years to meet the demand. The increase in accommodatoins has not kept pace with the increase in pupils.

MYSTERIOUS WILL

Dowie Believed to Have Cut Off Wife and Son

DIED AS HE HAD LIVED

Shiloh House Seized by Receiver Almost as Soon as Breath Lett "Prophet's" Body--Something About the Lite of the "Healer"

Chicago, March 11 .- John Alexander Dowie, "Elijah II.," as he called himself, the founder of the Christian Catholic church, who died in Shiloh house in Zion City Saturday, has left a mysterious will, in which, it is believed, the prophet cuts off his wife and A. Gladstone Dowie, "the unkissed" son, with a pittance. The wife and son may contest this will. They were far away

Dowie died as he had lived, denounce ing his enemies and in the next breath praying. He had made a creed and its communicants had excommunicated him. He had built a city and its inhabitants had exiled him. He drew thousands about him, who all but worshipped him, but he died deserted by

Zion City was thrown into a panic for a time. A run on the already defunct bank was threatened. The receiver seized Shiloh house before Dowie had been dead many minutes. Hundreds of people flocked into the streets and talked, some sadly, of their dead master. Receiver Hately, placed in charge of Zion by Judge Landis when Dowie was | sion. It is the fondest wish in every finally deposed, declared that it had not yet been decided whether Zion industries would shut down when Dowie is

Even to the last breath, the aged "prophet" showed his indominable will. His last words plainly indicated this feeling. He said: "I have fought a good fight, I--" The aged wife sat that alliance will never take place alone in her home in Michigan. She did not expect him to die, although he had St. Mary's C. T. A. and M. R. society been ill for months with Bright's disare planning a sacred concert for Sun- ease. When the telegram reached her she was prostrated. Her son, also, was affected. They sobbed continually.

At the bedside of the dying leader were Judge Barnes, formerly a strong adherent of Dowie, but for some time a councillor with Voliva; Frank Hatchfield, the negro bodyguard; Samuel Thad, Freeman Haenel and Miss Nilend came quietly and peacefully. John Alexander Dowie was born in

How Nesbit Family View Action of Mrs. Holman

A BITTER ARRAIGNMENT

Mother of Evelyn Thaw Charged With Sacrificing Her Child's Soul For Money by Which to Live Without Effort

Pittsburg, March 11.-In defense of Mrs. Evelyn N. Thaw, her aged grandmother, Mrs. Eliza J. Nesbit, mother of Mrs. Holman's first husband, and her two aunts, Mrs. Carrie Mortimer and Mrs. Laura C. Calbraith, sisters of her dead father, met at the home of the grandmother at Miles City, Mont., and issued this signed statement which reached here yesterday:

"The attitude of Mrs. Charles J. Holman, mother of Mrs. Harry K. Thaw, has taken towards her daughter, Evelyn, is to our minds almost inhuman. From facts that have been proven, we know that Mrs. Holman accepted money in large sums from Stanford White. She should have known better. She must know she was sacrificing her child's soul for money by which to live without effort.

"Mothers, how many daughters could e placed in the same circumstances with such an example of a man as Stanord White to teach them morality at the age of 15 years, pass through such crisis and come through all right? "And now, considering that she did all this, even innocently giving her the benefit of a thousand doubts, is she not n inhuman wretch to turn against her aughter in the hour of her need? "Even a dumb brute would protect its oung, but this woman turns against er daughter, and after being the indiect cause of her downfall will not adnit her errors, but is making strenuous forts to save her tarnished reputation sending information to Prosecuting ttorney Jerome so that he can tortur he girl under cross-examination.

"Torture such as no woman has ever ndergone, and which she is voluntarily earing bravely and nobly, showing that underneath the fair and fragile beauty there lies a strata of pure gold which she must have inherited from er father: never from her mother.

"Her father's family was known in Pittsburg and Allegheny county as a amily whose men were brave and nonorable and whose women were virtu ous. As for Mrs. Charles J. Holman the people of Pittsburg and Allegheny City should rise in their indignation and burn her in effigy."

Neighbors Were on Bad Terms Cortland, N. Y., March 11.-Arthur Potter, a farmer, is under arrest, and eon Stafford his nearest neighbor who was struck on the head with the quare end of an axe blade, is believed to be dying. Owing to yesterday's nowstorm the roadways skirting the adjoining farms of the two men were quite impassable in places. Stafford turned from the highway and was driv ing his team across Potter's land. The atter closed a gate in front of Stafford's team and warned him not to open t. Stafford, it is alleged, tried to force the gate and was struck down.

No Case Against Manager Davis Danville, Ills., March 11 .- Judge Kimbrough decided that the Chicago rdinance on which was based the trial of Will J. Davis, charged with manslaughter on account of the burning of the Iroquois theatre at Chicago, o which Davis was manager at the time is invalid insofar as the prosecution of the case is concerned, and directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty which was done. This terminates criminal action against Davis on ac count of the Iroquois fire.

Charged With Jewelry Theft New York, March 11.—Bert Curtis. aged 27, was arrested here, charged with having stolen jewelry valued at $6000 during a call at Miss Lockwood's private boarding school for girls at Scarsdale. It is alleged that Curtis visited the school and secured permission to see one of the students. Two hours later the theft from a dormitory was reported.

"Stock Specialist" Under Arrest Scranton, Pa., March 11 .- J. T. Haviland of New York, who says he is a stock specialist, was arrested here on a charge of embezzlement. He is accused of embezzling $23,000 entrusted to him by Scranton people for investment. He waived a hearing and was paroled under the care of two constables for a hearing. Women Bull Fighters Hurt appearance in the ring was the attrac tion at the Jarez Plaza del Toros yes terday afternoon, were injured by being gored or tossed by the bulls. Only one however, was seriously hurt. Five thousand persons witnessed the excit-

Battle of Experts on Subject of Insanity May Prolong Trial Until April--Delmas and Jerome Will Match Knowledge

New York, March 11.-Delphin M. Delmas, senior counsel for Harry K. Thaw, communicated with his client yesterday through his confidential stenographer, who was admitted to the Tombs. The young woman said that she had come from Delmas, who was spending the day at Atlantic City, and after being identified by Warden Flynn was escorted to the second tier, where she talked for some time with Thaw outside the gate.

District Attorney Jerome remained at his home and was in conference with alienists. Dr. Flint was present, and it is understood that a hypothetical question was formed. School Needs

The schools are crowded far beyond their proper limits and the classes are much too large for one teacher. It does seem to your committee that wise forethought should have prevented this condition. Civic pride, to say nothing of sanitary law. should lead us to avoid further just criticism of the overcrowding of our

It is impossible to supply the schools and to teach six thousand children for a smaller sum than is annually requested by the School Committee. The cheese-paring economy which has prevailed for the last few years has this week on account of the illness of injured our schools in certain important details. The city, as all know, is required to support public schools, and this is a wise requirement. In the opinion of your committee, the first duty devolving upon the city government is to provide for the schools in a wise and conservative, I'd begun to think you had-was how yet ample manner, giving to the people the best possible return for the money expended and one that will be of lasting value to the community.

It will be remembered that the charter of our city creates a governing power of three heads, namely, the thing I can do is to move back home school department, each supreme in its particular work.

Among the duties prescribed by the charter is one which requires that no school building shall be erected church are going to have a spring sale until the plans for the same have Prissy and Tempy. Of 343 deaths which occurred in the city of Quincy among stone cuters during a period of about sixteen years, no fewer than 142 (41.4 per eent.) were due to pulmonary tuberculosis, 41 (12 per cent.) to other diseases of the lungs, 44 (12.8 per cent.) o diseases of the heart, 24 (7 per cent.) to all other causes. Excluding accidents, the percentage due to tuberculosis was 44.5.

These statistics show even more strikingly than those quoted in the report submitted two years ago the dangerous character of this occupation. Therein it appears that, of 'a total of 30,000 deaths among stone cutters, tuberculosis was the cause in 28.57 per cent.

It must be said, however, that the verage age at death of the victims of the disease in this industry, so far at least as the Quincy records show, is somewhat high (47.8 years.) but it is to be borne in mind that the calling is one which is not open to the naturally weak, and that many of those who become incapacitated There is just issued the report of through infection drift into other lines the state board of health upon the of industry in which physical strength sanitary conditions of factories and is not so essential, and hence a death workshops in the state. They say we at Quincy, has sailed from Hampton for have no votes, and generally we have not. But suppose we had. How much do we know, we who are in this room, of the institutions, as people like to call them, of the State, of the county or of the town? How many women in this room have ever been in the amshouse? How many women here have ever been in the of this State? How many of us have ever been in the asylum or the hospitals of this State?"

"It is not enough to say that such 'institutions' are regularly visited by the official visitors Still it is not outside the province of a women's club to see who the official visitors are, and then determine whether they are the best people for such visitation. In nine cases out of ten, when you are arranging for such visitation, there ought to be at least one woman on the board of visitors. Thus in the formalexamination at prisons or of almshouses or of schoolhouses there cer tainly ought to be in every place one or more women among the official examiners. Has our club in steady action taken care that there shall be in this region where we live?

"A dozen or more years ago the town of Quincy found it advisable to establish a public hospital. It is not a large hospital. But things so came about that it was hardly opened before a terrible accident maimed a great many travellers on a through train-people who were far from their homes. Here was this new hospital with every appliance which modern science has devised for sufferers; and these poor railroad people were carried there as soon as the ambulance could take them-which was all ready for such service. The way I came to know anything about it was that it proved that six tens of King's Daughters had arranged with each other that on every day of the week some lady should visit that hospita to see what the Quincy people could do for the cheer which is so much to a patient. One circle took Monday, another circle took Tuesday, another Wednesday, and so on.

"I am sure you all see how largely the daily visit made in such a spirit might help in what you may call the private life of such an institution Do not say that it is sentimental only If it is sentiment, it is very practical sentiment which cheers up three or four wards when a bright and fresh and sympathetic lady comes in and leaves in each room a fresh bouquet to take the place of the flowers which were left the day before.

"There was a bitter satire, of which am often reminded, in the London Times, some twenty or thirty years ago. ### Brilliant Serial For Ledger Readers

The Daily Ledger has secured the rights to publish a brilliant new serial "A Maker of History," by E. Phillips Oppenheim. The loss of a state paper, part of a treaty, furnishes the motive for this very remarkable story of mystery and adventure. A young Englishman traveling in Europe accidently comes into possession of this paper. He is suspected and has the police of France, Germany and Russia on his trail He disappears from a notorious cafe in Paris. His sister who goes to look for him also disappears, and her lover who has recently become blind, induces his friend to go in search of her. Of course the friend had to fall in love with the girl, making a very trying situation for the characters, but a most fascinating tale for the reader who threads the mys-$2 to $5 tic maze. Delmas and Jerome Battle Over Points of Law

Rules of Evidence Protect Story of Evelyn Thaw--Those Who Saw Killing of White Say That His Slayer Appeared Rational

New York, March 12 .- On the first day of the state's case in rebuttal at the trial of Harry K. Thaw, District Attorney Jerome came to a temporary standstill against the practically solid wall the rules of evidence have built around the story of Evelyn Thaw.

Mr. Jefeme began to attack the story as soon as court opened. There ensued a wellnigh ceaseless battle between the prosecutor and Mr. Delmas, the leading counsel for the defense, at the end of which Justice Fitzgerald upheld the rule laid down at the beginning of the trial—that Evelyn Thaw's story was admissible only as tending to show the effect it might have had in unbalancing the defendant's mind and that its truth or falsity is not material.

Mr. Jerome tried to avoid this rule by declaring he was endeavoring merely to show by inference-by circumstantial evidence as to facts and details in the story-that Mrs. Thaw could not possibly have told the story to her husband. Although he will doubtless be blocked by the same rule when the time comes, it is said the district attorney may attempt in the same way to prove an alibi for Stanford White on the night he is alleged to have maltreated Miss Nesbit.

Nine-tenths of yesterday's sessions were spent in argument and in nearly every instance when the smoke of conflict cleared away Delmas had won his point as to the law, while Jerome, in the very argument itself, had got before the jury a perfect knowledge as to what his witnesses would have testified to. had they been permitted. Jerome called 10 witnesses during the day, but into rescue work. Jerome decided to open his fight upon the defense by attacking the story told | preparing to request the postoffice de the jury by Evelyn Thaw. He called formerly an attorney for Thaw, and followed this up by asking the witness if Mrs. Thaw had not turned over to him certain papers to which she had subscribed. Longfellow said she had.

Many of the witnesses called by the her night with Stanford White in the Twenty-Fourth street studio house and asked if there was any known poison which would cause insensibility in two minutes and permit of the quick recov ery testified to by Thaw's wife.

Around this vital point, opening up as it did a path through which the prosecutor could march his forces in attack upon the truth or falsity of Mrs. Thaw's story, the storm of argument raged for an hour or more. Jerome pleaded with Fitzgerald at great length Today is Founder's day at Woodward Delmas, in replying, cited Jerome's At that time the district attorney had the court instruct the jury that young seating his mind. #### Justice Fitzgerald here sustained the objection interposed by the defense.

When late in the afternoon Jerome called James C. Smith, a brother-inlaw of Stanford White, to the stand, another long argument ensued. Smith was on the Madison Square roof garden the night of the tragedy. He knew Thaw and spoke with him that evening. He said Thaw stood in the aisle a mir ute or more after reaching his seat, and looked over the audience intently Mr. Delmas objected to this and i was stricken out of the record. The at torney for the defense also objected to Smith's testifying at all, saying he should have been produced during the presentation of the case in chief. Jecome said Smith was in Europe when the state's case first was presented. He threw himself upon the discretion of the court and the matter was pending when adjournment until today was ordered.

Asks Roosevelt to Meet Leading Railroad Men

CONFERENCE ARRANGED

Will Discuss Business Situation, Particularly as Affecting Railroads, to the End That Public Anxiety May Be Allayed

Washington, March 12 .- J. P. Morgan, the New York financier, at the request of certain business men of New York, came to Washington in his private car last night and went immediately to the White House, where he was in conference with President Roosevelt for more than two hours.

The object of Morgan's visit was to urge the president to take some action to "allay the public anxiety now threatening to obstruct railroad investments and construction." Morgan pointed out to the president that the financial interests of the country are greatly alarmed at the attitude of the administration toward corporations, and particularly the railroads. At Morgan's earnest request President Roosevelt has agreed to have a conference with four leading railroad presidents. McCrea of the Pennsyl vania, Newman of the New York Cenral, Mellen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, and Hughitt of the Chicago and Northwestern, to determine if some agreement can be reached as to the relations between the railroads and the administration. It is robable that E. H. Harriman, head of the Harriman lines, may also particiate in the conference, which, it is un erstood, will take place at the White House some time the latter part of this

After boarding his train, shortly after midnight to return to New York, Morgan dictated to the press the following statement:

"At the request of many busines en, before leaving for Europe, I came Washington to see the president to liscuss the present business situation particularly as affecting the railroads suggested to the president that is would be greatly in the public interest if he would see Mr. McCrea, Mr. New man, Mr. Mellen and Mr. Hughitt and onfer with them as to what steps might e taken to allay the public anxiet; ow threatening to obstruct railroad nvestments and construction so much eeded, and to especially allay the pub ic anxiety as to the relations between the railroads and the government. The president said he would be glad to see he gentlemen named, with this end in

B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Rock Island view yesterday with Mr. Roosevelt and nembers of the interstate commerce commission regarding the railroad sit nation, told President Roosevelt that the agitation and legislation in various states regarding 2-cent fares and the reduction in freight rates have made it almost impossible for the railroads to negotiate loans on their securities. He declared that "the railroad men are willing that the supervision of the rail coads be centralized in the national government. That," he added. "would retore confidence and give the people to understand that the railroads wish to observe the laws and it would stop the hostile legislation in various states."

Hurt by Adverse Legislation Atlanta, March 12.-President Garrett of the Seaboard Air Line railroad says the railroads of this country have now reached the financial danger line on account of adverse legislation, which has already further curtailed them. Railroads so affected, he says, will not be able to pay their operating expenses and the interest on their bonds if pres ent conditions continue. "It may mean," he said, "that many railroads will pass into the hands of receivers unless these penalties are modified.' Garrett said antagonism of the people was responsible for the conditions.

Walked Off Subway Platform New York, March 12.-The life of Miss Margaret Lee is hanging in the balance as the result of an accident in the subway. She walked off the edge of a platform in front of a down-town local train and suffered a double fracture of the skull, contusions and internal injuries. Miss Lee is slight and slender, or otherwise undoubtedly would have been drawn under the wheels. Motorman Morrison of the train was arrested.

Held on Fifty-Five Warrants Scranton, Pa., March 12.-James T. Haviland, the New York stock specialist, who was arrested here Sunday on two charges of embezzlement, was served with 53 more warrants yesterday, alleging the same offense. When he had been arrested for the 55th time the bail demanded of him amounted to $38,000. He is on parole in the custody of two constables.

Concord, N. H., March 12 .- Fred W. Baker of Epsom, N. H., a relative of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, and Dr. E. J. Foster-Eddy of Waterbury, Vt., Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, have becom plaintiffs, as "next friends" of Mrs Eddy, to the bill in equity brought to secure an accounting of her property.

In joining in the bill in equity Foster-Eddy says in his petition that "he has become convinced that Mrs. Eddy is and for a long time has been, incapable of intelligently conducting or receiving an account of her business and property, and that the same is being man aged wholly by the defendants without giving a proper accounting thereof."

Fred W. Baker in his petition says that he is a second cousin of Mar; Baker Glover Eddy and that in Septem ber, 1896, he was sent by his employ ers, J. P. & W. H. Emand, carriage makers at Boston, to visit Pleasant View to examine and repair and alte certain cerriages of Mrs. Eddy.

Baker says that he made known Mrs. Eddy his relationship to her, and she treated him with cordiality on his Fl first visit and also a few days later when he had finished the work on her carriages. She asked him to live in the house during his work, which he did and took his meals with Mrs. Eddy, Mr Frye and a woman of the household and lodged in the house over one night that she showed him about the house and invited him to come to visit her with his wife and children, at any time Frye, however, told him that he ough not to make that visit.

Not long after, says Baker in the pe titlen, in accordance with the above i vitation, he prepared to visit Mrs. Eddy intending to take his wife and little girl. He wrote to Mrs. Eddy, as she had told him to do, that he was coming but received no reply and therefore he gave up the visit. During the next three years he wrote to Mrs. Eddy twice, offering to avail himself of her invitation to visit her, but he received no reply, and he believes that she was not permitted to see either of the letters.

Baker's petition further says that in the summer of 1905 he moved from Boston to Epsom, N. H., and in September decided to make an effort to see Mrs. Eddy. He went to Concord and to her house and was refused the privi lege of seeing her by Frye. He urged been invited by Mrs. Eddy to come, bu Frye replied that Mrs. Eddy had too much work to do to receive visitors and received none but by appointment; he would receive the request for an inter view and if it were granted would notify Baker. He also said that Bake could see Mrs. Eddy that day if he would go down to the street corne about 2 o'clock and stand there and see her drive by in her carriage. This he refused to do, gave up the effort, and never received any reply to his request for an interview In conclusion the petition says that Baker "believes that Mrs. Eddy is virtually a prisoner in her own house that she is kept secluded by the defendants, Frye and others, and she she is not capable under all her conditions of managing her own business, but that it is all in the hands and control of said Frye and others, so that there has not been a due and proper accounting by these self-constituted guardians of her person and property.'

J. W. Kelly and N. E. Martin, counsel for the plaintiffs, had an interview yesterday afternoon with F. S. Streeter, counsel for Mrs. Eddy, but at its cenclusion all parties refused to give any Ricksecke's and Alfred Wright's statement to the press.

MAINE CITY ELECTIONS

Contest For Mayor of Biddeford Was Remarkably Close

Portland, Me., March 12.-Some sur-Rheumatism has long been regarded as a rouble which, while it might be painful, was not necessarily dangerous. Very few persons, twas thought, ever died from Rheumatism. tecent investigation among scientists has roved, however, the utter fallacy of such a relief. Three-fourths to seven-eights of the udden deaths, heart failures, etc., are due orimarily to neglected rheumatism. The theumatic Acid Poison is allowed to stay in he system until suddenly one day it grips he muscles of the heart and all is over.

Rheumatism is curable if the proper treatprises were afforded in the results of the council, which for more than a decade has been in control of the Citizen party. Mayor Littlefield, the Citizen-Republican candidate, was re-elected in Bidde ford by the narrow margin of 14 votes. In Brewer, which was the only city to elect a full Republican ticket, there was no Democratic opposition. The mayors elected and the complexion of the city governments in the five cities #### cause of numerous little things that go wrong with children. When a child is sick you rarely think that its sickness is caused by worms, yet worms, either directly or indirectly, are the cause of three quarters of all the ills of childhood. Children, and often-times adults feel out of sorts, are irritable, feel listless and unrefreshed in the morning; suffer with indigestion, have a variable appetite, foul tongue, offensive breath; hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel; eyes heavy, and dull; itching of the nose; short, dry cough; grinding of the teeth; slow fever; and often in children, convulsions—in the majority of cases the cause of all the trouble is worms though you may not suspect their presence. DR. TRUE'S ELIXIR a pure vegetable compound, has been the standard household remedy since 185r; it never fails to expel not only worms but all waste matter, leaving the blood rich and pure, the stomach sweet, the bowels regular and the whole system strong and healthy. The mother who gives her children Dr. True's Elxir regularly is wise, because it not only increases the appetite, acts as a preventative of coughs, cold, fever and worms but gives rugged, robust health. ### A SUCCINCT STORY

Told by White's Brother-In-Law on Witness Stand

DEFENSE VAINLY OBJECTS

Evidence Tending to Show That Thaw Was Sane When He Killed White-Delmas and Jerome In Another Tilt

New York, March 13.-The end of the Thaw trial at last seems to be in sight and the 12 men who have been in the jury box for nearly eight weeks are to be Harry Thaw's judges. Tentative plans for the final stages of the trial were agreed upon yesterday by opposting the time for the summing up.

District Attorney Jerome has at last burned behind him all bridges leading to a lunacy commission and has irre vocably pointed his course to proving and killed Stanford White and that, bein the first degree. Within 10 days or two weeks the case should be in the jury's hands.

Mr. Jerome played on Tuesday prob ably the strongest card he holds-evidence which came to his knowledge but a few days ago and which undoubtedly caused him to abandon the idea of sending White's slayer to a madhouse and to try for a straightout conviction under the criminal statutes. The evidence came from Mrs. Stanford White's brother, James C. Smith, who told a remarkably clear, succinct story of the events in Madison Square Garden the night White was killed and of a long conversation he had with Thaw just prior to the shooting.

It seems that Thaw sat for some time with Smith during the first performance of "Mamzelle Champagne" and discussed with him a variety of topics in a manner, Smith declared, such as any sane man would talk. Smith gave the conversation in detail, omitting nothing, he asserted.

With the brother-in-law of the man who was so soon to be a victim of his pistol, Thaw discussed the play, Wall street, common acquaintances, plans for the summer and many other things, including a "buxom brunette" whom Thaw declared he was anxious to have Smith meet. Thaw said he and his wife were going abroad later in the summer. There was no hint anywhere in the repeated conversation of Thaw's intent to inflict bodily harm upon any one. Smith did say, however, that Thaw, not having a reserved seat, roamed about the garden and continually looked in the direction of the spot where he subsequently killed White.

Attorney Delmas, for the defense, itterly fought the introduction of this testimony. He declared that Smith was properly a witness in chief and should not be allowed to testify in rebuttal. Jerome replied that he had known only for a few days the real value of Smith's testimony-the conversations with Thaw—and he appealed to the discretion of the court to allow the testimony to go in.

Justice Fitzgerald held that in the interest of justice the jury was entitled to all the facts. It was one of the most serious blows the judge has dealt the defense since the trial began.

As the last witness of the day Jerome called Rudolph Eckmyer, a photographer, who took the pictures of Evelyn Thaw which have been introduced in evidence. The photographer was employed by Stanford White. He had no sooner been sworn than it developed that Eckmyer had also been employed by White to make the photographic copy of the affidavit Evelyn Nesbit is said to have made in Abra ham Hummel's office. Eckinyer identi fied the negatives made from the affida vit, but they were not offered in evi dence. Jerome next tried to get the photographer to fix the dates of certain pictures for which Evelyn Nesbit posed hoping thus to establish the day the Nesbit girl says she had the experience with White in the Twenty-Fourth street

Mr. Delmas objected on the ground that the evidence tended to contradict Mrs. Thaw's story and was not per

"If you will let me fix the date of these pictures," Jerome said heatedly, "I will show that on the night following the day they were taken, when Mrs. Thaw says she was ruined. White was not in the Twenty-Fourth street house

Mr. Jerome fairly shouted the last words and pounded the table before him. Delmas said he must stand upon his objection, and it was sustained He then moved that the district attor ney's "improper remarks, to which he has given much emphasis of voice and gesture, be stricken from the records." Jerome retorted by asking the court to instruct the jury that the alleged ravishment or non-ravishment of Evelyn Nesbit had nothing whatever to do with the case.

Justice Fitzgerald merely admon ished the jurors to pay no heed to the remarks of counsel addressed to the court and to confine themselves strictly to'the evidence.

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato can dollar-not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again. Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow.

SHOT HIS FATHER

Insane Man Then Sent Bullet

Through His Own Head Auburn, R. I., March 13 .- While suffering from insanity, Irving T. Peckham, superintendent of the Glenarck Knitting mills of Woonsocket, shot and seriously injured his father, Samue's O. Peckham, here last night, and afterwards committed suicide. Both men have been prominent in the Rhode Island textile industry.

The tragedy occurred at the home of the Peckhams. At the time of Irving's arrival home his father was in the kitchen repairing a chair and did not notice his son's approach through the hall. Irving drew a revolver and shot his father in the back of the head before the latter was aware of his danger. The elder Peckham supported himself by means of the chair, but was unable to defend himself. The son fired five more shots, one of which entered the lower jaw of the victim. Young Peckham then rushed upstairs and shot himself through the head. The elder Peckham was removed to a hospital at Providence, where the surgeons pronounced his condition as criti-

Irving Peckham was 34 years of age and unmarried. About three months ago he sustained a fall which injured his head and since then had been despondent at times. He had had no business troubles and was well supplied with money, more than $700 being found on the body.

Samuel O. Peckham is 56 years of age. Up to 10 years ago he was proprietor of a large mill in Washington, R. I., but of fate he had been in charge of the carding room of the Glenarck

Trolley Car Struck Auto

Marlboro, Mass., March 13 .- An automobile occupied by L. H. Perlman, Robert L. Dunn, Darwin Lyon and A. M. De Camp, all of New York, was struck by a trolley car last night while. engaged in a contest run with several other cars from New York to Boston. All the occupants of the automobile were thrown out. Dunn suffered a fracture of the leg, but the others escaped injury. The automobile sustained only slight damage.

Murderer Gets Life Sentence

Putnam, Conn., March 13 .- By pleading to guilty of second degree murder, Alexander Tedeschi, an Italian, received a life sentence in state prison and brought to an abrupt and unexpected close his trial for the shooting and killing of Maria de Callo, with whom he lived out of wedlock. The shooting was the result of a quarrel. The couple had lived together for 20 years and had six children.

Defaulting Bank Treasurer Indicted Hartford, March 13 .- William F. Walker, the defaulting treasurer of the Savings Bank of New Britain, was indicted by the grand jury on charges of embezzlement, forgery and uttering forged documents. Some of the forgery counts are for crimes alleged to have been committed as far back as 1905, when Walker manipulated the funds of Successful Break For Liberty Boston, March 13 .- Edward Kane, who was sentenced at Cambridge to the Concord reformatory, escaped from three Middlesex county officers while being conducted to the train at the North station here last night. Kane was handcuffed to four other prisoners, but managed to slip from the manacles and disappear in the crowd. Alleged Bribery In Election

Bangor, Me., March 13 .- Frank R. Katon and Ruel Glidden were arraigned in the municipal court here, the former on the charge of offering and the latter of accepting a bribe of $4 for voting at the city election. Probable cause was found and both furnished $200 bonds for appearance in the supreme

Charged With Murdering Son Boston, March 13.-Louis Tennis, under indictment on a charge of murder for the alleged killing of his 4-year-old boy, pleaded not guilty in the superior court and was held without bail for trial. Tennis, it is alleged, shot and wounded his wife, shot and killed the should be purchased in Quincy child, and then made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide.

Burglars In Boston Home Boston, March 13 .- An unusually heavy robbery was reported last night to the police of the Jamaica Plain district by Robert Brown of 335 John street. The thieves carried off a large amount of silverware and jewelry. while the occupants of the house were away for a few hours.

Killed by Gunshot Wounds Fort Fairfield, Me., March 13.-Three physicians held an autopsy on the body of Thomas Evans and gave a decision that death was caused by gunshot wounds inflicted by Fred Michaud. Evans was shot on March 1 and died March 10. Michaud is in jail.

Many Witnesses of Suicide Boston, March 13 .- Within the sight of a trolley car filled with passengers, John Higgins, a laborer, shot and killed himself with a revolver at an entrance to Franklin park. The motive for the suicide is not known. Coal Trust's Existence Admitted Cleveland, March 13.-According to an admission of one of its members, a coal trust exists in Ohio, in violation of the anti-trust law of the state. This admission was made in an answer filed in court here in a suit brought by the United States Coal company against a large number of Ohio coal men.

WITCHES AND PLANTS.

Many Legends and Traditions That Link Them Togethor.

In all countries in which the witchcraft delusion now exists or in which it prevailed in former times we find folklore stories connecting those mysterious bogies with the plants of those particular regions. Even the great Shakespeare causes his witches to discourse learnedly on the diabolical properties of "hemlock digg'd i' dark' and of "slips of yew silvered in the moon's eclipse." They are supposed to have had their favorite flowers as well as plants, and in England at the present time foxglove is spoken of as "witch bells" and harebells as "witches' thimbles." The common ragwort is well known as the "witches' horse, the tradition being that they mounted rank growths of that species of weed and "rode the skies," just as the dame with the pointed hat rides the broom in the familiar picture. In Germany and throughout northern Europe it is the belief that witches float from place to place on beds of hay, composed largely of witches' blossoms and "devil spikes," this last being a species of dwarfed slough grass. St. John's wort, which is now so popular for shoulder and buttonhole bouquets on St. John's eve, was formerly worn for the express purpose of averting the crafts and subtleties of the witches, bogies ghosts and spirits which the European peasantry believed walked abroad on "that night of witching mysteries."-London Spectator.

SHAVING NAPOLEON.

It Was a Difficult Job For Constant, the Emperor's Barber.

Constant, Napoleon's barber, tells o the many difficulties he experienced in shaving the emperor. Napoleon would take his place in the chair, conversing and gesticulating. Suddenly he would call for a paper or turn rapidly to look behind him.

The utmost caution was necessary on the part of his barber to keep from cutting him, yet in spite of all these estless movements not once while Constant was shaving the emperor did he do so.

Sometimes when in the chair he would sit stiff and motionless as a stone, and Constant tells that he could not get him to move his head either way in order to facilitate the opera tion of shaving.

Napoleon had a singular whim of having only one side of his face lath ered and shaved at a time. When he shaved himself, which was seldom be invariably cut himself badly. This was due to his restless impatience, and though he was scrupulously neat in his person, he would, after hewing a slice from his cheek, give up the operation in disgust and go about with part of his face unshaved until he had found is wholly inadequate, and because the his faithful barber.

PRESIDENT NOT WORRIED

Opinion That Agitation Is Caused by Men of Harriman Type--Requested Conterence In Strik ing Contrast to Efforts to Deteat Rate Regulation

Washington, March 13 .- Great interest is manifested in official circles at these proceedings were under way, the announcement made by J. P. Morgan after his visit to the White House Monday night that he had "suggested" to the president that it would be greatly to the public interest if he would see Mr. McCrea, Mr. Newman and Mr. Mellen, and confer with them as to what steps might be taken to "allay the public anxiety" now threatening to obstruct railroad investment and construction, and especially to allay public anxiety as to the relations between the railroads and the government. The fact is that for many months the railroad presidents have been sending suggestions to the White House about what the president could do to "allay" public anxiety. While congress was in session they sent through mutual friends a request to the president to make a statement on the subject of the relations between the government and the railroads which would "allay" public anxiety.

CAUGHT IN PANAMA

Long Search For Alleged Triple Murderer Is Rewarded

New York, March 13.—After a search iasting nearly a year and a half, Charles H. Rogers, accused of the murder of Frederick R. and Willis G. Olney, wealthy farmers of Middletown, N. Y. and of Alice Ingerick, the 19-year-old aughter of their housekeeper, as well as an attempt to kill the latter's mother. was arrested in Panama and is now in San Francisco in the custody of detectives on his way to New York.

Rogers disappeared immediately after the triple murder, which occurred on Oct. 7, 1905, leaving a wife and five children. Since then many persons have been arrested on suspicion of having been implicated in the crime, but all were subsequently discharged on proving their innocence. All the time however, the detectives were on the trail of Rogers and traced him from place to place until they found him en gaged on the canal operations in Pana-

The Old World Charm That Crowns This Picturesque City.

Dear, delightful old Quebec, with her gray walls and shining tin roofs; her precipitous, headlong streets and sleepy squares and esplanades; her narrow alleys and peaceful convents; her harmless antique cannon on the parapets and her sweet toned bells in the spires; her towering chateau on the heights and her long, low, queer smelling warehouses in the lower town; her spick and span caleches and her dingy trolley cars; her sprinkling of soldiers and sailors with Scotch accent and Irish brogue and cockney twang on a background of petite bourgeoise speaking the quaintest of French dialects; her memories of an adventurous glittering past and her placid contentment with the tranquil grayness of the present; her glorious daylight outlook over the vale of the St. Charles, the level shore of Montmorenci, the green Ile d'Orleans dividing the shining reaches of the broad St. Lawrence, and the blue Laurentian mountains rolling far to the eastward, and at night the dark bulk of the citadel outlined against the starry blue, and far below the huddled housetops, the silent wharfs, the lights of the great warships swinging with the tide, the intermittent ferryboats plying to and fro, the twinkling lamps of Levis rising along the dim southern shore and reflected on the lapsing, curling seaward sliding waves of the great river! What city of the new world keeps so much of the charm of the old?-Henry Van Dyke in Scribner's Magazine.

STAMPING ENVELOPES.

Queer Ways Some Folks Have of Doing This Simple Act.

"The only way to stop people from plastering a stamp at any old place upon the envelope except the right one is to do as is done in England. There a letter which does not have the stamp in the right position is cast aside and Peaches: "Golden Poppy," handled only when all other mail is sorted and exchanged." This idea was advanced by a postal clerk quoted by "Rubye," the Philadelphia Record. "We often Pears, Bartlets, 21b., lose considerable time because of these Apricots, Selected, letters," continued the clerk, "for often we have to stop and turn over an envelope to find the stamp. We do not mind so much the love sick youth or maiden who places the stamp on the center of the envelope, because a stamp so placed can be seen at a glance, but it is chiefly with the foreigners that we have the trouble. These people invariably put on a stamp at any but · the right place, and you would be surprised to know how they do it. Why, I have seen letters upon which the stamps have been placed on the back of the envelope as the point where the society girl will put her monogram in sealing wax. Others when they have to pay, say, 5 cents postage will buy five one-cent stamps and put one on each corner of the envelope, with the remaining one acting as a seal upon the back."

An Exciting Escape. Prince Kropotkin, the Russian revocape from a fortress prison in St. Petersburg. After two years in the prison he had been removed to the jail hospital, where plans were matured by his friends for his flight. He was allowed to walk for an hour each afternoon, guarded by armed sentries, in the grounds. A line of spies outside maintained a system of signals to notify the prince when the adjoining streets should be clear. When all was well a friend in a kiosk opposite the gates played upon a violin. After one or two false starts the violinist burst into a mad melody, and the prisoner, flinging off an outer garment, leaped for it. Sentries tried to stab him with their bayonets; others hesitated to shoot, believing that they could catch him. A carriage with a racing horse in the shafts was waiting. Into it he sprang, and they left at a gallop. His beard was cut off, his clothes changed, and he spent the first hours of his hiding in the best cafe in St. Petersburg.

Captain Vertier occupied a cabin near the after turret, over the magazine. Immediately after the explosion he tried to get out, but the door of his cabin was blocked with debris and the only means of exit was impassable. The flames then broke out, and Vertier died a horrible death. After the fire had been extinguished the rescuers found his incinerated remains, as well as the terribly burned bodies of several other officers who had been caught in the after cabin. Two midshipmen were killed outright, and the others attached to the Iena have not yet been accounted for.

There are a total of 150 wounded men being cared for, but in addition a number of people in the town were hit by projectiles from the explosion. A 2year-old child was killed instantly in the town by such a missile.

The fire is now practically out, and as soon as the battleship is free of the deadly fumes the work of bringing out the bodies will begin.

Grand Banquet Board of Trade

trade which will make Massachusetts

You point with pride to your shipyard of today, but 40 to 50 years ago the fastest clippers were built in Quincy, and the business was allowed to move away. Success does not rest alone in the Fore River works but in all industries. Quincy should have other large industries. To this end I shall work in Congress for apppropriations to deepen the Neponset river, Town river and Fore river. I have also written to the Secretary of War suggesting that the arsenal now at Watertown and unaccessible, be moved to the marshes of the Neponset river.

The Board of Trade is interested in the erection of a Federal building here, but far more important are industries. The Board by backing up its Congressman can do wonderful work. Then get in touch with President Mellen of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. and secure the best possible freight rates and service. Show the world that Quincy is justified in attracting industries. Goods can be shipped cheaper by water than by rail. This district should be the leader in Massachusetts.

Quincy has been too modest, too conservative. The Board of Trade will do away with this, and create energy. Quincy should favor heartily the connection of the Granite and Shawmut branch railroads and any other improvement of service which corporaations are ready to give. If Milton people do not want to see a train of cars they should go to the Blue Hills or

Brilliant Serial For Ledger Readers

The Daily Ledger has secured the rights to publish a brilliant new serial "A Maker of History," by E. Phillips Oppenheim. The loss of a state paper, part of a treaty, furnishes the motive for this very remarkable story of mystery and adventure. A young Englishman traveling in Europe accidently comes into possession of this paper. He is suspected and has the police of France, Germany and Russia on his trail He disappears from a notorious cafe in Paris. His sister who goes to look for him also disappears, and her lover who has recently become blind, induces his friend to go in search of her. Of course Granite street. the friend had to fall in love with the girl, making a very trying situation for tale for the reader who threads the mystic maze. The story is copyrighted and tic maze. The story is copyrighted and is illustrated by Berger. The opening chapters will be found in the Saturday | FOR SALE-Stone Shed complete with eight-page Daily Ledger.

near Selma. Alexandria, a town of about 16,000 inhabitants, had a fearful experience. When the tornado struck the place the electric lights went out, the cracking of falling buildings could be heard above the noise of the wind, and vivid lightning flashes showed such sights as an empty passenger train rolling over and over.

Immediately after the wind spent its violence a heavy hailstorm added to the general discomfort. The main portion of Alexandria escaped the worst of the tornado, which cut a path through the northern part of the town, a residence quarter. About a score of homes were demolished, 50 were damaged and altogether about 100 buildings were wrecked, including several business houses. The Iron Mountain railroad lost its roundhouse

In the woods about the town the tornado cut down trees and small cabins in a parrow line about nine miles long. Several houses were blown down at Pineville, and injuries to persons there are reported. The hail did much damage to crops. At Alexandria the damage is estimated at $200,000.

At Jackson, La., the insane asylum was wrecked, with a loss of about $200, 000. Three female inmates and many other persons were injured. Reports from the surrounding country indicate that there was probably more loss of life among negroes, whose flimsy cabns tumbled on the heads of the occu-

Hudson River Steamer Is Burned to the Water's Edge

Dobbs Ferry, N. Y., April 6.—Steamer City of Troy was burned to the water's edge here last night. All the passengers, some 65 in number, were landed safely. The steamer was completely destroyed, with its large cargo of freight and 13 horses. Edwin Gould's dock, to which the City of Troy tied up when it was found impossible to control the flames, was also destroyed.

The City of Troy left New York at 6 clock last night, bound up the river for Albany and Troy. The fire was discovered at about 8 o'clock, when the boat was about eight miles below Dobbs Ferry. It started either in the kitchen er in the hold, but reports differ. It was discovered early, but its location was such it could not be mastered by the crew and with all speed the steamboat was headed for this side of the river. All those of the crew and attendants who were not actually needed in the engine room and in the pilothouse were sent about arousing the passengers and helping them to prepare to go ashore quickly.

When she tied up at the Gould dock the fire had gained such headway that ing 13 others. Then it neared the Mis- little attempt was made to extinguish It and every effort was bent toward landing the passengers successfully When it was thought that everyone had been landed safely it was discovered that a woman passenger was asleep in her berth and two Dobbs Ferry firemen rushed into the burning boat and car

Canada to Have Bison Herd Denver, April 6 .- Howard Eaton of Wolf, Mont., announces that a herd of 430 bison, owned by Michael Pablow now at Flathead reservation, is about to pass into possession of the Canadian government. Some time ago Eaton procured an option on the herd at $300 a head and presented it to the United States government. President Roose velt was desirous of preserving to the United States the herd, comprising half of all the bison surviving in this country, Eaton said, but no appropriation was made for the purpose.

A Pennsylvania Dutch clergyman was in the habit of giving, out two lines of a hymn at a time for the choir to sing. One dark, rainy day he could not see the words and said: "Mine eyes ish dim. I cannot see, I left mine specks at home." The choir, suppos ing this to be the hymn, struck up the tune of common meter. The minister bawled out: "Mein Gott, Mein Gott! Dat ish no hymn. I only said mine eyes vash dim." The choir sang these two lines, the minister saying: "I dink the debil's in you all. Dot wash no his little song, and after he has real hymn to sing at all."

Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.] Y DEAR BOY-Your mothe and I have just returned from the wedding in which you were, to us, the most interesting if not the most conspicuous figure. It was a great wedding; never saw anything quite so pretty in my life. Everything was in good taste, and you went through your part like a little man. I was almost proud of you.

And the bride! My boy, I believe you've discovered something that's better than a gold mine. Unless my judgment is mightily at fault, she's all right. Your mother is just as well pleased as I am, and that's saying great deal for her, for she never could see any giri quite good enough for you You know she doesn't hesitate to say whom she likes or dislikes, and she usually settles the point on sight, so I was very uneasy, as no doubt you were, about the way Mrs. John Junior would strike her. Reform Your Faults, Not Hers.

You may wonder that I don't suggest a study of your wife's virtues. Lord bless you, my boy, you don't need to study them. They will fall upon you of indifference, and indifference is and envelop you and permeate you, and all you have to do is to appreclate them and give frequent evidence of your appreciation. Virtues seldom her faults. If these are little ones, be thankful and let them alone. If any hould look to be serious, don't try to emove them with an ax. You are ikely to sprain your arm and dull the cool. Treat them with tact and patience and love, and in the course of time, perhaps a long time, you can so modify them that they will become unbjectionable or even likable.

All this, however, presupposes some attention to your own failings, which are probably more numerous and more pronounced than hers, and in the case of a man there are more circumstances which call for the use of a metaphorcal surgical instrument. If you don't wield it yourself, the little girl ought to, and if you need it she will unless I am mistaken in my judgment of her. But you can't treat a woman's faults in that way. Dictation, opposition. force, may get results, but it will be at the expense of happiness. You can't run a home as you would a factory. Your wife is not a servant or your inferior in anything but physical strength. Besides, she is a woman and as such is entitled to the fullest measure of that chivalric courtesy which every gentleman owes to the other sex. That she is your wife increases your obligation in this respect. I have heard of women who doubted their husbands' love if they neglected the periodical beating, but I never saw any of that class, and I doubt their existence. No; the only way to correct a woman's fault, if it really needs cor rection, is by a pressure so gentle she never suspects its existence, applied with the patient persistence that is in all things trresistible. You know that in the grinding of a lens for a great telescope the final work is done with the palm of the bare hand. If you opreciate what a concession it is for bend a twig sharply, it will break, but if you bend it gently and secure it in woman who has taken possession of its new position you can by constant repetition of the process mold it to any torm you desire. So the ideal husband and wife consciously and unconscious ly mold each other's disposition. Domestic happiness, my son, is the highest form of bliss attainable on earth, that of other mortals you have made and it is worth all-the trouble it generhome and every material desire of her heart, you may treat her with courtesy and kindness, you may give her high social position, but if she loves you all these are as nothing if unaccompanied by the purely sentimental expressions of your own affection for her. With visible love she will live happily in the numblest cottage.

Some people would smile at this. Some would call it an old fashioned idea that has no place in the advanced civilization of today. The mountains and the hills, the lakes and the rivers, are old fashioned, and they are no nore immutable than human nature of which love is the highest expression. In spite of all of our culture, men and women, under the veneer, are just the ame as they were when Pan played his pipes in the groves of Arcadia. We are as God made us, and while we may in a way to please you. levelop the brain we can't alter its omposition, nor can we eradicate the ove longing from a woman's heart. So let her have all she wants.

You will have to resume the chase after dollars, and you'll have to sprint a little faster than before, but that won't justify you in putting the little girl up on a shelf like a piece of valuable bric-a-brac nor in shoving her back into the kitchen to become your cook. She is neither a goddess to be worshiped from afar nor a menial to be bossed at close range. She is just a delightful bundle of tiesh and blood and nerves, designed for everyday wear and attaining her highest happiness in loving and helping you.

Do all you can, therefore, to keep that levelight burning brightly, for if you are the right sort your own happiness wili be based upon hers. Love her always and let her know, let her know, let her know that you love her. That is the fatal mistake of so many -keeping their love to the mselves, as if it

This was what happened to us at Circucester. Passing through that town we were solemnly corrected for calling it "Cicester." On the other hand, when wandering in Norfolk and drawing nigh to a place which was marked on the map "Happisburgh," we found ourselves quite unintelligible because we did not pronounce it "Hazebro." #### PILOT DEAD AT POST

Timely Discovery Saved River Steamer From Disaster

Pittsburg, April 6 .- With the spoke of the pilot wheel clutched in a death grip and a hand extended toward the bell rope, George W. Conant was found lying dead in the pilothouse of the packet Lorena near East Liverpool, O. Without a guiding hand the big packet, filled with passengers who were peacefully sleeping, wandered hither and thither through a dense fog and was rupning at high speed into a rockstudded pool when Captain Richardson stopped the creft from running to de-tor, presided and introduced each speaker assigned.

Richard D. Chase spoke the welcome for the church. He said, like a child, he stood at the door to welcome the expected guest, and he would speak as one of the children of the church-the mother three-fourths of a century old, yet her look showed no signs of infirmity. He spoke briefly of the things of the past and the changes that have taken place. He would welcome the representatives of churches present, the youth and the aged. He welcomed all as children of the mother we all love. Rev. Edward A. Chase gave the respone in which he said we realize today that Bethany church is a house of refuge and blessing to those who are in need of consolation. We realize more and more that Bethany is the house of blessing and comfort to men and women who come in the name of Christ asking for bread. It was a wonderful thing to have lived 75 years and leave no marks. May the blessing of God rest upon you

Rev H. S. Huntington of Milton brought the greeting of the churches of Norfolk county. The churches of the conference looked up to Bethany church because we know it will do and say the right thing and you are a source of help to us. The mutual relationship of pastor and church is important. He then spoke of the number of men being graduated from the colleges that were to enter the ministry. Here is the one important explanation for lack of growth in Congregational church. Financial interests should not be reason for entering the ministry, but love of !

God and humanity, yet the minister stould be compensated.

Rev. Ellery C. Butter brought the greeting from the churches of Quincy. He said in his church was matured the men who founded this church. There came a time for them to arise and get out of their father's house. They wanted spiritual help and not finding it they established themselves and lifted up their voices.

Mr. Butler then paid a tribute to Dr. Hardy and the work he was doing, and Bethany Church spoke of John Calvin and Calvinism. It is a new time in which you live, and new problems are coming. The question is, will you solve these problems or rest on our laurels and let them go beyond. It is because you have been upward and onward that I bid you twice welcome to our city. May you live and thrive:

The greetings from greater Boston were brought by Rev. William R. Campbell of Roxbury. He spoke of the value The interior of Bethany church of church life and what it stood for. never looked more attractive than it One of the greatest things in church life did yesterday at the opening of the is friendship. He also spoke of its soexercises commemorative of the cial life, for which nothing accomplished more for manhood and courtesy. society. During the past few weeks In the matter of business it is a training for young men.

> The two addresses of the afternoon were by Rev. E. Victor Bigelow of Lowell and Rev. Arthur W. Bailey of Keene, N. H.

Mr. Bigelow's subject was "The church; her goodly fellowship." He said in opening that he spoke in memory of a good man whose name is on memorial window had been erected by the font. In the early days of the William S. Williams, to his wife Ruth church, meetings were held in a build-Williams. It is a beautiful piece of ing where they stuffed feather pillows work and forms a fitting comparison and we were called Featherdox. If this church stands for Beneath this on the centre panel are anything it stands for the Trinity. We can never get complete fellowship until we get the fellowship of God. The church stands for the third party.

Idleness is diametrically opposed to fellowship. Where will you find work like the work done in a church of Christ? There must be also a mutual exchange, the mutual exchange of the hand clasp, of going together and the interchanging of ideas.

Rev. Arthur W. Bailey's subject was 'The Church, Her Influence in the World." If it had not been for the church he might not be here today. He brought to his mother church the testimony of his gratitude for what it had done for him. The first work of a christian church is a personal work. To pick up a boy and make a christian of

Sensational And Illustrated

"The Making of a Successful Husband," by Caspar S. Yost, is the latest special feature announced for the Saturday eight page Daily Ledger. We shall be surprised if it does not attract more attention than any put out by this paper in some time. It consists of a series of articles about three columns long dealing in a striking and original manner with choosing a wife, the honeymoon, making a home, domestic finances, the cooking problem, deportment in the home, a married man's place, reciprocal confidence, your mother-in-law etc. These articles, in the form of letters from a father to his son, permitting the familiar and effective style important subjects with sound philosophy and fine common sense.

While they are interesting enough of sound advice and can be read with profit by anybody. It will be strange if there are not some better husbands for reading them. And think of the wide appeal—husbands who are already made, successfully or otherwise: the wives who endure them, would be husbands and girls who are in danger from them, parents who realize that they must some time give up their daughters. In fact, it seems we will come very near hitting the whole community with "The Making of a Successful Husband." The feature is illustrated by O. H. von Gottschalck, manager of the American Press Association's art department. It will begin next Saturday and appear only on Saturdays in the Daily Ledger.

Delmas May Occupy Two Entire Days For Summing Up, While Jerome May Complete His r Argument In a Few Hours

New York, April 6.-The trial of Harry K. Thaw will proceed on Monday, when Mr. Delmas, the leading r 1 counsel for the defense, wal begin his summing up address to the jury. District Attorney Jerome decided late yes- r terday not to apply to the appellate division of the supreme court for a writ r of prohibition or mandamus to halt the r trial. He reached this decision, it was | r said, after a consultation with eminent counsel.

Mr. Jerome may argue briefly on Monday against the confirmation of the report of the lunacy commission, which declared Thaw to be sane, but he is aware that Justice Fitzgerald's dispo- r sition is to confirm the report, which was unanimous. Jerome has many wit- r to nesses still under subpoena, but it is r il said he has decided not to call them and will press the trial forward to an early verdict, or, what is regarded more like- r 7 43 abc ly, a disagreement of the jury.

It was soon found desirable to replace the young man with a young woman, but even under the new order of things, there was none of the careful training in phraseology and correct enunciation of words which is regular schools of operation are maintained in the larger cities.

ly in none of the colleges-have to mind the manner of their speech more watchfully than the telephone girls The constant effort of the traffic de partment of the New England telephone system is to secure uniform standards of efficiency, and these are possible only where employes are thoroughly well drilled.

If a candidate for a position at the switchboard has a high pitched, rasp ing voice she is taught to lower it After she is in actual service sh must answer subscribers in a way to suit her own ideas of polite conversation, but must follow certain forms which experience has shown save to time both of "Central" and of the subscribers. The familiar "Number? pronounced with a rising inflection the quick yet clearly articulated "Did you get them?" and the gentle request "What number are you calling please?" are all definintely prescribed

As a means of still further improve ing the New England company's handling of traffic there has latel; been sent to all exchanges in the company's territory a new manual of operating practices. If the average carefully he would not only get a bet ter idea than he could otherwise hav of the carefulness with which the telephone traffic is carried on, but h

Take, for example, the manner of calling numbers. In spite of the repetition that is made by operators in correct phrase, not one person in has been shown to be the most economical and accurate method of requesting a connection with another subscriber. These sections from the manual have a very direct public

"When dealing with the public or other operators the operator will repeat numbers by substituting the corresponding word for each figure. Seccessive repetition of digits in line numbers will be avoided by the use of the word 'Double.' The line number will be separated from the ring number by the word 'Ring.' Ex-

It has been observed by authorities on the voice that telephone speech is gradually changing the character of American utterance, that people are beginning to speak more distinctly and in lower tones than formerly. Something of this result is unquestionably due to the well modulated tones of the operators at "central,"

The voice is in fact one of the inme be as to go up he knows that time for certain changes in the dis-

RICH MEN'S CABAL

SURPRISES HIS ENEMIES

Was Waiting For Auspicious Moment to Expose the Whole Scheme--1s Anxious to Have Tatt Occupy White House

Washington, April 6.- It is stated at the White House that knowledge of the 'cabal" alleged to have been formed to defeat the policies of President Roosevelt came to the notice of the president some time before the dinner at which failure of the ecclesiastical authorities the whole scheme was laid bare.

Persistent efforts were made at the tentions and resources of the combina- pastorate. tion, but Secretary Loeb uniformly declined to make this public.

President Roosevelt believes the nation to prevent the election as his ingly or unwittingly.

enemies completely by surprise is evident from the persistence with which they are denying the existence of any anti-Roosevelt movement. The president was too clever to mention any names when he took the public into his confidence. The post-prandial story told by the man who betrayed the plans of the conspirators was merely another bit of information on a plot of which the president has known for a long time. He was merely waiting for an auspicious moment to expose the whole

Some of the reactionaries who made up their mind to ally themselves with the anti-Roosevelt conspiracy at the proper time are endeavoring to minmize the whole revelations of the last of "seeing things."

While Secretary Taft is working in Panama, Cuba and Porto Rico, the president has been paving the way for is nomination next year if at that time he shall appear to be the most available Roosevelt candidate. Now that the president has come out in the open and made the issue with his enemies it Ohio. The friends of the president and to line up the state for Taft on Roosevelt lines.

Tuckerman Is p posed From the Episcopal Priesthood

Boston, April 6.-Rev. Gustavus President Was Long Aware of Tuckerman of this city has been formally deposed from the priesthood of the Episcopal church by Rt. Rev. Dr. Greer, bishop coadjutor of New York, with which diocese Tuckerman has been canonically connected. Tuckerman's relations with the Episcopal church are severed because he could us longer accept the teaching of that communion regarding the doctrine of the holy trinity and the virgin birth, and he is now a minister of the Unitarian denomination.

Although sentence of deposition was pronounced last Tuesday by Greer, it was not generally known in the Episcopal church that Tuckerman is no longer a member of it. the Remarkable Story to Which She Swore on the Witand Beaten by Her Husband

New York, March 14.-After a ses sion occupied almost entirely by District Attorney Jerome in a bitter de nunciation of the defendant and his wife, the trial of Harry K. The prosecut-************* ing attorney found his opportunity to attack Thaw and Evelyn Nesbit in argung on the question of the admissibility of the testimony which Abraham Hummel, the lawyer who is under indict ment for subornation of perjury in the Dodge-Morse divorce case, has to offer.

It was to enable Delphin Delmas to consult authorities and frame a reply to Jerome and also to allow the latter an opportunity of completing the hypo thetical question which he is to put to his experts that the early adjournmen was ordered. Jerome declared that the people hope to close their rebuttal case this evening.

During his argument Jerome took ***************** on for the first time since the case began an oratorical tone. SAD SCENES AT TOULON

Most of the Bodies Recovered Formless Masses of Charred Flesh--What a Visit to the III-Fated Battleship Revealed

Toulon, March 14.-The efforts to recover the bodies of those killed by the explosion on board the Freuch battleship Iena here Tuesday have not yet resulted in definitely fixing the number of casualties. But after the last rolleall last night there were still unaccounted for eight officers and 110 men. There is little doubt that all these missing men perished.

The rollcall was applied only to the crew of the Iena, but as it is believed that some 12 or 15 arsenal hands were engaged on board the battleship at the time of the explosion, it is feared that the total number of dead will reach 120. In this belief the naval hospital here has been instructed to prepare mortuary space for 120 bodies.

Weeping mothers, wives and other relatives of the missing men thronged the approach to the hospital, hoping that their loved ones were still alive. and eagerly scanning the stretchers that were brought in.

Fifty bodies were recovered yesterday, but only 12 of them could be recognized. The remainder were formless masses of charred flesh. Last evening hope was revived by a rumor that several men had been brought out alive. but unfortunately this proved to be un

Minister of Marine Thompson made a visit to the Iena, after the drydock had been emptied of water, and made a careful examination of every part of the battleship that was accessible. The interior steel planking and the partitions of the battleship show signs of having been subjected to enormous pressure. In many places they are bulged out or indented. The gap in the side of the vessel acted as a safety valve for the vast volume of gas generated by the burning powder, without which the explosion would have had even more disastrous results.

After the rollcall Minister Thomson reviewed the survivors and addressed to them a few touching words, after which the men who are engaged in searching the vessel returned to their task, at which they worked all night.

Two of the wounded men died in the hospital last evening and there are five others who are not expected to live throughout today.

BREAK IN STOCKS

Prices Take a Sensational Tumble In Wall Street

tile and Commercial Situation Is Not Favorable-Advance In Money Rate a Feature

New York, March 14.-The most sensational decline in prices for several years occurred on the Stock Exchange yesterday. Except that monely rates were higher and that the tone on the foreign exchanges was unfavorable, there was no news to account for the break in prices.

The market opened weak under the influence of lower prices for Americans abroad and the drop in consols to the lowest price since 1886. At first the downward movement was gradual and presented a minority report with the the selling did not appear to be of an committee recommendations. Store urgent character, but as soon as the expressed the opinion that footbal rate for call money got above 6 percent | should be abolished entirely on accoun heavy blocks of stock were offered for of the abuses in the game. He pre sale, apparently without regard to prices, and the downward trend of quotations became precipitate.

Breaks of from half to a point beween sales were frequent, and the peatedly opposed football. ouying power was so limited that it eemed to be difficult in some of the weaker features to execute selling orders. It was noticed that weakness centered in Reading, the Harriman railroads and the Hill stocks, and the weakness of the latter was closely asociated in the minds of the professional raders with the departure for Europe yesterday of J. P. Morgan.

The drop in Reading was as rapid and as sensational as was the sharp week ago, but there was no more news to account for yesterday's movement than there was for the former one. After the decline had reached its full momentum about mid-day there was a ally, followed by another break which, in turn, was succeeded by a renewal of the rally, but the better tone did no hold and just before the close there was a final slump, with the list generally weak and prices at or near the lowest of the day.

Apart from the higher money and the bearish feeling abroad there was nothing in the day's developments of sufficient importance to cause any such wholesale throwing over of stocks as took place. The general sentiment in Wall street, however, was pessimistic, even the old superstition as to the 13th of the month playing some part in the talk of the street.

There were some reports that the gen eral mercantile and commercial situation does not show as favorable an outlook as it did a few months ago an these attracted considerable attention, as Wall street is always very sensitive to any change in general business conplayed a considerable part in framing pany. the general sentiment.

The advance in the money rate was attributed to preparations by the banks to meet heavy payments coming due within the next few days. These include, besides the regular interest payments due on March 15, an installment railroad note issue of $60,000,000, and | drowned. $15,000,000 for the Standard Oil dividend. When the high rate was reached there was considerable lending in the New York market by out-of-town banks, and this lending played a considerable part in the lower quotations for call money during the afternoon.

Inquiry after the close of the mar ket developed nothing to show that any of the Stock Exchange houses was it trouble. It was said that brokers had had plenty of time to prepare for the situation by calling on their customers for margins and that the losses shown at yesterday's low figures were suffered by those who had held on to their stocks and not by the brokers.

At the low prices of the day the more important declines from Tuesday night's close were as follows: Reading 121-8, Union Pacific 111-4, Great Northern 12, Northern Pacific 11. Amalgamated Copper 71/2, Chicago and Northwestern 71-4, Canadian Pacific 71/2, St. Paul 7, Sugar 6, Baltimore and Ohio 53-8, Atchison 51/2, Southern Pacific 51-4, Colorado Southern 43-8, Pennsylvania 35-8.

English Voters Call a Halt as to Municipal Ownership.

The most dramatic incident in the istory of municipal government occurred on Nov. 1, when the greatest city in the world reversed its policy in regard to municipal ownership by an overwhelming vote. For several years the "Progressives," as the municipal ownership party called itself, have controlled the London county council, which has charge of most matters affecting the city as a whole, and of seventeen of the twenty-eight borough councils, which deal with local matters, one borough being nonpartisan. After the borough council election on Nov. 1 this party was left in control of but two boroughs, having elected with their allies, the so called "Laborites," only 292 councilmen out of 1,362. That it the operation. Williams. Tel. 279-3. was a popular and not a class victory s shown by the fact that the "Progressives" were beaten worst in the boroughs where the heaviest vote was Such a political upheaval must have an adequate cause, and the cause in the case was the rapid increase in taxes, and consequently rents, which resulted from the taking over by the city or its boroughs of tramways, electric lighting, waterworks, etc., the building of luxurious public baths and other expenditures of public money out of all proportion to the results attained. This lavishness had raised the borough tax rate in the boroughs controlled by the "Progressives" 40 per cent above the rate in the other boroughs. A few examples of the losses incurred may be of interest."

In Islington the street lighting costs as in the boroughs lighted by private companies. In St. Pancras the cost is nearly as high, while in Woolwich, in current year is expected to reach $50,-000. In Bermondsey and Southwark the councils have refused an offer from a private company to light the streets at half the cost under municipal management. The same condition exists in commercial lighting, for the Aerated Bread company found that the bills for its depots in municipally lighted boroughs were 116 per cent higher than the rate paid to private companies. In Shoreditch the palatial public baths, built within a stone's throw of baths erected by a local philanthropist, are now closed for lack of custom, though interest must still be paid on the investment and the borough has lost the taxes previously paid by the property. And in Poplar each bath taken in the public baths costs the taxpayers 20 cents in addition to what the bather pays for his ticket.

In this borough cases were proved in which outdoor relief was given to the stove at the lighthouse. familles earning $500 a year, equivapendent wage earner.

The Pall Mall Gazette sums the situation up by saying: "You may confiscate capital, but you cannot confiscate that mighty force of self interest which belongs to the great generating station of all human activity. Municipal trading, conducted by amateurs and financed out of an open and bottomless pocket, can never be more than a weak and false imitation of real commerce and industry. If the city council collected its capital by the issue of prospectuses to the public, who would invest a sovereign on the faith of its promises or the reputation of its directing committees? And if the ratepayer is wise he will take care that his money does not find its way by compulsion into speculations where he most assuredly would never place it by choice."

Taxes Rising In Scotland. Consul Rufus Fleming of Edinburgh calls attention in a recent report to the fact that during the ten years ending 1904 local taxation per capita has increased more than 42 per cent. He further states that taxes are especially high in Glasgow, Aberdeen and Paisley, the three Scotch cities that have gone deepest into municipal ownership, and adds that "the conclusion seems unavoidable that, whatever benefits municipal ownership may have bestowed upon the masses, it has not tended to lighten the burdens of taxpayers." This is emphasized by the added fact that during the last fiscal year of the series the running expenses of all of the revenue producing municipal undertakings of Scotland exceeded the receipts by 10 per cent in spite of the ridiculously small depreciation allowance and the transferring to other accounts of large items of expense.

And then a long, scraping, breath less interval. A halt, a shock, and, pushing a wall of sand before her, the Freedom plunged into deep water.

There was no cheering. A subdued murmur, like a sigh, came from the Does that look" crowd on her deck. Men drew sooty arms across wet foreheads and looked at each other without speaking. Could the tiny craft do it in that wind and sea? If not, then the barge would almost surely drag her anchors, would strike again, and then-well, then all the work and the triumph so nearly won would count for nothing.

They brought her up to her anchors out in the middle of the channel. There they waited for the tide to turn. nearly three times as much per mile | The silence was heartbreaking. Bradley stood by the back door of the big shanty, looking out at the storm. The first sickly light of morning was streaking the dingy, tumbled sky. Inside the building the men SKINNER, Room 28. were keeping up their celebration. No one had suggested turning in.

Captain Titcomb came around the corner. "There you are, hey!" he exclaimed, with a breath of relief. "Blamed if I didn't begin to be afraid you'd tumbled overboard. Well, son, we did it, by crimus! ### A Move in the Right Direction

Representative Luce, speaking at he Legislative hearing on Thursday at the State House in favor of his bill authorizing the state to retain that part of the steam railroad tax which has heretofore been paid to the towns and cities in which the shareholders reside, said:

"You find in these smaller places a high tax rate and a high valuation, but in some places where the state tax is distributed largely you find a low rate and their valuation is kept down to keep the proportion of state tax law. Everywhere the state are turning to corporate taxes as a means of rasiing state revenue, and this is portion of the value of the corporate franchise is due to the state

"The present system of distributing the corporate tax is inequitable and arbitrary. About one-eleventh of the these rights of way and the structures taxes. ### Fore Rivers to Play for Cup

Once more the Fore River football team is scheduled to play on Saturday with the Pan Americans at Pawtucket in semi finals for the New England Soccer cup.

The managers of the soccer football teams in the New England League have received notices that a meeting of the eague will be held in Pawtucket Sunday afternoon. At this time an attempt will be made to do something in regard to the New England League schedule which has considerable interference from the weather man. There are many games yet to be played and there is not sufficient time before the opening of the baseball season for the schedule of games to be completed. The Pan-Americans have three games to play with the Howard-Bulloughs alone. The Rovers are scheduled to play the Howard-Bulloughs on the athletic grounds in Fall River Saturday afernoon in a New England league game.

Dowie Will Return "More Beautiful and More Terrible"

*DOGS OF HELL" WARNED

"Prophet" Prepared His Own Funeral Sermon Six Weeks Before Death .- Three Leading Zionists Have Died Recently

Chicago, March 15 .- Six weeks be fore he died, John A. Dowie, founder of Zion City and first apostle of the Christian Catholic church, prepared his own funeral sermon. Yesterday he was buried at Mount Hope cemetery, Zion City, but his last message was not read ****************** to his followers

> Leaders of the religious community founded by Dowie decided that the sermon would still further estrange the factions into which the believers in Dowleism are divided. The watchword of the faith is "Peace be with thee" and Dowie's message from the grave was not of a character to make this salutation general. In place of the posthumous sermon, Judge Barnes, felong friend of Dowie and an overseer of the church, preached a simple ser non in which he extolled the dead man. Although the sermon prepared by Dowie was not used in the funeral rites it was given out for publication. The document makes it plain that Dowie did not forgive his enemies before he died, as he lashes those who ousted him from control as "dogs of hell," saying:

"I shall return, and with ruthless hand shall I exterminate the vipers and turn to strike ye down. I shall return in another form, brighter and more beautiful and ten thousand times more Perhaps the thought of Speaker Cole terrible, to cut ye off in the midst of

CLOSE TO A PANIG

Further Drastic Drop on the New York Stock Exchange

SHARP BREAK IN PRICES

Close to Three Million Shares Changed Hands During the Scramble--The Government Relieves the Situation

New York, March 15 .- Under the ef. fect of 25 percent money and the general pessimistic sentiment developed as a result of the recent heavy decline, trading on the stock market yesterday reached a stage of demoralization bor dering on actual panic. The worst period of the day was shortly before the closing of the Stock Exchange session, although there was an extremely violent falling off in prices between 12 and 1

New low records for the year, and in ome instances for several years, were stablished in the active speculative isues under precipitate selling, with the market apparently without buying orders other than those of the bears to cover their short contracts and realize their profits. The closing quotations showed the following declines for the day in leading shares

Amalgamated Copper, 173-4; Amercan Smelting, 161-8; St. Paul, 131-4; Consolidated Gas, 7: Delaware and Hudson, 191-4; General Electric, 91/2. Great Northern, 51/2; Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie, 67-8; Missouri Pacific, 71-4; National Lead 123-4; New York Central, 6; Norfolk and Western, 714; Northern Pacific, 8; Pennsylvania Railroad, 61/2; Reading, 203-4; Southern Pacific, 53-4; Twin City Rapid Transit, 5; Union Pacific. 203-4; United States Steel, 31-8, and United States Steel pfd, 4.

In most instances even these figures do not represent the extreme declines. as Reading closed 2 points above the owest and Union Pacific 41/2 above the owest of the day. The total sales were ,719,906, the largest total on any day n the recent trading. The announce nent of government relief for the noney situation was not received until fter the close of the Stock Exchange.

Other than high money and the genrally bearish feeling there was nothing to account for the market's weakness unless it was the nervousness of stock market traders as to the attitude of the national administration toward the railroad corporations.

Rumors in circulation during the afernoon that government relief might be looked for, official confirmations of which were received after the close were without effect on the stock market

After the close of the market con siderable relief was expressed that there had been no failures during the day and that of all the rumors in the street there seemed to be none affecting the solvency of any banking or brokerage house of any importance. The banks reported that their demands for further collateral from brokers had met with prompt response and that so far as they were concerned their position as to the stock market was satis-

Relief From Washington

Washington, March 15 .- For more than 48 hours the White House and treasury department were flooded with appeals to take some action to avert the "threatened disaster" in the financial and railroad world. It can be stated authoritatively, however, that President Roosevelt will not change his attitude toward the railroads, though it is admitted that the administration has no ntention of entering on an extremely radical attack on the railway corpora-

Although believing that the condi-

ions in New York are due to nothing for which the administration is responsible, the president believes he has done everything that consistently can be done to give relief to the money market. Orders issued by Secretary Cortelyou prevent the withdrawal of large sums belonging to the government and provides the way for the use of additional funds in Wall street. One order put a quietus on the rumor that the treasury was to immediately withdraw the additional deposits put in the banks last October, amounting to $30,000,000. Yesterday Cortelyou issued another order that the $18,000,000 additional currency taken out by the national banks could be held by them without substituting federal for the state and other bonds with which it is now secured. This will prevent a sharp demand for government bonds for deposit as se-

Boston, March 15 .- In eloquent tribute in the influence of Wall street on the Boston Stock Exchange panicky conditions prevailed in the local market for copper stocks yesterday. Trading was in heavy volume and brokers were flooded with orders to sell. Prices broke sharply and declines continued throughout the day. Rates on money rose generally to 10 percent on copper

Alienist F.int Says That Thaw Is Liable For Murder

KNEW ACT WAS WRONG

Admission of Hummel Testimony by Defense May Mean That Jerome Will Be Called to the Witness Stand by Delmas

New York, March 15.-Answering precisely the same hypothetical question in response to which the alienists of the defense declared that Harry K. Thaw was suffering from a mind so unsound that he did not know the nature or quality of his act when he shot and killed Stanford White, Dr. Austin Flint, the first expert called yesterday by District Attorney Jerome in rebuttal, declared it to be his opinion as a scientific man that Thaw positively did know the nature and quality of his act and knew that the act was wrong. When court adjourned for the day Mr. Delmas had not begun his cross-examination of Flint, who is the first of six alienists to be called by Jerome

After repeating to Flint the same question which Delmas put to the experts for the defense and having him declare that Thaw was sane on the assumption of the facts stated therein, Jerome had read to the witness the prosecution's hypothetical question, which contained some 15,000 words and which required 78 minutes in the reading. Flint again said without qualification that Thaw knew his act was wrong and is therefore liable for murder in the first degree under the statutes of the state of New York.

Mr. Delmas indicated that he would eross-examine each expert searchingly. Jerome's sanguine prophecy that the by tonight has been abandoned, and those concerned in the case again look to April 1 as the earliest moment of hatchet found near her. closing the long-drawn-out trial.

Abraham Hummel was on the stand again yesterday and before Delmas could object to a question put to him by Jerome the witness had got into the testimony that Evelyn Nesbit had told him that she had informed Harry Thaw in Paris in 1903 that Stanford White rositively had not drugged or betraved her. Delmas at first moved to have the question and answer stricken from the record, but as the district attorney seemed about to consent to this plea the counsel for the defense insisted that the answer stand.

Hummel's further testimony was takes the stand to testify as to whether ney when she made the statements to are not known. The police have been in an affidavit.

Both Jerome and Delmas were irritable and had frequent clashes. The strain of the trial is palpably telling upon everyone connected with it.

It is reported that Jerome may be called to the witness stand in sur-rebuttal by the defense. The purpose, it is said, is to question Jerome as to certain actions laying against Abraham Hummel. This move is taken as a reason for the defense allowing much of the Hummel testimony to stand yester-

Rheumatism Badly Cripples A Baldwinsville Farmer

URIC-O Quickly Cured Him. Treated 2 Years With a High-Priced Physician With No Success.

Mr. Frank Howe, a prominent farmer in the town of Van Buren, says: "I visited the pest physician in Syracuse, who treated me for about two years for rheumatism. I spent in that time several hundred dollars and sermed to grow worse instead of better each lay. Being on crutches and forced to drive to the train and hobbling to the doctor's discoverance very discoveraging let alone the cent bottle, took it home and used it that day as directed.

"Those fearful sciatic pains left me, my blood seemed to let loose and flow freely. I felt different and knew the next morning I had found a cure, as I slept and rested well all that night, something I had not done before in two years. I used in all six bottles of Uric-O and have never felt a return of the disease, had no use for crutches or cane since the first day's treatment. I know that Uric-O does not contain Alcohol or opiates and that it works in a wonderful way on the blood, bladder, muscles and kidneys and is the only way on earth to cure rheumatism."

Baldwinsville, N. Y., R. F. D.

Uric-O is sold at seventy-five cents per bottle, is a liquid internal treatment good for rheumatism only, and will cure each and every case of rheumatism if properly used. Samples and circulars will be cheerfully sent free by addressing The Smith Drug Company, Syracuse, N. Y.

Uric-O is sold in Quincy by E. J. Murphy, who highly recommends the remedy.

STORY OF HUMMEL

HIS RECORD IS EXPOSED

Endictments Pending Against Lawyer Who Acted as Counsel For Evelyn Nesbit, and to Whom, He Testifies, She Told "That Thaw Had Beaten Her

New York, Siarch 16 .- With Attormey Delmas fighting him every inch of The way, District Attorney arrome yesterday secured from Abraham Hummel This complete story as to the affidavit which it is alleged Evelyn Thaw made In the lawyer's office in 1903, charging Harry K. Thaw with beating her when she had told him that the statement that Stanford White had drugged and wined her was not true.

The Hummel testimony came during the afternoon session of the trial, and Mr. Delmas, first objecting broadly to all of Hummel's testimony, offered a specific objection to each question put by the prosecutor. Justice Fitzgerald soverruled every objection and Delmas Bad exceptions to the rulings noted on Evelyn Thaw herself was called to the stand in the effort of the defense to keep Hummel silent. She declared whe had called upon Hummel in his pro-Cessional capacity and to seek his adwice as a lawyer. Stanford White had taken her to the lawyer's office with that end in view.

Justice Fitzgerald declared that, adunitting the proposition of counsel and client, Mrs. Thaw had herself waived the professional privilege by taking the stand early in the case and giving her version of what transpired at Hummel's office. The bond of secrecy, once reunoved, could not be re-established.

Unsuccessful in blocking Hummel's, testimony, Delmas, in cross-examining the witness, brought from his own lips the fact that he had been convicted in December, 1905, in the very courtroom charge of conspiracy. He further adentited that two indictments for subernation of perjury are pending against 12im, and that one of these indictments charges him with having caused a false affidavit to be made

Mr. Jerome protested against the witness "being dragged through the faumiliating details" of his trial, but Eftzgerald declined to interfere.

Then Delmas asked Hummel if he frad not heard the speech made by District Attorney Jerome when sentence was about to be imposed, when Jerome wrged the court to pass the longest and Beaviest sentence within its power upwm Hummel, as he "had been a menace to the community for 20 years."

Justice Fitzgerald finally sustained an objection to this and Hummel was fact compelled to answer.

Mr. Delmas wanted to know if Hummel had had any more recent business transactions with the district attorney and asked if Jerome was pressing the charges against him. "He certainly is," said the witness with spirit.

Hummel's testimony in brief was to the effect that Evelyn Nesbit told him. among other things, that Thaw had beaten her when she refused to sign papers he had prepared charging Stanford White with her betrayal; that he had dictated a statement to a stenographer in the presence of Miss Nesbit and Stanford White; that he gave the affidavit to two of his clerks to take to Miss Nesbit in the Madison Square Garden tower and that the next day the paper was returned to him with Evelyn Nesbit's signature attached.

He kept the affidavit until Miss Nesbit called one day and demanded it. He refused to give it to her and turned it over to White, advising him to have a photographic copy made. Humme first said he had himself arranged for photographing the affidavit and that the photographer came to his office. A Lew moments later, however, he completely contradicted himself on this point, saying he did not make the arwangements; that the photographer did and that he had mot so testified. After White had the copy made he returned the original of Whe affidavit, the photographic negatives send the prints made from the negatives and she comes cringing, trembling and with more talent fail applies to other Mo Hummel, who swore yesterday that the subsequently delivered the original anfidavit to Miss Nesbit and has not seen it since. District Attorney Jerome completed his medical testimony during the mornang session. Delmas declining to crossexamine any of the experts. Dr. Flint. who testified Thursday, formally was excused, and then five other alienists were called, one after another. Each seaid he was familiar with the hypothetical questions framed by the de Tense and by the prosecution. Basing wheir opinions on these questions, they will declared that Thaw on the night he what and killed Stanford White knew the nature and quality of his act and Ernew that the act was wrong.

Cleaning Brass.

Here is the government recipe for cleaning brass. It is used in all the United States arsenals and is said to be the best in the world. This is the recipe: One part of common nitric acid to half a part of sulphuric acid. Keep the mixture in a stone jar, having ready a pailful of fresh water and a boxful of sawdust. Articles to be cleaned must first be dipped in the acid mixture, then into the water and dried with sawdust. This process of cleaning will change the brass immediately to a brilliant color. If the metal is greasy-as candlesticks would bedip first in a strong solution of potash and soda, in warm weather. This cuts the grease and permits the acid to work. This method of cleaning brass is

WINDOW PLANT CULTURE.

How to Promote a Good Growth Indoors.

In caring for window plants be sure that plants in hanging pots and baskets get all the water they need, says a correspondent of the Home Magazine. Because they are near the ceiling, where the temperature is much bigher than at the window sill, they will dry out much more rapidly than posed on all sides, and this accelerates evaporation. I have a method of keeping these plants well watered which works well. I take a small can or en and punch holes in the bottom of it. Make these small at first until you know just how much water is needed. Fiil these vessels and place them on the surface of the soil. Vines can be so trained as to hide them. Observe the effect carefully. If not enough water passes through to keep the soil moist. you will know that larger holes are necessary. This matter can be regulated to a nicety with a little experimenting. Fill the cup each morning. A treatment of this kind will enable any one to grow fine hanging plants.

Do not overwater plants at this season of the year. Give just enough to keep the soil moist throughout. Let the surface take on a dry look before more water is applied. Evaporation takes place slowly, and few plants are growing actively enough to make use of a great deal of water. An oversupply has a tendency to sour the soil thus bringing about a diseased condition of the roots.

And be very careful about the use of fertilizers. If a plant is not growing, it needs no fertilizer, because it is not in a condition to make use of it. Make this a rule and never vary from it: Fertilize only plants which are already in or have begun active growth. To feed a dormant plant strong, rich food is to injure it just as surely as food of that sort will injure a stomach whose digestive organs are not in proper shape to assimilate it.

If a plant has begun to grow, a weak application is in order. Let it increase in strength as the plant develops. Never use enough to force a rapid growth, for that means weakness from which there is almost sure to be reaction sooner or later.

Do not let the plants in the window garden become one sided by being drawn toward the light. Turn them about, at least once a week, that all sides of them may have an equal chance at the sunshine. It is a good plan to arrange the smaller ones in front near the glass and the larger ones at the sides and rear. This enables all of them to get the benefit of the light, as they would not if the larger ones were given places near the glass with the smaller ones tucked into the shady places between.

How to Brighten a Dark Room.

No one wants a gloomy room, but what to do with such a room is a probem that has bothered more than one. Many a woman has foregone inside curtains and even sash curtains to allow all the light possible to come into is not so much the light that one needs as the sunshine, and when this cannot be had one must make it, or, rather, get the effect of it, says the Chicago News. A room with a northern aspect should not, of course, be papered in blue or some such cold color, but rather in rich warm tones of olive green, brown, red or yellow. If the room gets but little light and sunshine, yellow should be the choice. Not only should there be yellow on the walls, but also on the ceiling, for the sake of reflection. A pretty treatment is to have a light pumpkin yellow on the walls as far as the picture molding and a lighter shade above this and on the ceiling. Then yellow silk sash curtains, pulled back, tend to make a room sunny.

How to Sleep In a Blanket. There are a great many very compe tent treatises telling you how to build your fire, pitch your tent and all the rest of it, says Stewart Edward White in his article entitled "Camp Equipment" in the Outing Magazine for February. I have never seen described the woodman's method of using a blanket, however. Lie flat on your back; spread the blanket over you. Now raise your legs rigid from the hips, the blanket of course draping over them. In two swift motions tuck first one edge under your legs from right to left, then the second edge under from left to right and over the first edge. Lower your legs, wrap up your shoulders and go to sleep. If you roll over, one edge will unwind, but the other will tighten

How to Wash Chamois Gloves. Make a strong suds with white castile soap or any other kind of good white soap, and to two quarts of suds add one teaspoonful of borax dissolved in half a pint of hot water. When the suds are cold, put the gloves on the hands and wash them slowly and gently, as if washing the hands. Rinse in the same manner in clear water, then draw off gently and hang in a shady place to dry, drawing them into shape when they are almost dry. When per fectly dry, rub between the hands to soften them.

How to Restore a Lost Voice.

When the voice goes, from the effects of a bad cold or much speaking, a pleasant and simple remedy is made by beating up the white of an egg and adding to it the juice of a lemon and enough sugar to make it palatable. Take a spoonful from time to time. It will effect a speedy cure.

How to Polish Brass Beds. For polishing brass beds there is no more reliable medium than the old fashioned whiting wet with household ammonia, which is less apt to scratch than any of the patent sand soaps.

BRYAN AT BOSTON

Says That Democratic Octr ne Has Been Vindicated

TALKS OF VOTE OF 1896

Thinks He Would Have Been Elected It Vote Was Not Purchased--Silent on Government Ownership or Railroads

Boston, March 16 .- William J. Bryan addressed a gathering of 400 Demograts at the banquet given at the Quincy house under the direction of the Democratic state committee, the principal theme of the Nebraskan's speech being an argument to show that the ideas of the party in 1896 have been viadicated and that President Roosevell has adopted Democratic principles.

He carefully avoided the acceptance of an invitation which was practically handed out to him by George Fred Williams to be the standard-bearer of the party in 1908, and modestly declared that the praise that had been showered on him for the past 10 years is really due to those who showed such heroism in the face of tremendous influences in voting for him and in promoting the tenets of the Democracy.

"I think," asserted Bryan, "that if we had had a vote unpurchased and unintimidated in 1896, I would have been elected by an overwhelming majority. We had against us the largest corporation fund that was ever used in a campaign. I would a thousand times rather be a defeated candidate with the following I had than hold an office and have to thank corruption and intimidation. In spite of all, I am proud of the heroism that was shown. My part was pleasant, for it was a great bonor to be a candidate, whether I won or lost. It is better to have run and lost than never to have run at all." No one rejoiced more than he in the vindication that has come to Democratic ideas, for dearer to him than any office was the triumph of the things for which they had been fighting.

"And I rejoice so much," said Bryan "that I never lose an opportunity to thank the president for what he has done. The president is one of my opponents, but it is part of patriotism to commend the right, no matter who presents it. It is good politics as well as patriotism to endorse the president when he does things that are right. I do not know what the president's attitude will be in the coming campaign, but it is certain that he cannot take back what he has said about our ideas.

Contrary to expectation, Bryan did not go into the question of the government ownership of railroads as enun clated by him in his Madison Square Garden address of several months ago: in the main the speech was akin to the old-time speeches in defense of Demoeratic doctrines which saw birth when dency at Chicago in 1896. Mr. Bryan detailed specific legislation in which the president assayed reform, but in which he charged that the party had not helped him, referring particularly to the railroad legislation and to the anti-trust measures. He expressed the opinion that if he had been president the slump in stocks would have been laid on his shoulders, and yet now no one is blamed but the specula-

Taking up the tariff. Bryan asserted that the beneficiaries of the high tariff will never reform the tariff, but he believed that there was more sentiment today for tariff reform than ever before. He believed, he said, that the Democratic party had been vindicated also on the question of imperialism. He was convinced, he said, that the Philippine people not only have the right to govern themselves, but they have the ca-

The president's largest service, Bryan thought, was in calling attention to the swollen fortunes and to their menace to the nation's welfare. In conclusion he said that the people are seeing that one effect of plutocracy is to lower the standard of honesty and purity. He believed that these men in high finance were the real menace, and conceived it the function of the Democratic party to separate these men from the men who have got money for which they have given service.

Stranding Caused Loss of $125,000

Boston, March 16.—Clyde liner Onondaga, stranded on Chatham beach two months ago, was towed into Boston harbor yesterday. From an exterior point of view she showed surprising little effect from the sea battering to which she had been subjected. She will go into drydock for a survey and repairs, probably requiring new plates. The heavy losses will not come so much on the repairs to the steamer as in the sums spent in the work of getting her free, the loss on cargo, the money spent in lightering part of the cargo at the beach and shipping it off overland, the expenses of the men engaged in the work there, and various incidentals. Everything considered, the loss by the steamer's stranding foots up approximately to $125,000. rately to $125,000.

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato can dollar-not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow

(Legal Title - Incorporated 1892.)

The Directors of the Young Men's Christian Association of Quincy, with a firmfaith in the great value of the work which is being done for the young men and boys of our city, make their appeal for donations and bequests toward paying the mortgage indebtedness on the new Association Building. When the building is free from debt it will serve as an Endownent, as there is a goodly income from the dormitories.

Should the Donor prefer, such sum as might be given could be used as an Endowment for an educa-tional class or classes, the Boys Department, or as a special fund in other ways, and could be designated with the name of the Donor. ### CONFERENCE HITCH

Realization That Visit to White House Would Cause No Change In Roosevelt's Policy Toward A Railroad Rate Regulation

Washington, March 16.-President Roosevelt has received no word from the four railroad presidents who were suggested by J. P. Morgan, on the eve of his departure for Europe, as conferees to discuss with the president the railroad situation and to urge Mr. Roosevelt to take some action to "allay the public anxiety" as to the administration's attitude. The president will not invite Messrs. McCrear, Hughitt, Newman and Mellen to the White House, but if they ask for an appointment the president will be glad to receive them.

The embarrassing position in which the railroad magnates have been placed is due to the fact that Morgan arranged the conference with the president without consulting the officials for whom he asked the audience. It is known that within the last few days President McCrea of the Pennsylvania communicated with the president and made it clear that, while he did not want to show any discourtesy, he did not want to be placed in the attitude of rushing to the White House to make a plea for executive clemency. "The president's policies have been outlined so clearly in his messages to congress and in public addresses," said a member of the interstate commerce commission, "that it is possible that the railroad presidents have decided that their visit to the White House would be useless. The administration has no desire to punish the 'good railroad corporations' simply because the 'bad railroad corporations' refuse to abide by the laws regulating the common carriers."

It is considered inconceivable that such intelligent men as the railroad presidents named by Morgan could have so misunderstood the present occupant of the White House as to believe for one moment that a panic in Wall street or even general anxiety throughout the business world about the financial situation of the country would induce the president to let up in his campaign for further railroad legislation.

It is even more impossible to believe that these same men are biding their time in the expectation that the president will take the initiative and invite them to a conference. He will do nothing of the kind. He is ready to receive any of the railroad presidents collectively or individually and talk over the situation with them just as he receives hundreds of callers every day and dis- from $30,000 to $200,000. not be stated too emphatically that the president is not seeking the co-operation of the railroads.

Railroad Men Not In Accord

New York, March 16.-Messrs. Mc-Crea, Mellen, Hughitt and Newman, the four railroad presidents for whose visit to the White House J. P. Morgan arranged before his departure for Eucope, held a conference at the Grand Central station in this city. The whole situation was canvassed with great care and it was finally decided not to injured. go to Washington.

It is understood that the reason for this conclusion was that the four men involved did not feel that they had any proper mandate from the railroad corporations to represent them. They felt that they could not assume the position of a self-constituted commission to formulate or present the views of the | ians. hundreds of railroad companies which in turn, are owned by millions of shareholders. They recognized that the railroad managers of the United States are not themselves in perfect accord and that, until some method could be adopted for securing a consensus or opinion, a visit to the president would be idle. At the conclusion of the conference the various presidents left for their homes.

STOCK FLURRY IS OVER

scene was enacted on the floor of the Stock Exchange yesterday just after the market closed strong and buoyant, in sharp contrast to the demoralization of Thursday. Brokers cheered loudly in demonstration of their relief and satisfaction at the change in speculative sentiment from the panicky feeling. Congratulations were exchanged ill around the room on the fact that he members of the exchange had sucressfully passed through the severe declines in prices of the past two weeks. A feature of the day was a statement by William Rockefeller, as follows:

"The present astonishing decline in the values of securities is as much a mystery to me as it can be to any one. I know that public confidence has been disturbed, but I do not think that it should have been in any such measure as to justify so great a fall in prices With genuine overwhelming prosperity throughout the country, there certainly seems no adequate reason for it.

"As for myself and my associates our faith in the future of the country has not been shaken at all, and we have been buyers and not sellers throughout the past 10 days. Throughout the present trouble we have done and are doing all we can to restore and maintain public confidence. It is very clear to me that the people who are throwing away their securities at panic prices will sorely regret it within the next six

A clergyman, anxious to introduce some new hymn books, directed the clerk to give out a notice in church in regard to them immediately after the sermon. The clerk, however, had a notice of his own to give with reference to the baptism of infants. Accordingly at the close of the sermon he announced: "All those who have children they wish baptized please send in their names at once." The clergyman, who was deaf, supposing that the clerk was giving out the hymn book notice, immediately arose and said, "And I want to say for the benefit of those who haven't any that they may be obtained from me any day between 3 and 4 o'clock; the ordinary little ones at 15 cents and special ones with red backs at 25 cents each."

THE CRY OF THE DREAMER. I am tired of planning and toiling In the crowded hives of men; Heart weary of building and spoiling, And spoiling and building again.

And I long for the dear old river Where I dreamed my youth away, For a dreamer lives forever, And a toiler dies in a day

I am sick of the showy seeming Of a life that is half a lie, Of the faces lined with scheming In the throng that hurries by; From the sleepless thoughts' endeavor I would go where the children play,

I can feel no pride, but pity For the burdens the rich endure; There is nothing sweet in the city But the patient lives of the poor Oh, the little hands too skillful And the child-mind choked with weeds

And a thinker dies in a day

The daughter's heart grown willful And the father's heart that bleeds! No. no! From the street's rude bustle,

From trophies of mart and stage, I would fly to the woods' low rustle And the meadow's kindly page.

Let me dream as of old by the river

And be loved for the dream alway,

For a dreamer lives forever,
And a toiler dies in a day.

—John Boyle O'Reilly.

Two of a Kind. It was a sleighing party. One of the seats contained two gentlemen and one lady, the lady sitting in the middle. After a time the gentleman on the right passed his hand into the lady's muff, and the lady withdrew her right hand. At the same time the gentleman on the left passed his hand into the muff, and the lady withdrew her left hand. There were then some indications of an athletic contest, a test ing there. I think if you preach them of gripping power, inside of the muff, and later the lady, raising her two hands, said, "It is very selfish of you two to take my muff when my hands | The Wicked Do Not Laugh. are freezing!"

The Value of Laughter.

"I find nonsense singularly refreshing," said "alleyrand. There is good philosophy in the saying, "Laugh and of losing their dignity. The Spanish grow fat." Laughter begins in the lungs and diaphragm, setting the liver. stomach an other internal organs into a quick, jelly-like vibration which Speaking of Floods. gives a pleasant sensation and exercise almost equal to horseback riding. The tened patiently to the very long story heart beats faster, sends the blood a youthful veteran of the Spanish war bounding through the body, increases the respiration and gives warmth and glow to the whole system. Laughter brightens the eye, increases the perspiration, expands the chest, forces the poisoned air from the least used lung cells and tends to restore that exquisite poise or balance which we call health and which results from the harmonious action of all the functions of the body. This delicate poise, which may be destroyed by a sleepless night, a piece of bad news, by grief or anxiety, is often wholly restored by a good hearty laugh. A jolly physician is often better than all his pills.-O. S. Marden.

A Pity It Is.

In his old age Washington Irving said, "What a pity it is when we have grown old we could not turn round and a fellow who had been there a long grow young again and die of cutting our teeth."

On Falling In Love.

Falling in love is the one illogical adventure, the one thing of which we are tempted to think as supernatural, in our trite and reasonable world. The effect is out of all proportion to the cause. Two persons, neither of them, it may be, very amiable or very beautiful, meet, speak a little and look a little into each other's eyes. That has been done a dozen or so of times in the experience of either with no great and fascinating. As soon as the mysresult. But on this occasion all is different. They fall at once into that state in which another person becomes to us the very gist and center point of God's creation and demolishes our laborious theories with a smile; in which our ideas are so bound up with the one cares of our own person become so sort of charity to everybody that was many acts of devotion, and the love of | manifested by a gentleman who arrivlife itself is translated into a wish to ed at home at 2 o'clock in the morning remain in the same world with so from the club and was feeling so perprecious and desirable a fellow crea- feetly satisfied with life, so happy and ances look on in stupor and ask each house weaving, weaving, weaving other, with almost passionate empha- around. broken with a maul. Roquefort cheese is of a dull white color, except in spots, where mortification has set in. Some claim it to be inhabited, but this is not true. Even the intrepid and mephitic microbe flees from it as we flee from a pestilence. We have seen Limburger cheese strong enough to shoulder a two bushel sack of wheat, but a piece of Roquefort the size of a dice can carry an election, Limburger is a rose geranium when eompared with Roquefort. There is as much difference between them as there is between the pur of a kitten and the roar of a lion. A man who will eat it is an open sepulcher and should be quarantined or driven into the wilder. ness and never again allowed to look into the face of a human being.

Cunard, the Whittler.

Sam Cunard, the whittling Scotch lad of Glasgow, wrought out many odd inventions with brain and jackknife, but they brought neither honor nor profit until he was consulted by Burns & McIvor, who wished to increase their facilities for carrying foreign mails. The model of a steamship which Sam whittled out for them was carefully copied for the first vessel of the great Cunard line and became the standard type for all the magnificent ships since constructed by the firm. When Samuel Cunard was knighted, he did not forget that he owed his honors and his wealth to conscientious whittling.-"Pushing to the Front."

Preaching In Labrador.

An old missionary who had been many years in Labrador was at length compelled to return, his influence all gone and his mission entirely fruitless. A young man was appointed in his place, and before he went to his assignment he thought he would visit his venerable predecessor and learn from him the cause of his trouble in the land of icebergs. The old man received him very cordially.

"My. venerable brother," said the young man, "I wish you to tell me the cause of your difficulty that I may avert a like failure.

"My young friend," said the old missionary, laying his hand on his brother's arm; "this was the rock I split on. I preached to those untutored savages a hell that was hot, and they rather liked the idea of goa hell 50 degrees colder than Labrador you will drive them all to repentance."

The envious, wicked and malevolent rarely laugh, because they are impregnated with bile and are therefore morose. The haughty, the vain and the awkward also laugh very little, for fear people, proverbially grave, are a good example.-Louis Mann.

A veteran of the war of 1861 had lis him unmoved. "Just after the Johnstown flood, my boy," said he, "there was a man in the next world who went about telling everybody how that Johnstown affair had sent him where he was.

"His listeners hung on his words-all of them, that is, except a quiet looking little man who seemed so little impressed that every time the Johnstown man got through he merely looked bored and said, 'Oh, shucks!'

"The Johnstown man got tired of it after awhile. It got on his nerves to have anybody act as if what happened at Johnstown wasn't of any importance. No matter how he told his story, the quiet looking little man merely said, 'Oh, shucks!'

"At last the Johnstown man spoke to time about it.

"'Say,' said he, 'who is that little man who keeps saving "Shucks" "'Who?' said the man who had been there a long time. 'Do you mean the fellow over there? Why, his name's Noah.'

Thoughts of Amiel. The more a man loves the more he must suffer. Beauty refreshes and strengthens one like some miraculous food.

Love must always remain alluring tery is gone the attraction dies.

"Not for weeks," emphatically.

Her look of anxiety deepened. "What is your father's business, Miss Hall?"

"He is manager of the local telephone system and attends personally to repairing and keeping up the line." "That means a great deal of hard work?" sympathetically.

"Yes, particularly in the winter. The circuit comprises nearly 300 phones, and the line extends out into the country in all directions."

"Discontinue it in the winter." un-

"If possible, keep from your father all anxiety concerning the business. I fear nervous prostration in his case."

During his round of calls Dr. Blyth thought often of the beautiful girl with the sweet, grave voice. He was a stranger in Lindsey and was taking autumn weather? up his uncle's practice.

"Fred Hall sick? That's too bad!" manage all right," with a country doctor's knowledge of his patient's affairs. "Mrs. Hall is strong and a good nurse. Fidelia understands the business thoroughly. Dr. Blyth was disappointed when several calls were made upon the sick manager without seeing Fidelia. She was constantly in his thoughts, and her lovely face seemed always before

"I think not," hopefully. "I hold his position as manager, and that encourages him. He has all confidence in my ability. "You are a brave girl," enthusias-

"I-I have the services of a very competent lineman."

"Where is your 'central?' " "Here." indicating the room adjoining. "I've always been father's hello girl," smiling brightly. On several succeeding calls the physician saw no one outside the sickroom but Edith Hall, a girl about thirteen, sharp of eye and of tongue, wholly un-

He recalled his uncle's remarks regarding Fidelia's knowledge of the

"Why?" sharply.

"Take your own lineman, for example, Miss Hall. Fancy a woman in his place-driving in all weathers about this sparsely settled country, climbing poles, sitting astride crossarms!" He shrugged his shoulders impatiently. "That's worse than being a doctor!"

Afterward he wondered if she would think he disapproved of what she was doing. He hoped not. He considered it entirely commendable for her to manage this business during her father's illness, and the office, being in her own home, made it seem essentially wom-

He promised himself that he would see her often. He had never before met a girl who seemed to answer so fully the requirements of his ideal.

But as the days went by his glimpses of Fidelia were tantalizingly infrequent. He disliked to inquire for her. He fancied there was malignant satisfaction in Edith's brief answer, "Outwith the lineman."

He ventured another evening call, but Fidelia was in charge of the switchboard, and opportunity for conversation was limited. His half conscious resentment toward the lineman prompted a question as to his competency. "You have to go HERBERT A. HAYDEN around with him all the time," he Fidelia blushed.

He loved the girl. He was sure of himself now. He would boldly make the opportunity to tell her so. She should choose between him and thathis adjectives would not have been ut tered in Fidelia's presence-lineman!

The thought of her was uppermost in his mind as he drove toward home on a cold, windy day in early spring. "Oh, if only I"- He checked the half uttered words, smiling tenderly as he dreamed a young man's beautiful day

Ahead of him in the lonely country road he saw a horse and buggy standing by a telephone pole. Instinctively

"The lineman!" he exclaimed interestedly. "I'm thankful Fidelia isn't with him this miserable day!" The man climbed from the crossarm and came down the pole with the swift ease acquired by constant practice. "He's a little chap," thought the doc tor. "Perhaps that's why Fidelia watches him so closely." The lineman sprang into the buggy, with his coil of wire and bag of tools, driving rapidly away.

"I'll overtake him and speak with him. I-I ought to be halfway decent to a little chap like that."

But the lineman's slim, boyish figure erect in the lighter vehicle, held the lines over an animal that sped along as if aware of his pursuit. Blyth caught a glimpse of a rounded red cheek under the lineman's close cap. A wild thought, a glimmering of the truth, sent the blood to his own cheeks, and he urged his horse on. He reached the driveway at Hall's in time to see the slim figure leap from the buggy and dash into the house.

The Sink.

All wood should be removed from a sink, according to Good Housekeeping, in the ruins of a snow fort which he and replaced with a porcelain sink, back and sides. That being too expensive, then use slate, zinc or copper. The materials should be absolutely impervious to moisture and without paint, which only wears off and leaves an untidy surface. Modern plumbers use iron instead of lead pipes almost entirely, and yet by care the old lead ones may continue to serve. Frequent between some men of the rural guard flushing of the sink is an absolute necessity for perfect freedom from danger. It should be done with very hot water, but followed by a little cold water, lest the heat cause a vacuum and 11.50 P. M. The Wrong Things Cheap. I remember the despairing cry of a woman looking hopelessly through her 12.15 P. M. wardrobe. "I should have been a better woman if I had been born with feathers!" How well I knew just what she meant! She was examining disconsolately a shabby white satin and 50 minutes past each hour until 11.20 P M dress-the kind of satin that betrays its plebeian cotton origin. "I wish were a guinea hen with respectable JOB PRINTING speckled feathers!" she cried as she gave a discouraged slam to the wardrobe door. "Then I wouldn't use up three-quarters of my intellect getting The weather will be fair in New Eng- the wrong things cheap!"-Mrs. John Lane in Fortnightly Review.

The station master beamed all over. With a shout which must have reached the village he awakened the sleeping man. In less than five minutes the Englishman and his luggage were stored away in the carriage. His ticket had been examined by the station master and smilingly accepted. There were more bows and salutes, and the earriage drove off. Guy Poynton leaned back among the moldy leather upholstery and smiled complacently.

"Easiest thing in the world to get on in a foreign country with a phrase book and your wits," he remarked to himself. "Jove, I am hungry!"

He drove into a village of half a doz. en houses or so, which reminded him of the pictured abodes of Noah and his brethren. An astonished innkeeper, whose morning attire apparently consisted of trousers, shirt and spectacles, tion Hancock and Chestnut streets-Rev. E. N. ushered him into a bare room with a Hardy, Ph. Guy turned if up in his phrase book and found that it meant interpreter. He devoted himself then to stimulating the preparations for breakfast.

The meal was ready at last. There were eggs and ham and veal, dark colored bread and coffee, sufficient for about a dozen people. The driver constituted himself host, and Guy, with a shout of laughter, sat down where he the same should not be granted was and ate. "Hullo!" Guy exclaimed. "You're English!"

"Yes, sir," the man answered. "Came over to train polo ponies for the Prince of Haepsburg. Not in any trouble, I hope, sir?"

"Not I," Guy answered cheerily. "Don't mind my going on with my breakfast, do you? What's it all about? Who's the gentleman with the fireman's helmet on, and what's he worrying about?"

"He is an officer of the police, sir, on special service," the man answered. "You have been reported for trespassing on the state railway this morn-

"Trespassing be blowed!" Guy answered. "I've got my ticket for the frontier. We were blocked by signal about half a dozen miles off this place, and I got down to stretch my legs. I understood them to say that we could not go on for half an hour or so. They never tried to stop my getting down, and then off they went without any warning and left me there."

"I will translate to the officer, sir," the man said. "Right," Guy declared. "Go ahead." There was a brisk colloquy between the two. Then the little man began again. "He says that your train passed here at midnight and that you did not arrive until past 6." "Quite right," Guy admitted. "I went to sleep. I didn't know how far it was to the station, and I was dead tired." "The officer wishes to know whether many trains passed you in the night." "Can't say," Guy answered. "I sleep very soundly, and I never opened my eyes after the first few minutes."

"The officer wishes to know whether you saw anything unusual upon the line," the little man asked. "Nothing at all," Guy answered coolly. "Bit inquisitive, isn't he?"

The little man came a little closer to the table "He wishes to see your passport, sir," he announced.

Guy handed it to him; also a letter of credit and several other documents. "He wants to know why you were going to the frontier, sir." "Sort of fancy to say that I'd been in Russia; that's all!" Guy answered. "You tell him I'm a perfectly harmless individual. Never been abroad before."

End of Trial of Harry Thaw Is Still Far Away

THE NESBIT AFFIDAVIT

The Court Will Probably Allow Copies to Go Betore Jurers, Who Must Decide Between Thaw's Wite and Hummel

New York, March 18 .- Attorney Delmas has been conferring with his associates in the defense of Harry K. Thaw, mapping out plans for sur-rebuttal work at the trial, which enters its ninth week today. Applications have been made to the district atorney's office for several ***************** additional subpoenas for the defense, out just whom they are for could not be learned.

From the new plans laid, it seems that

M. C. A. The official communications exchanged by rubber will be played at the gymnasium the ministers of the foreign affairs for the two republics, copies of which communications have been received in Washington.

The controversy began when Augusto C. Coello, the Honduran minister for foreign affairs, wrote a note to Jose D Gamez, the Nicaraguan minister for foreign affairs, on Jan. 26, protesting against the theft of a mule from Ireneo Salgado by 35 Nicaraguan cavalrymen who were charged with entering Hon-

In reply Gamez said the Nicaraguans did not quite enter Honduras, although they passed near to the little town of Los Manos in that republic. The taking of the mule was not denied but Gamez insisted in his letter that Salgado was not a Honduran citizen, but a Nicaraguan who had to leave that country because of the part he played in a revolution two years before. Consequently, Nicaragua maintained that Honduras had no right to fly to the defense of Salgado's mule.

This note brought a spirited reply from Honduras, the minister for foreign affairs announcing that Salgado, the Nicaraguan refugee, was living in Tegucigalpa, engaged in trade there, while a man by the same name was a most reputable and respected farmer, a Honduran of unquestioned citizenship lived at Los Manos and owned the much mooted mule

Nicaragua replied that it was true that Colonel Rocha, who commanded a party of cavalrymen, took a mule near Los Manos, but reiterated that the animal was not taken in Honduran territory. Dispatches grew longer as the controversy waxed warmer. Other questions arose. Then the arbitration tribunal was opened and finally th break came when President Zelaya of Nicaragua withdrew his member of the board of arbitration and war between Honduras and Nicaragua actually be

Negro Gives Tru Version of the Brownsville Riot

STARTED BY A SOLDIER

Had Been Struck by White Man and Comrades Volunteered to Wipe Out Old Scores Against Citizens by General Shootup

Galveston, March 18 .- The Galveston News yesterday printed the alleged confession of a discharged negro soldier in explanation of the midnight riot of negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry who "shot-up" Brownsville on Aug. 13, 1906. The News' story says a statement was made by one of the discharged negro-soldiers to two reporters and that, after seven months of investigation by the authorities of the United States, what appears to be the true version of the riot has come to light.

The discharged soldier admits that h participated in the riot. This man has been living in Galveston since he and many others of the Twenty-fifth infantry were discharged without honor * by order of President Roosevelt, from the military service.

May Be Called to Washington Washington, March 18.—Senator Overman of North Carolina, who is a member of the senate committee on military affairs which is investigating the "shooting up" of Brownsville, when shown the dispatch from Galveston, telling of the alleged confession of a discharged negro soldier, said that the committee received information two weeks ago that a former member of the Twenty-fifth infantry had expressed a willingness to make a full confession if he could receive some assurance from the government that he would be protected. Overman said that this information was forwarded to Secretary Taft, with the suggestion that it be investigated by the war department. "All the discharged troops who tell the truth about the affair," said the senator. "will certainly be protected by the government.'

Senator Overman said that he will in sist that the senate committee on military affairs summon the former soldier who is alleged to have made a confession to Washington to testify before the committee.

Summoned to Court Martial San Antonio, Tex., March 18 .- The judge advocate in the trial of Major Penrose has ordered D. G. Gray, the negro taken into custody by the Galveston police, brought to this city as a witness in the trial of Major Penrose by court martial. Penrose refused to discuss the alleged confession. Captain Macklin said there were two negroes named Gray in company C of the Twen ty-fifth infantry, but none that he knew of in company B. These negroes in company C were brothers, Joseph and George W. Gray.

Provisions For $250,000,000

For Charity and Educati n New York, March 18 .- The Herald says that, according to a member of John D. Rockefeller, Jr.'s Bible class and who is also a personal friend of John D. Rockefeller and in a position to know of his affairs, the latter proposes soon to make a princely gift to the city of New York. It will amount to at least $50,000,000. It will be partly charitable and partly educationar. The Herald says:

"This man informed a Herald reporter that when Mr. Rockefeller was conferring with his son at Lakewood, N. J., a fortnight ago the meeting was not for the purpose of discussing any im mediate gift, but was on the subjecof Mr. Rockefeller's will, which docu ment the oil king was then complete ing with the aid of his son and his law yers. It is said that this document will astonish the world when it is made public. It will, it is declared, donate no less than $250,000,000 for charitable and educational purposes and it will be so bestowed that the benefit therefrom will be almost perpetual.

"The manner in which these bequests will be bestowed is said to be mainly educational and charitable. He be lieves that education will make this country the greatest in the world, and that every cent contributed toward that object will help to make better citizen and better Christians.

STARTED BY A SOLDIER

Had Been Struck by White Man and Comrades Volunteered to Wipe Out Old Scores Against Citizens by General Shootup

Galveston, March 18.—The Galveston News yesterday printed the alleged confession of a discharged negro soldier in explanation of the midnight riot of negro soldiers of the Twenty-fifth infantry who "shot-up" Brownsville on Aug. 13. 1906. The News' story says a statement was made by one of the discharged negro soldiers to two reporters and that, after seven months of investigation by the authorities of the United States, what appears to be the true ver sion of the riot has come to light.

The discharged soldier admits that h participated in the riot. This man has been living in Galveston since he and many others of the Twenty-fifth in fantry were discharged without hono by order of President Roosevelt, from

According to the alleged statemen the outrage was not premeditated, but was the result of an alleged injury done one of the soldiers by a white man in Brownsville about a haif hour before the riot started. The negro, the story says, was struck by the white man at and announced that he was going to kill and Barometer. his assailant. Several other soldier promptly volunteered to go along to wipe out old scores against white citi zens on account of injuries they had suffered. They returned to the barrack after committing the assault on the hurried cleaning of the guns for the ir shooting ceased

According to the alleged confession the soldiers from only one company of the Twenty-fifth infantry partic pated in the riot, although nearly an entire battalion, later discharged, knew that soldiers had done the shooting

Many of the negroes belonging to the battalion enlisted in Galveston during the summer of 1905 and returned to the city after being discharged. The re turned soldiers, it is said, were advised by negro politicians to avoid newspape men, but two reporters finally procure the alleged confession through the fact that the negro concluded that they were United States secret service agents and let the secret out.

The man who talked to the reporter said his name was D. C. Gray and that B of the Twenty-fifth infantry.

May Be Called to Washington Washington, March 18.—Senato Overman of North Carolina, who is a member of the senate committee on military affairs which is investigating the "shooting up" of Brownsville, when shown the dispatch from Galveston, telling of the alleged confession of a discharged negro soldier, said that the committee received information two weeks ago that a former member of the Twenty-fifth infantry had expressed : willingness to make a full confession if he could receive some assurance from the government that he would be protected. Overman said that this information was forwarded to Secretary Taft, with the suggestion that it be investigated by the war department. "All the discharged troops who tell the truth about the affair," said the senator, "will certainly be protected by the government.'

Senator Overman said that he will insist that the senate committee on military affairs summon the former soldier who is alleged to have made a confession to Washington to testify before the committee.

Summoned to Court Martial San Antonio, Tex., March 18 .- The judge advocate in the trial of Major Penrose has ordered D. G. Gray, the negro taken into custody by the Galveston police, brought to this city as a witness in the trial of Major Penrose by court martial. Penrose refused to dis cuss the alleged confession. Captain Macklin said there were two negroes named Gray in company C of the Twenty-fifth infantry, but none that he knew of in company B. These negroes in company C were brothers, Joseph and George W. Gray.

Bad Week on the Bourse

Berlin, March 18 .- "The worst week the Bourse has had in 30 years," is the verdict of one of the financial reviewers in summing up last week's movements on the stock market. The events in Wall street made a profound impression in Germany, and were reinforced by the declaration in the Deutsche bank's annual report that the world boom could not last through the year, owing to the stringency of the money market.

Steamship Rate War Likely

London, March 18 .- Herr Ballin, director general of the Hamburg-Amer Ican Steamship company, who has been here attending the shipping conference. says there is every likelihood of a renewal of the rate war for the North Atlantic trade with the Cunard line. The next fortnight, he said, probably would see a decision one way or the other.

AN ALLEGED POISONER

Farmhand Suspected of Causing His Employer's Death

Windsor, Mass., March 18 .- The Berkshire county authorities are investigating a suspicious death in this town, and as a result Edward Launt, a farmhand, is under arrest, charged, with "mixing poison with intent to kill" his employer, Frank Ingraham, a well-

Launt denies the charge, although he admits that he and Ingraham had had trouble and that Ingraham struck him a few days ago. Launt also admitted to the authorities that a bottle containing rat poison was in the barn on the Ingraham place a short time ago, but that he had not seen it recently It is said that Launt had made threats against Ingraham on account of the latter's assault upon him.

It is alleged that Launt put poison in a jug of cider from which Ingraham was in the habit of drinking. Ingraham died suddenly after drinking out of the jug. He told the attending physi cian that the cider tasted bitter, that he believed he had been poisoned, but that he had not attempted to commit Launt was before Justice Bixbee at Adams, but was not called upon to plead, his case being continued until April 6. He was then removed to the all at Pittsfield.

Team Drivers Want More Pay Boston, March 18 .- After five years of apparent contentment, unquietness has developed among the Boston team drivers and a new wage scale calling for an increase in salary and shorter hours which was submitted to the Master Teamsters' association has been re turned by that body and the local unions referred to the individual trucking concerns. The Team Drivers' union is an organization of 5000 members and the strike in 1902 was fought with great bitterness and finally settled by Governor Crane.

Was Cleaning Loaded Gun Brunswick, Me., March 18 .- Mrs.

Lucy E. Frost, 70 years old, was killed, It is said accidentally, by the discharge of a shotgun which was being cleaned by Horace E. Dunning, for whom Mrs. rost acted as housekeeper. Within an hour a coroner's jury had been impanelled and began an investigation of the case. The jury adjourned without returning a verdict, but no attempt was made to place Dunning under arrest. He told the jury that he did not know the gun was loaded.

Money For Ubero Creditors Boston, March 18 .- Receiver Smith of the Consolidated Ubero Plantation company announces that valid claims sgainst the company may not exceed $25,000, in which event the creditors will receive about 50 cents on the dollar. The Ubero was placed in the lands of a receiver about a year ago. Ferdinand E. Borges, its president, was

Accidentally Shot by Woman

Newfields, N. H., March 18.-Joseph Rogers, 25 years old, of Somerville Mass., was shot but not seriously wounded on the farm of Michael Doherty through the accidental discharge of a small rifle in the hands of a young woman companion. Rogers was sent to Boston and it is learned that the bullet, which entered the side of his head, has been extracted and that he will undoubtedly recover.

Perhaps Fatally Stabbed

Bristol, Conn., March 18.-With four stab wounds in his body, Edward J. Crowley, aged 20, is probably fatally njured. The police are looking for an Italian whom they know by sight, but not by name, in connection with the affray. Crowley and some companions brushed against a group of Italians on the street just before midnight. One of the Italians drew a knife and late of Quiney, in said County, deceased: stabbed Crowley.

STAIN REMOVERS.

Medicine can be removed by soaking

Stove polish, if washed while fresh in cold water and soap, may easily be removed.

Mucus is removed by soaking in ammonia water and then washing in cold water and soap.

Milk or cream can be removed readfly by washing first in cold water, followed by a thorough soaping. Scorch marks may be removed by hanging in sunlight. This is most ef-

is best. Perspiration discolorations are taken out by either soap solution and sunshine or by javelle water. Place ia sunshine after washing with soapsuds. The Methodist club hold their next Javelle water is excellent for white goods.

The writer with his daughter had just got off and was just B. W. Ladies' Desk, Table, 4 heavy Draper about to step across the track when an express train shot by. The conductor yelled out to the passengers just in time to avoid killing several of them, in fact he ran to the back of his train calling out while I together with many more stood dambfounded, feeling that the express must grind to death some, for there was no small number who narrowly escaped. This is the second time within a few months that the writer with his daughter has been as near run over as he wishes to be. I have no desire to die in this way. As a citizen, I feel that when we pay our fare to come to Quincy we should be protected while we are getting off, for I feel sure that if this is not stopped there will surely be a loss of life. Boston, March 19 .- With the recent Larchmont disaster as a text, Boards Telephone 127-6. of Trade in Massachusetts have inaugurated a movement the purpose of which is to secure national legislation which shall make compulsory the manwith trained crews. The matter has been called to the attention of President | Quincy 458-2. Roosevelt and Secretary of Commerc and Labor Straus.

Formal representations have been made that "many passenger steamen are today practically unmanned, except by an irresponsible class, a hetero geneous lot of freight handlers and geneous lot of freight handlers and lumpers, who are more familiar with canthooks and freight trucks than with canthooks and freight trucks than with lifeboats and lifesaving devices; who are already overworked and not recep tive to training, and therefore not adapted to render effective aid in an accident, but who, as often demonstrated, themselves take possession of the lifeboats and crowd defenseless women and children into the sea."

Secretary Straus has written a letter to Lincoln C. Cummings of Boston, a leader in the movement, in which he of passengers, and some days ago, after witnessing a fire drill on one of the boats here, I directed the supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service to insist upon a better class of men being employed on many of the passenger boats. I have also, in congeneral, issued orders for other changes making the inspection more thorough by the transfer of assistant inspec tors. This is as far as the law permits me to go in that respect. I have also ordered that there shall be three inspetions annually, instead of one, as here tofore. I appreciate your valuable sug gestions and thank you for the same." The Boards of Trade and all other similar organizations in the United States are to be requested to take spontaneous action, calling upon con- Telephone, Quincy 105-3. gress to enact a law requiring steamship companies to provide an apprentice system for fully supplying trained crews for passenger steamers; that licensed steamers must be provided with trained crews before the government of the United States shall issue licenses for transportation of citizens, high seas; that this license shall be, in fact, a patent of protection to each cit zen and passenger; that the steamer so licensed shall be known to be and shall be, in fact, properly constructed, equipped, officered and manned; that if trained men cannot be obtained under conditions existing, another and better grade of men shall be enlisted and the steamship companies shall be induced to pay adequate wages to obtain such a grade of man. Headquarters have been established in this city. The movement is endorsed by President Eliot of Harvard university, Bishop Lawrence of Massachusetts, former Governor Bates and many other notable men.

Relatives Ask Coroner to Act

New York, March 19.—Because of the unusual circumstances of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Lutz, 90 years old, and who owned property valued at $50,000, relatives have asked the coroner's office to have an autopsy performed on her body. The woman died in Bellevue hospital late yesterday and the physicians gave the cause of death as nephritis, old age and multiple contusions about the body. It is reported that the woman was to appear on Thursday in the supreme court in order that a guar dian for her might be appointed.

HELICON HALL FIRE

Indications That It Was the Result of Incendiarism

New York, March 19.-Upton Sinciair, whose co-operative colony house, Helicon hall, near Englewood, N. J., was destroyed by fire Saturday morning, admits that three weeks ago enough dynamite was found in the cellar of the building to have blown the structure to fragments.

This statement, taken in conjunction with the finding of a stick of the explosive alongside the wreck of the boilers on Saturday afternoon, has spurred the | fiercest battles of his life. authorities to more vigirous efforts on the theory of incendiarism. Two detection tives have been assigned to the case, ropes have been stretched around what remains of the hall, which is merely debris, and policemen are on guard there to prevent the removal of possible

Information has also come to light sions were heard by many of the inmates of the building immediately be fore the fire was discovered. The police are working on the supposition that the place was set on fire and will question several persons who are known to have had disagreements with Sinclair.

Splendidly situated and bringing in a good income, and at the prices put have a board of public work, claiming Mr. Drew has a remarkable tenor on them, the very best proposition on the market today.

With the present increasing rents, and advancing prices of building material and labor, don't you think it about time you acknowledged the situation, and worked to your own advantage.

J. W. PRATT. 74 Independence Avenue.

Because we are catering for YOUR trade, and loafers. We know that in a pair of RALSTON HEALTH SHOES you get more satisfaction and value than in any other $4.00 shoe on the market: for not only do they have the style and individuality usually found only in $5.00 and $6.00 the Railroad Commissioners to improve shoes but they also have a certain foot-fitting quality found in no other shoe. They "need no breaking in" because the inner soles are tion with the abolishment of grade made to conform exactly to the bottoms of your feet which, as you know, are full of mounds and depressions. Ralston Shoes are disgusting things at the Quincy, literally foot-moulded-and sole-fit plus upperfit gives you Perfect-fit, and that means Comfort from the first.

only half past 8. She rang for the lift and ascended to the fourth floor. On her way down the corridor a sudpen thought struck her. She took a key from her pocket and entered the room which her brother had occupied. His things were still lying about in some disorder, and neither of his trunks was locked. She went down on her knees and calmly proceeded to go through his belongings. It was rather a forlorn hope, but it seemed to her just possible that there might be in some of his pockets a letter which would throw light upon his disappearance. She found nothing of the sort, however. There were picture postcards, a few photographs and a good many restaurant bills, but they were all from places in Germany and Austria. At the bottom of the second trunk, however, she found something Which he had evidently found it worth while to carefully preserve. It was a thick sheet of official looking paper bearing at the top an embossed crown 69966996999999 969999900000000 and covered with German writing. It was evidently an odd sheet of some document. She folded it carefully up and took it back with her to her own room. Then, with the help of a Ger

A RAILROAD TALK

RESULT IS KEPT SECRET

Recommendations of Various Financiers as to Railway Legislation Are Not Unanimous--President Studying the Subject

Washington, March 20.-The interview between President Roosevelt and Telephone 127-6. Charles S. Mellen, the president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, recently arranged for the purpose of discussing the railroad sityation, took place at the White House and lasted not more than 35 minutes. No statement of the particular questions discussed was made at the White House and Mellen declined to talk.

Mr. Mellen's visit is the outcome of a eall made to the White House last week by J. P. Morgan, the New York finaneier, who came to Washington at the request of many business men to discuss the present business situation, particularly as affecting the railroads. At the time Morgan suggested to the president that it would be greatly in the public interest if he would see certain railroad presidents and confer with them "as to what steps might be taken to allay the public anxiety as to the relations between the railroads and the government.'

The visit of Mellen followed a confer ence he had with Presidents McCrea Newman and Hughitt, of the Pennsyl vania, New York Central and Chicago and Northwestern railroads, respectively. These four were names suggested to Mr. Roosevelt by Morgan. It is not known at the White House whether McCrea, Newman and Hughist will visit the president. He will see them if they come. So far they have not been heard from.

Following the departure of Mellen, Interstate Commerce Commissioner Lane came to the White House and had a talk with the president about railroad matters. Attorney General Bonaparte also conferred with the presi-

During the past three weeks Presi dent Roosevelt has had visits from half a dozen well known financiers and railroad men, with all of whom he has discussed various phases of the railroad situation. Al! of these persons have made specific recommendations incorporating their ideas on the question whether the president should recom mend additional railway legislation and most of them have urged him to make a statement defining his attitude in explicit terms, with a view to allaying public apprehension on the subject that may exist.

Generally there has been but little approach to unanimity in these recomwho want information as to his atti tude to his public declarations on this general subject, and has told then The WEEKS-HILL Pharmacy, that he means to be consistent with what he has already said. The president says frankly that he is learning all he can regarding the railroad situation and that he intends to continue to consult with railroad people and others on the subject. It is understood that he is making inquiries on some points pertaining to federal supervision and control of the railroads, to the question of an appraisement of the physical valuation of such properties and to the matter of the issue of various forms of indebtedness. As to the last named, he regards it as perfectly proper and he sees no objection to a proper issue of obligations for equipment, terminals and betterments. but thinks there should be a careful scrutiny to see that stocks or bonds are issued for such purposes. The president has not reached any final determination as to whether he will make any recommendations to congress for legislation on any of these matters. His position is that he is simply pursuing diligently the study of these questions and obtaining all the information available before acting. When the president has made up his mind and is ready to tell the public just what his attitude is on particular questions, and specifically on the railroad issue, he will do so in a speech or in a message to congress. The president is scheduled to make four speeches between now and the middle of June, and if is expected he will have something Yard of Miller Street. Tel. 85-5, Quincy to say on the railroad question in one of these speeches.

> May Be Strike on Harriman Lines Cleveland, March 20 .- A meeting of the executive board of international boilermakers and iron shipbuilders was held at Loraine. After the meeting President Dunn was quoted as saying that a strike of boilermakers on the Harriman lines would be called within 48 hours in the event favorable action is not taken on the pending demands made some time ago by employes of the Chicago and Alton railroad.

California Is Flood-Stricken San Francisco, March 20 .- Heavy rains which have prevailed since last Saturday have caused the rivers of northern California to overflow and FRANK F. CRANE great damage has resulted. Railroad and telegraph communications are interrupted in all directions. A general flood seems inevitable in many places and the public schools have been dismissed.

SINISTER INDEED

A WAR OF VENGEANCE

Directed Against Salvador as Well as Honduras -- Americans In Latter Country Preparing to Detend Themselves

Puerto Cortez, Honduras, March 14, via New Orleans, March 20 .- A turn of sinister and widespread significance was given to the Central American war today by the finding or captured Nicaraguan soldiers of proclamations promising them the loot of the first cities which they can capture in Honduras and Salvador.

This proclamation amounts to a prac tical declaration of war by Nicaragua against Salvador; it shows that the Nic araguan soldiers are being sent to fight what they believe is a war of vengeance and it places Americans in Puerto Cortez and throughout this republic of the anxious seat because of the fac that American residents or capitalists are the principal property holders of most of the Honduran cities, especially those which are richest and therefore most liable to loot.

Any doubt as to the completenes of such a loot is dispelled not only by the wording of the proclamation, but by the experiences in 1894 by persons now living in Puerto Cortez, who were present at the looting of Choluteca Honduras. Nicaraguan soldiers, aided by about 200 of their women, pillaged every house but one in the town. . The worst feature of the looting of Choluteca was the horrible indignities offered to women and helpless persons. About 250 carts were used to carry away the

The proclamation says:

"The reward for our valor will be found as we put our feet on the enemy's soil-and in order that those opposed to us may repent of their temer ity in attacking our liberal towns, we offer as booty the first cities, both of come affiliated with the State board. Honduras and Salvador, that fall into "The hour has arrived in which ou > glorious flag will go to exact reparation for opprobious injuries to our country men in Los Calpules and Carizal. In these towns our comrades were villainously assassinated by minions of the despot of Honduras." Vengeauce is to be visited upon Salvador because of the attack upon Lon by General Maleshin of Salvador, is to be sacked in each country, and Young Men's Christian Association later apparently giving permission to loot more than one. It is in the form of a "national bulletin" and dated "San Pedro, Sula, March 12."

Americans in Puerto Cortez, in view of this proclamation, are preparing to defend themselves. Some of them complain because the United States has dormitories. not sent naval protection here. It is not true, as has been reported, that Americans have been impressed into the sorvice of Hondurgs or that they are service of Honduras or that they are taking part in any numbers in the war. According to reports received here, a part of the Salvadorean army is fight ing with Honduras. March 12 was fixed for a general advance of the allied forces. A recent telegram says that seven boatloads of disbanded Nicara guan troops surrendered to Salvadorean authorities and were concentrated in the interior of Salvador.

For several days telegraphic commu nication has been interrupted with Truxillo, Honduras, at which port President Bonilla has ordered 3000 land forces to concentrate with the Honduran naval forces. A report today by steamer is that the Honduran gunboat La Tumbla approached near enough to Truxillo to see a large fire there but not to ascertain its cause. Previous to this it had been reported that Nicaraguans landed near Truxiilo.

The total under the $12 limit for current expenses is $346,710.00 which is $13,349.86 more than in 1906. Although the city's debt was on Jan. , 1907, $45,020.00 larger than a year previous, the maturing debt seems to of the debt is deferred.

The items outside of current expense are for the Water and Sewer departments, and also for maturing city debt and interest.

The Finance Committee found at the outset that the estimates of the Mayor and School Committee for current expenses in 1907 were in excess of the legal limit, of $12 per $1,000 on the valuation. This limit is about $320, passed to a second reading on Tues- 000.00. It is said also that current expenses of the Water and Sewer departments are charged to the construction accounts, which is borrowed on thirty year loans. The city should not pay interest for thirty years on money borrowed to pay elerks and for stationery.

Mayor Thompson in his recent inaugaral address said: "Greater scruting must be used this year in the disposition of the receipts, and that less can be used for current expenses than in the past, is quite clear to me if we are not to impose a heavy burden upon the property of the city by an extreme tax

SAYS THAW IS INSANE

Jury Excused While Judge Considers Whether Trial Shall Continue or Lunacy Commission Shall Be Appointed

New York, March 21.-The blow which Harry K. Thaw has been in terfor of ever since his trial for the murier of Stanford White began fell yeserday. District Attorney Jerome did ot make formal application for the apntment of a commission in lunacy, in an impassioned speech he apiled to the conscience of the court, has watched and come into conwith him to be insane.

Mr. Jerome asserted that his own nists—the six men who testified for | mit affidavits today. state-were convinced when they considered all the facts in connect with the case that Thaw was of ound mind. Jerome dramatically sed the counsel for the defense of ealing testimony which, if preented to the court, would make the ntinuance of the trial a crime.

So earnestly did he plead that Justice Fitzgerald dismissed the jury until Frilay morning and adjourned court until this afternoon, when he will consider whatever evidence either side has to offer and decide whether the trial shall go on or whether a commission in lunacy shall be appointed to pass upon Thaw's nental condition at present.

The scenes attending the adjourn ment of court were dramatic and exciting. Thaw's counsel seemed taken utterly by surprise. It was expected to e the last day of the trial except for the summing up before the jury. MILE-A-MINUTE GALE

Storm Sweeps New England and Passes on to Canada

Boston, March 21 .- An equinoctial tale swept over New England yesterday and caused considerable damage. In southern New England telegraph poles were blown down and trees uprooted, while in the northern part there was a considerable fall of snow, which blocked traffic on both steam and electric railroads.

The storm was very severe through the section from Greenwich, Conn., to the Passamaquody and well into the maritime provinces. The barometer, which sank to 28.7, an unusual depth, dragged after it a gale which attained hurricane proportions in some districts. notably Block Island, where the wind reached a velocity of a mile a minute. The storm, which increased in intensity as it moved across New England, was scarcely felt in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

It is expected that incoming liners will have many reports of tempestuous seas from the Grand Banks to their several ports.

Runaway Horses Kill a Man Lowell, Mass., March 21.-The horses ettached to a hack returning from a funeral ran away on Gorham street ind Patrick S. Peppard, aged 60, who was crossing the street, was struck by the runaway horses and so badly injured that he died a few minutes later. The horses continued on down a steep hill and the driver, Ernest Ames, was thrown to the ground, but not seriously hurt. At the foot of the hill the back was overturned. The occupants, four women, were severely shaken up and bruised. None of them, however, was seriously injured.

Canal and River Merged Nashua, N. H., March 21.-Three hundred feet of an embankment separating the Nashua river from the canal of the Nashua Manufacturing company broke away, allowing water of the canal to flow into the river, and causing a temporary loss of power to the mill The loss will fall upon the Nashua Manufacturing company, which will be compelled to furnish the 15,000 horsepower necessary in running the plant by steam until the break is repaired.

Free Passes Prohibited

Concord, N. H., March 21 .- A bill proibiting the issuance of free passes by he railroads of the state to members of the legislature, state officers, judges and officers of all courts, county sherffs. solicitors and commissioners and elegates to the nominating convenons of political parties was passed by ooth branches of the New Hampshire egislature yesterday. It is understood that Governor Floyd will sign the bill

Judge Dies Unexpectedly

Spencer, Mass., March 21.-Judge Albert W. Curtis was stricken with apoplexy while riding with his daughte vesterday afternoon and died at hi home last night without regaining con sciousness. He was appointed a tria adge in 1893 by Governor Russell at a judge in 1902 by Governor Crane.

Longshoremen Win Strike Boston, March 21.-The strike o

ongshoremen employed on lighters owned by the Boston Towboat company was settled last night. The captain of the lighters have agreed to join the Longshoremen's union. The strike was caused by the reluctance of the captains to take this step.

Fire Destroys Town Hall

Halifax, Mass., March 21.-The town library of 3000 volumes was completely destroyed when the town hall, in which the library was located, was burned to the ground. The postoffice also was located in one part of the building. The fire started around the chimney. The oss is about $5000.

Means More Expense to Railroads Washington, March 21 .- The interstate commerce commission has ordered that after April 1 next railroads operat ing under the interstate commerce ac must file duplicate copies of their tariffs roads have been required to file only one copy of the tariffs. The additional copy will involve a considerable increase of expense to the railroads.

Six-Bout Duel at Paris

Paris, March 21.-A duel with swords, that went to six bouts, was fought here between Emmanuel Arene, senator from Corsica, and Adolphe Bris son, a journalist. Both contestants were wounded in the arm, Brisson slightly and Arene severely. The en counter arose from an alleged insulting letter sent by Arene to Brisson.

Grafting Organization With Amazing Ramification Said to Involve Millionaires and "Better Class" of Citizens

San Francisco, March 21.-The long looked-for indictments in the munici pal graft cases were returned last night. The grand jury filed with Judge Coffey of the superior court 75 indictments charging bribery, which were found on evidence presented to the grand jury after six months' probing into the municipal affairs of this city by Assistant District Attorney Heney and Secret Service Agent Burns, and which reveal an amazing story of alleged graft and

Of the 75 indictments returned 65 are against Abraham Ruef, for years the leading politician of San Francisco, charging him with bribing the board of supervivors to grant franchises to the United Railroads, the Home Telephone company, the San Francisco Gas and Electric company and the so-called 'prize fight trust.'

"But what shall I say to him?" The girl took no notice of her. She was looking in the opposite direction. She seemed to have edged away as far as possible from her. Phyllis drew a long breath. She felt her heart beating with excitement. The place suddenly seemed to her like part of a nightmare. And then all was clear again. Fortune was on her side. The secret of Guy's disappearance was in this room, and a few careless words from the girl at the next table had told her more than an entire police system had been able to discover. But why the mystery? What was she to say to the man when he came? The girl from Vienna was talking to some friends and toying carelessly with a little morsel of lace which she had drawn from her bosom. Phyllis watched it with the eves of a cat. Every now and then she watched also the door.

The place was much fuller now. Mlle. Flossie had arrived with a small company of friends from Maxim's. The music was playing all the time. The popping of corks was almost incessant. The volume of sound had swelled. The laughter and greeting of friends betrayed more abandon than earlier in the evening. Old acquaintances had been renewed and new ones made. Mademoiselle from Vienna was surrounded by a little circle of admirers. Still she held in her right hand a crumpled up little ball of lace.

Men passing down the room tried to attract the attention of the beautiful young English demoiselle who looked out upon the little scene so indifferently as regarded individuals and yet with such eager interest as a whole. No one was bold enough, however, to make a second effort. Necessity at times gives birth to a swift capacity. Fresh from her simple country life, Phyllis found herself still able with effortless serenity to confound the most the leader of the orchestra. Presently hardened boulevarder who paused to ogle her. At the hearing Supervising Inspector Uhler and the local inspectors were present. Coming down to the lifeboat drills on the Larchmont, McVay said that colored waiters, firemen and coal passers were assigned to places in the drills. He had never considered the danger of manning lifeboats with such crews. He had suggested to the company the employment of a better grade of men, but had received the assurance that they were good enough. Wages, he said, were low on the Joy line. The signal lights were burning brightly. McVay then described the scenes following the collision.

The remainder of the report was taken up with questions suggested by the captain's statement.

STOCKS AGAIN DECLINE

Failures Were Anticipated, but

They Failed to Materialize New York, March 20 .- Heavy selling of stocks, in the first hour of which bears took prompt advantage, followed by persistent rumors that one or more stock exchange houses were embarrassed by losses sustained in the last few days, combined to make the stock market sensitive and feverish throughout yesterday. Losses on the slump during the opening hour ranged from 4 to 7 points.

A reaction followed quickly in which part of the early losses was made up, but the market continued weak and alternate periods of decline and reac ion followed during the rest of the day. Alarming reports as to the stability of two un-named commission houses contributed largely to this condition, and prices were extremely irregular. The passage of the delivery hour at 2:15 p. m. without the anticipated aunouncement of failures restored some corfidence and this, with active covering, restored confidence somewhat and there was a violent rebound in the last hour, when many of the active stocks regained their opening level. At the close there was a very sharp recession from this rally.

Son's Trouble Hastened Death New York, March 20 .- Mrs. Margaret H. Davidge, for many years known in heatrical circles as Maggie Harold, died suddenly at her home in Brooklyn. Her son, William T. J. Davidge, was arrested last Saturday night, charged with having shot Rosalio D. Wilbert, a rained nurse, and the shock of the roung man's trouble is said to have aggravated a disease of the heart from which the mother had suffered. Mrs. Davidge was the widow of an old-time Shakespearean actor.

Boy Resembled Marvin

Erie, Pa., March 20.-The Associated Press was informed this morning that he kidnapped son of Dr. Horace N. Marvin of Kitt's Hammock, Del., was not in this city or vicinity. It was stated that all the clues had been thoroughly investigated. The most promising clue proved to be the presence in this city of a woman from Fredonia, N. Y., accompanied by a young son who closely resembles the description of young Marvin.

Eight Children and Teacher Killed Durango, Mex., March 20 .- Nine perons were instantly killed and many others injured by the collapse of the roof of the public school building here. The dead include one of the teachers and eight members of her class. Score were buried under the wreckage and debris and there may be additional deaths, as many of the victims are dangerously hurt.

Persecuting Jews In Roumania Vienna, March 20 .- It is reported that the anti-Jewish outbreak in Roumania is assuming serious proportions. Peasants have attacked and plundered Jews at Burduzsheni, who are fleeing over the frontier. At Botosahni the town is in flames.

Case of Banker Walsh

Chicago, March 20 .- Judge Anderson, in the federal court, decided that John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, should appear before him April 3 and enter his plea to the 160 counts of the indictment charging him with misapplication of the funds of a national bank.

"Black Hand" Demands $1000 Erie, Pa., March 20 .- The officials of the Hammerniel Paper company of this city have received a letter from an alleged "Black Hand" society, demanding $1000, or the alternative of having their plant blown up by dynamite. ### Assessor 42 Years

Andrew J. Green, who passed away at the resdence of his son Perry Green on Howard avenue, Wednesday, was born in Cambridge, and at an early age entered the leather business, in which he was engaged for ten years. He gave up business in 1860 o devote himself to the duties of asessorship in Cambridge. He was reelected to that office every three years retiring from the position in January 1902, after having served as assessor continuously for forty-two years. He then came to Quincy where he has since made his home with his son

He was an enthusiastic collector of all sorts of books and documents pertaining to Puritan and Revolutionary days and he possessed a very valuable collection.

In politics he was a consistent Democrat. He was a man of a retiring nature, and never pushed himself forward so as to attract attention to himself.

The Methodist club held an interest ing and instructive session on Thursday evening in the vestry of the Wollaston M. E. church. At the business meeting six new members were voted into membership: George Taylor, George Wilbur, Walter R. Sawin, Frank Heath, A. N. Bjorkman and William Lupton. The following motion was unanimously carried.

of Wollaston recommends the Committee on Licenses of the City Council hat the number of express licenses for the transportation of liquors be decreased when the permits are granted for the next year, commencing May 1, 1907, and as far as possible if any icenses are granted, that they be given o only such firms as do not depend on he transportation of liquors to conduct an express business, and who have never been convicted of the selling or improper handling of liquors.'

The pastor, W. J. Heath, gave a few emarks on topics of interest.

The musical numbers of the evening were rendered by Harry Smith and J. A. Sedgwick after which came an address by Prof. John Wild on the subect "Common things of uncommon inerest." The subject was illustrated by the microscope and blackboard and proved very interesting. The speaker llustrated the kind of atmosphere in lifferent rooms, in machine shops, oundries and homes, and then illustrated the constituents of such common articles as yeast, onions, potatoes, green plants, etc., in a manner to be easily understood by those present. # Fines at Public Library

Attention is called to the following extract from the rules of the Thomas Crane Public Library:

Any book retained beyond the time prescribed shall be subject to a fine of two cents for each day's detention, and shall be sent for by the Librarian. No books may be taken out upon the card on which there is owing a fine or charges until the debt is paid, and until the book retained is restored or replaced.

The Librarian has no choice but o enforce the rules which govern the institution over which she has charge, and the payment of a fine should be regarded neither as designed to increase the finances of the Library on the one hand nor as a punishment of the patron, on the other. It is simply a just recompense due for the privilege of having kept the book over the prescribed time in ease one could not or did not wish to return it or failed in any way to do the same, thus depriving other readers of their chances of the use of the book. This is particularly applicable to Seven Day books, which class comprises all fiction for one rear after date of addition to the library and all Tabard Inn and Booklovers' Library books, which may not be renewed by anybody.

Generally all other books may be kept fourteen days and may be renewed for another two weeks, either by making the request at the time of borrowing the book, or the personal application at the Library when t is due or by simply sending a postal card giving number of book and date of issue which may be found stamped in the back of book in case card is temporarily mislaid. There may be individual cases in which a book of solid reading is in too great demand to warrant a renewal, but those are not frequent and the borrower will be told when he takes

Gu boat Marietta Lands Men In Central America

Will Tend Toward Prevent ng Foreign Complications--The United States and Mexico May Demand That War Cease

Washington, March 22.—Bluejackets and marines have been landed from the United States gunboat Marietta at Trujillo and Ceiba and probably at Puerto Cortez, Honduras, in order to protect American interests in those ports. Advices to this effect were received at the *************** navy department from Commander fullam of the Marietta, and they were t once transmitted to the state departent. As yet no word has been reelved as to whether forces have been nded at Central American ports on the cific coast side, but undoubtedly this ep will be taken if American interests e considered in danger.

The navy department feels that the ction taken by Fullam brings the sitnation completely in hand so far as the afeguarding of trade interests is con erned. In addition to the protection iven to Americans, it is felt that the ction of this government will relieve oreign governments of the necessity of taking any steps toward making a naval **************** lemonstration. The landing of bluejackets and marines and the policing of both shores of the Central American republics with United States gunboats before trading vessels had been molested in any man ner or foreign interests jeopardized, is regarded here as a diplomatic move that will prevent any international complications growing out of the policy of the United States not to permit Euro-

Summer Home Robbed of Over $50,000 Worth of Valuables

New York, March 22 .- The robbery of the summer home of Henry Siegel, s merchant, at Mamaroneck some time during Wednesday night has provided a mystery which the police have been unable to solve. Seven paintings, valued at thousands of dollars, brie-a-brac collected at much cost in Europe, and considerable silver were stolen. The value of the articles taken is said to reach well over $50,000.

Siegel is in Boston. His wife remained in New York Wednesday night, a gardener and assistant being the only ones about the Mamaroneck residence They claim they heard no unusua noises during the night. Entrance was gained through a front window. The house was ransacked, rugs and solid sil ver taken, while plated matter was bent and thrown aside, and paintings cut from their frames.

Mrs. Siegel says that she has a sus picion as to the thief and intimates that he may once have been employed in the house. The Slegel home faces Long Isl-Back Bay 209 and sound, and it is believed the robbers used a power boat to approach the premises and carry away the loot.

Weavers Condemn Bounty System New Bedford, Mass., March 22.-The bounty system adopted in one of the cotton mills of this city was vigorously condemned by officers of the Weavers union at a mass meeting of weavers las light. It was explained that under this system the bounty of $4 a month i awarded to the loomfixer of the section producing the greatest amount of cloth and that the result is to make the loomfixers "drive" the whole mill.

"Orphans, I think you said?" "Ornhans and relationless." "Well off?

"Moderately Duncombe leaned back in his chair and sipped his port thoughtfully.

"It is an extraordinary situation!" he

"Extraordinary indeed," his friend assented. "But so far as I am con cerned you can see how I am fixed I am older than either of them, but have always been their nearest neigh bor and their most intimate friend. It ever they have needed advice they have come to me for it. If ever I have needed a day's shooting for myself or a friend I have gone to them. This continental tour of theirs we discuss ed and planned out months before hand. If my misfortune had not com on just when it did I should have gon with them, and even up to the last w hoped that I might have been able to have gone to Paris with Phyllis."

"Tell me about the boy," he said, His host shrugged his shoulders.

"You know what they're like at that age," he remarked. "He was at Harrow but he shied at college, and there was no one to insist upon his going The pair of them had only a firm of lawyers for guardians. He's just a good looking, clean minded, high spirited young fellow, full of beans and needing the bit every now and then. But, of course, he's no different from the run of young fellows of his age, and if an adventure came his way I suppose he'd see it through."

"And the girl?" Andrew Pelham rose from his seat. "I will show you her photograph," he

His host rose and took Duncombe's arm. They passed out through the French window on to the gravel path which circled the cedar shaded lawn A shower had fallen barely an hour since, and the air was full of a fresh delicate fragrance. Birds were singing in the dripping trees; blackbirds were busy in the grass. The perfume from the wet lilac shrubs was a very dream of sweetness. Andrew pointed across a park which sloped down to the garden boundary.

"Up there among the elm trees George," he said, "can you see a gleam of white? That is the hall, just to the left of the rookery."

D tense Not Ready to Reply to Affidavits of Prosecution -- Alienist Hamilton Not Allowed to Give Oral Testimony

New York, March 22.-District Attorney Jerome yesterday presented to Justice Fitzgerald eight affidavits in support of the suggestion he made Wednesday in the case of Harry K Thaw that the defendant is now in such a state of lunacy or insanity as to be incapable of understanding the proceedings against him or making his de

The court was in session for less than an hour, Mr. Delmas stating that the answer of the defense to the district attorney's proposition was not ready. Justice Fitzgerald allowed both sides until Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to file such affidavits as they desire with the clerk of the court. There will be no further hearing in the matter of the appointment of a lunacy commission unless Fitzgerald so directs after considering such affidavits and exhibits as are to be offered.

Neither the jury nor Thaw was in court yesterday. The jury having been excused until today, there will be a brief session and a formal adjournment until Monday announced. By Monday Fitzgerald is expected to be ready to nnounce his decision.

Mr. Jerome pleaded yesterday for permission to examine Dr. Hamilton orally, but in the absence of a waiver of professional privilege on the part of the defense. Fitzgerald said he would not allow the doctor to be examined rther at this time. # YOAKUM'S SCHEME

Would Secure Railroad Co-Operation With Government

Thousands of Acres of Land Fraudulently Acquired by Union Pacific to Be Returned-Cullom Would Put Harriman In the Penitentiary

Washington, March 22 .- The interstate commerce commission has prac tically decided to appoint western representatives, with headquarters at Chicago and St. Louis, for the purpose of insuring co-operation between the railroads and the national government. This is in accordance with the plan submitted to the president and commission by Benjamin F. Yoakum of the Rock Island system.

On two occasions when Yoakum called upon the president he urged this schemes as desirable both from the point of view of the shippers and the railroads. He believed that consultation between railroads and representative seven houses in different parts of the of the commission would prevent dis it should. There is much that such town caught from parks. Aid was crimination and undue preferences, stop violation and evasion of law and lead to the securing of reasonable and just freight rates. The news of Yoakum's proposition leaked out yesterday and was brought to the commission to which it had been referred by the president.

Another development of the day was the fact that negotiations are in progress between Secretary Garfield and

The Union Pacific has recognized that tive and has advised the secretary of the interior of its willingness to return all lands which it cannot properly aim provided the government would rego prosecution. Garfield has ac oted the proposal of the Union Pa ic. The action of Harriman in seek g to remove the serious ground o iction between his Union Pacific systen; and the government is an indica tion of how earnestly he desires to avoid rosecution. A few months ago the Union Pacific denied most emphatically that any of its coal lands had been improperly obtained.

Investigation by Messrs. Prouty and Cark established the fact that the thou sands of acres of valuable mineral land had been acquired by the Union Paelfic and its subsidiary lines through the nost bare-faced fraud. There was no intention on the part of the Union Pacific, prior to the investigation by the interstate commerce commission of the tamely the rights it had acquired to these lands. It was expected by the interior department and the department of justice that it would be necessary to institute proceedings in the federal courts in Utah, Wyoming, Colorado and other states in order to compel the railroad to disgorge.

It is to prevent the increase of fur ther hostilities between the government and states and the railroads, and, in deed, to remove it, that Yoakum has proposed the appointment of western interstate commissioners. The number of these representatives is to be limited. They will act, of course, in ac cordance with instructions given them by the commission. They will be advised of all rulings the commission may make and will be in position consequent ly to settle promptly any question that may arise between the railroads and shippers. If any agreement between them is impossible then, of course, the matter can come before the entire com-

"If I had my way I would put E. H Harriman in the penitentiary" was the frank statement of Senator Cullom of Illinois as be left the White House yesterday. "Furthermore." he said. " told the president just that in my conersation with him today." The senator had been talking to the president about Harriman's Alton deal, about which both feel very strongly.

It is becomming increasingly improbable that Harriman will again call to see the president. He certainly will not "pull the wool" over the eyes of anybody at the White House by his last visit there.

STATE BOARDS CROOKED Declaration of a Member of Governor's Council

Boston, March 22 .- "If I live 10 years and have the same opportunity I have at present, I will be able to show that 180 out of the 200 odd boards of trustees in the state are 'rotten,' " declared Councillor Barry during a heated discussion before the South Boston Citizens' association last night on the appropriating of $200,000 to the Perkins institution for the blind.

"Nine times out of 10," he said, "these boards are made up of grafters, disinterested parties, who are swayed by prejudices, by social influence and environment, and sometimes bigotry, if not always affected by temptations to graft or to. advertise themselves or their wares.

Councillor Barry arose after John B. Martin of the penal institution department spoke in favor of the appropriation, claiming that he believed the trustees of the institution knew what they were doing and that the matter could be entirely left in their hands.

"I would like to remind this associa tion," Barry said, "that the last speaker is now serving as an official of the city of Boston, in a department whose trustees were removed by the mayor.' He then continued, with a sweeping assertion, that the majority of the boards of trustees were "rotten" and filled with grafters. The association went on record as in opposition to the granting of any appropriation, or any attempt of the institution to remove from the South Boston district.

Helicon Management Censured

New York. March 22 .- The coroner nquest into the deaths caused by the fire in Upton Sinclair's Helicon hall at Englewood, N. J., returned a verdict censuring the management for not pro viding adequate means of escape in case of fire. As to the cause of the blaze no opinion was returned. In the course of his evidence Sinclair said the Helicon property cost $50,000, $40,000 of which remained on a mortgage. The finances, he said, were not in a flourishing condition. There was $40,000 insurance on the hall.

Presence of Mind Saved Life New York, March 22.- Charles See iey, an elevator inspector, was leaning forward in an elevator shaft when he lost his balance. # Appropriation But Money Gone

It appears that the street crossing asked for in the order introduced at the meeting of the City Council Monday evening by Councilman Hayward was provided for by an order passed by the City Ceuncil in 1905.

The order which was introduced by City Council Sept. 18, appropriated $800 for crosswalks across Hancock street at the southerly end of Saville street, across Granite street from the Greenleaf block to the post office, and across Hancock street to near Bethany church.

The first two were built according to the order but that across Hancock street not built. The reason given was that the granite could not be obtained.

All of last year was allowed to pass and the fact that the crossing had been provided for was almost forgotten. There appears however, to be no balance for the work.

"Exactly," the manager answered. "You inquired when you came in for Miss Poynton. May I ask, are you a friend of hers?"

"I am here on behalf of her friends," Duncombe answered. "I have letters to her."

The manager bowed gravely.

"I trust," he said, "that you will soon have an opportunity to deliver them. We are not, of course, responsible in any way for the conduct or doings of our clients here, but I am bound to say that both the young peo-

Mr. Wilson immediately conferred with President Roosevelt regarding the matter and, acting on the president's instructions, forwarded the message to Governor Lea of Delaware. Wilson stated that this government stands ready to co-operate with the state officials in every possible way in the efforts to ascertain information in the kidnaping case.

Dover, Del., March 23.-Dr. H. N. Marvin, whose 3-year-old boy disappeared on March 4, last night sent the ollowing telegram to President Roosevelt:

"As a sorrowing father of a missing child, I make bold to ask if government aid can be extended along two lines. Many threatening letters are sent me every day, saying my boy may be killed by his supposed captors, and it causes me much expense investigating these. They should be looked into. I have sent out pictures and notices regarding my kidnapped boy and I am told the postmasters are not allowed to display them n public buildings. The Delaware legslature has voted $2000 for the search for the boy and has aided me in every possible way, but I believe a word from you to the federal authorities may be the greatest aid of all."

By the appointment of the Inland Waterways Commission, President March 30. Roosevelt has given a wonderful imspetus to the national policy of water ways improvement. His action, in Mact, is epochal, for it practically comunits the federal government to a wigorous campaign in widening and deepening the great streams of the country. This will be of the greatest which possesses a system of rivers That is unsurpassed by any other territory of its size in the world.

which will make the great Mississippi and Ohio valleys practically independent of the railroads. In his letter to each of the eight members of the commission Mr. Roosevelt declared that the present congestion is due to the fact that products of the northern interior states in ten years have grown eight times as rapidly as the transportation systems.

There appears to be but one complete remedy-the development of a Copy for changes of advertisements in the complementary system of transportation by water," he says. This is a fact that the National Rivers & Harbors Congress has been impressing upon the country for the last four years, and Weekly Established in 1837, which has it is due to the work of that organization that the last Congress framed the greatest appropriation bill for rivers and harbors ever passed in this

Progress at the Jamestown Exposition

Norfolk, Va., March 21-To the superficial eye the constructive work at the Jamestown Exposition appears lar feature of the Saturday eight-page less advanced at present than it was some months ago. This apparent retrogression is due to the sudden activity of the host of the over-cautious which followed the million dollar loan from the government. Money There will be a meeting of the moves the masses, and this money Fragment Society in the Unitarian has moved matters amazingly at the Exposition.

With the completion of the great exhibit palaces and most of the State buildings some time ago, the grounds presented a very orderly appearance, Mr. Patterson announces today that but the present confusion, incident to soms for sale, that can be found in lated concessionaires and others, has is, however, merely a brief and transitory episode in the constructive progress of this great enterprise, a second wind, as it were, which will land the exposition on time and a winner for the opening day.

With overwhelming rush, crush and clatter of machinery and manipulation, the work is progressing at a rapid rate, and outof this welter of work and worry there will shortly come forth a wonderland of order and beauty.

WHY

Weknow that in a pair of RALSTON HEALTH SHOES you get more satisfaction and value than in any other $4.00 shoe on the market; for not only do they have the style and individuality usually found only in $5.00 and $6.00 shoes but they also have a certain foot-fitting quality found in no other shoe. They "need Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kay. no breaking in" because the inner soles are made to conform exactly to the bottoms of your feet which, as you know, are full of mounds and depressions. Raiston Shoes are literally foot-moulded-and sole-fit plus upperfit gives you Perfect-fit, and that means Comfort from the first.

TRIAL FURTHER DELAYED

Prosecution Contends That Detendant Should Not Be on Trial For His Lite-Jerome Apologizes to Hartridge

New York, March 23 .- The district attorney's office last night made public several letters supposedly written by Harry K. Thaw and to which District Attorney Jerome has referred in court and had marked state exhibits. These are expected to figure in the hearing of the lunacy commission if Judge Fitzgerald decides to appoint such a commission. The letters have to do chiefly with matters personal to Thaw and are of no special interest except as they may have a possible bearing on the state of mind of Stanford White's

Until next Wednesday the contest in the case will be confined to the matter of the defendant's sanity or insanity. The question of whether he is guilty or not guilty is, for the present, in abeyance. The status of the case is this:

Affidavits have been handed in by the prosecution to show that Thaw is a paranoiac who, although legally responsible when he killed White, is now in such a state of mental incapacity as to be unable to consult intelligently with his counsel and hence should not be on trial for his life. The defense is now preparing its affidavits to the contrary effect, and the matter will come before MENT, would commit so foolish a deed? the court on Tuesday. Meantime the jury is excused until Wednesday, when the judge will presumably determine whether a commission in lunacy shall be appointed.

Most of yesterday's proceedings were in the nature of explanations by counsel on the question of personal privilege raised by District Attorney Jerome's conditional threat of calling the counsel of record for the defense, Mr. Hartridge, to account before the appellate division for unprofessional conduct, should it appear that he had knowledge of his client's alleged mental incom-

Speaking to this point, Jerome made what sounded very much like an apology, referring to the tension under any intent to charge Hartridge with unprofessional conduct. He based his implied threat, he explained, on what might be, but had not developed. Jerome however, is on record to the effect that should it be shown that the counsel of | the fatal step is taken. record for the defense had knowledge of the evidence which Jerome believed to have been at the command of the defense, proving Thaw incapable of prop erly advising with his counsel, the district attorney would bring the matter to the attention of the appellate divi-

For the first time since the jury box was filled, all the women of Thaw's family were awaiting him in the courtroom yesterday when the proceedings opened. Evelyn Thaw sat between Mrs. William Thaw and the Countess of Yarmouth, while Mrs. Carnegie sat in the next room with Josiah Thaw. On coming in Harry Thaw smiled and bowed to his wife, and then ANCHOLY people? to the others of the party.

The jury, which had filed in, was instructed by the judge to return on Wednesday and left. It was arranged be tween Jerome and Hartridge that the defense's affidavits should be in the hands of the district attorney by 2 o'clock this afternoon. It was agreed that Jerome should be permitted to file additional matter on Monday.

The court then took up the matter of the district attorney's reference to unprofessional conduct and the explanations of Hartridge and Jerome followed.

Self Destruction Is Indefensible.

By General WILLIAM BOOTH. Head of the Salvation Army

HE act of self destruction is a violation of the sacredness of life, the law of the land and an outrage upon the moral sense of the people. SUICIDE IS INDEFENSIBLE.

Yet it is on the increase in every land and among all classes. Modern civilization cannot claim it has fostered and developed the bonds that bind men to a JUST APPRECIATION of life. Statistics of suicides are alarming, especially in such countries as Denmark, Bavaria and several parts of the German empire. But no doubt many more perish by their own act whose names never appear in the statistical roll of suicides.

The offense is either committed in a way that baffles human skill in its effort to determine the cause of death or means are found by influential friends to hide away the crime.

BUT IF SO MANY WITH SUICIDAL INTENT FIND COURAGE FOR THE SAD DEED, WHO CAN CALCULATE THE NUMBER WHO WOULD CUT THE SACRED THREAD OF LIFE WHICH BINDS THEM TO THIS WORLD IF THEY ONLY DARED?

Nay, how many of the gay, laughing crowd around us have at one time or another CONTEMPLATED suicide, and how many this very day would hurry away from the present stage of being but for an indefinable dread of the future? I believe the number is larger than most people have the slightest conception of.

As to the causes that lead to suicide, they are numberless. No doubt "temporary insanity," the reason commonly assigned by the gentlemen who are so often called upon to inquire into the matter, is frequently the correct one. For who, not worked up to some terrible pitch of excitement TANTAMOUNT TO MENTAL DERANGE-

The reasons commonly suggested are drink, speculation, dissipation, gambling and similar follies. These things lead, it is said, to all sorts of disappointments and vexations, under the influence of which weak, ill balanced, passionate and UNASSISTED minds give way, ending only too often in the deadly recourse to poison, the water, the revolver or the rope.

But farther back in the string of causes for this melancholy transaction I should say there too frequently lies A SENSE OF FAIL-URE in the struggle of life. Especially is this the case with those who have "come down in the world."

With many I believe the step is taken in the struggle to be goodwhich he had been working and denying in the vain effort to master some hated evil habit with the sense of UTTER FRIENDLESSNESS.

AGRARIAN RIOTS

Spreading to an Alarming Extent In Moldavia

Revolt Started Against Farming Trust and Brings Wrath Upon Jews, Ten Thousand of Whom Are Homeless

Vienna, March 23 .- The seriousness of the situation in northern Moldavia, growing out of the agrarian disorders, has not been exaggerated, according to the latest telegraphic reports reaching here. From the estimates of the damage, it appears that 400 farms in Moldavia have been devastated, 8000 fugitives have fled over the Roumanian frontier into Austria, and a total of 10,-600 Jews are homeless. The number of dead and wounded cannot be given accurately, but the reports give a total of about 85 killed and about 156

The movement is really more agrarian than anti-semitic. The peasants are in revolt against the great farming trust, which has leased half the cultivatable land in Moldavia. The absentee landlords who control the trust happen to be Jews, and this fact brings the ire of the peasants down upon any and all Jews that they meet. To this antipathy is added strong racial feeling aris-

NEW WAR INVENTIONS

Detonation Fuse and Smokeless Powder Made by Maxim

New York, March 23.—Hudson Maxm, inventor of high explosives, made the dinner tendered Sir Percy Sanderon by the Canadian club last night the occasion of the first announcement conerning a new safety detonation fuse which he has invented after 10 years of experimenting and which, he declared has been the aim of inventors for years. By it, he said, it is at last possible to send an armor-piercing shell through armor and cause it to explode at exactly the distance behind the armor desired by the gunner. It will not matter whether the armor is one inch or 12 inches in thickness, the inventor said.

Beside the new safety detonating fuse, Maxim said, he could tell the diners about a new smokeless powder, stabillite, which he had just begun to manufacture, but which is still in the process of experimentation.

This new weapon of modern warfare, Maxim declared, would wipe out, he was convinced, most of the dangers attaching to the use of smokeless powder. Ordinary smokeless powder decomposed after a time varying from three months to a year and a half, he declared, according to the size of the powder, and the ordinary powder then began to decompose more or less rapidly. In the stage of decomposition, he said, and as that process advanced, the powder was liable to explode and cause such accidents as that which happened on the French battleship Iena recently. It was liable to spontaneous combusdow to hear at better and to locate it. There was a sleety, drizzling rain falling, driven by an icy wind. Wrapping herself up, Ada listened, and again there rang out the triumphant melody with many men's voices supported by the cornet. "He is risen; he is risen," she could hear and knew it for the Easter anthem. The voices were so far away they seemed to come from the very clouds. A sense of awe fell upon her when the faint light of a stormy dayeral Theological seminary in break touched the turreted roof of the Chelsea square, with its old steeple to the chapel where she had so

It stirred to the depths of the young listener's heart. With bated breath Ada stood there when a ray of sunlight broke through a cloud and touched the top of the tower. Then the song ceased, and in a minute every one of the singers had disappeared.

Ada felt like one in a dream all day. She was lifted above everything earthly and to a higher spiritual plane. That afternoon Harvey was taken suddenly ill with acute pleurisy, the result of his exposure on the tower to the rain and sleet.

Ada had been out for a walk, had seen the unconscious man carried away in an ambulance and had made a mental note of the hospital to which it belonged. How glad Ada felt as she remembered her active membership in the Flower mission! Every summer she had carried flowers to the different hospitals. This was April, but there were florists. With a great armful of fragrant blossoms Ada went to the hospital and found no difficulty in seeing the patient.

The doctor told her he was extremely ill. "But," he added, "with his fine constitution and splendid vitality he ought to pull through."

So every morning Ada went with the flowers and saw the sick man. He did not know her, but there came a day when he knew things again, and yet he thought he was dreaming when he saw the wistful brown eyes looking into his with pity and sympathy. The Flower mission kept up its activity until the patient could be taken back to the college, where in the warm spring sunshine he was soon himself again and studying with all his dillette in the distinguished author-actor's picturesque comedy-drama, "Clarice," at the Hollis Street theatre, Boston, for a limited engagement. There is something about Clarice" that is absolutely fascinating. It is different from the plays in which Mr. Gillette's en and stage work are already familiar to heatre-goers-distinctly different from his Secret Service" and "Sherlock Holmes" both in subject matter and treatment. While t has the same charm of romance and the same aquestionable power to thrill that its dramatic redecessors had, it is closer and truer to the hings we know and feel about life. It is a met, domestic comedy, with heart and soul in every line. Love is the dominant key, and entiment, of the sort that never fails to register with both old and young, is abundant. Another welcome thing about "Clarice" is that it has Mr. Gillette in the best and most human role he has ever played. He is making love from the noment the play begins until it ends and he makes love in the same masterly, manly and genuine way he has embodied in his other more heroic creations. Matinees are announced for Weinesday and Saturdays during the engagement. COLONIAL THEATRE.

A theatrical event of unusal importance is cheduled for the Colonial theatre, Boston, for two weeks, beginning March 25, when the Weber Theatre Company, direct from New York, will present the latest laughing success, Dream City " and " The Magle Knight," louble bill entertainment, with libretto and lyrics by Edgar Smith and music by Victor Herbert. "Dream City" deals with the invasion of a rural community by an up-to-date real estate agent, who has ideas for founding a odel city on the site of the peaceful village. His spacious arguments, so work upon the imagination of Wilhelm Dinglebender, a farmer with a large amount of land and a small liking for work, that the agriculturist dreams of the great wealth and glory that will be his when his farm is disposed of and the ideal city is constructed. His dream constitutes the second act of "Dream City." Farms and gardens now orm the site of skyscrapping buildings. Everyoody is wealthy, but not happy, especially Dinglebender, who sighs for a return to former conditions. The awakening is one of the surprises of the play. "The Magic Knight," which follows immediately is a travesty upon the opera of " Lohengrin," with all the characters of Waguer's famous masterpiece held up to good-natured ridicule. There is the distressed eroine, the villainous plotters, the Knight from Fairyland who comes to the rescue, and the final settlement of all differences.

KEITH'S THEATRE. "The Rocking Chair Girls," Syd Grant John Hyams and Lelia McIntyre, the Belle claire Brothers, Alice and Henry Taylor, Coakley and McBride, Raffayette's dogs, Zay Holland, Beaumont's ponies and the Olieveira trio will be the leading features at Keith's for the week commencing Monday, the 25th It is a separate. at 45 Phipps street. Miss Edith Atkins of Bromfield the Rocking Chair Girls in one of the most novel acts of the day. It is full of surprises, with a nice sensational finish. Syd Grant is a Boston boy who has won a place for himself among the eaders in the monologue line. "Two Hundred Wives " is the odd title of the odd skit with which John Hyams and Lelia McIntyre make merriment. Coakley and McBride are two of the cleverest comedians who appear in burnt-cork and are also great dancers. Monday, April 1, will mark the commencement of Vesta Victoria's engagement.

THE ORPHEUM.

At the Orpheum next week a very attractive vaudeville bill is announced which includes many popular favorites as well as a number of attractions which have found favor in other cities. The Empire City Quartet returns to the field of its former successes with a new repertoire of songs and a new budget of nonsense which will show the organization to equal advantage as vocalists and comedians. "Staley's Transformation," a novel musical act, is also a eading feature in the bill; Myles McCarthy and his dramatic company will give the first production here of the racing playet "The Race

Tout's Dream." CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

It is in response to repeated demands that the nanagement of the Castle Square Theatre is reviving the popular melodrama "Under Two Flags" next week. This play is adapted from Ouida's novel of the same name, and two years go at the same house it drew unnumbered throngs of playgoers that thoroughly appreciated its many stirring scenes. Its reception durng the coming week will be no less. The Atempted Arrest in Picadilly, London; The Great Square in Algiers, outside the Barracks of the Chasseurs d'Afrique; The Tent of the "Silver Pheasant;" The Ordnance Room in the tion of the regulations relative to stables at Fortress of Bou-Media; The Gorge of El Biar in the Algerian Desert; The Barrack's Court, Algiers; are the six picturesque scenes into which it is divided.

The Magazines.

An interesting feature of the April number of Suburban Life is an article by Dr. George L. Meylen, Physical Director of Columbia University, on "A Revival of the Forgotten Art of Walking." Dr. Meylan deplores the rush of modern city life which has deprived the city-dweller of one of the best forms of exercise, but he prophesies that a revival is sure to come. Several interesting anecdotes tell what walking has done for several men who had almost orgotten what it meant.

Morality of Christian Science

The third and last of the series of lectures upon Christian Science was delivered by Rev. W. S. Perkins D. D., at the Universalist Church on Sunday afternoon. The subject was: "The Morality of Christian Science and its effect upon the community." The text was: "Rejoice with them that rejoice and weep with them that weep."-Romans 12:15.

The word Morality in this case is used in the broad and not in the narrow way it is usually understood. There are two things that must always be considered in any object to be attained. First, -Aim or object; Sec ond, method by which that object is obtained.

In the first, the aim or object of the Christian Science church is that of happiness of mankind-and is surely a most worthy aim, especially when the word happiness is taken in its broadest neaning. Thus none but the strongest words of commendation are due them for their motive.

Under the second heading or method by which the object is obtained.

According to Christian Science the most necessary thing in happiness is which would confine our movements, if we are to preserve health, but should we place health above every thing else.

A person may not feel as well one day as he does another, and yet may not make every one he meets miserable by the Boston Gear Works at Norfolk he really believes himself a very sick man, -but on the other hand, is it At 4.49 an alarm was sounded from right for the man who is really sick to

New York, March 25.-Harry K. Thaw last night made public another statement, this time denying a rumor is a dissension among his counsel. He says, was never exacted. also refers to the attidavits filed with ••••••• Justice Fitzgerald by his attorneys, opposing the appointment of a lunacy ommission to examine him.

The monotony of Thaw's Sunday at the Tombs was broken by an unexpected visit from his wife. This was the rst time since his detention that th oner was allowed to receive caller message for her husband and was told that she might visit him. The two ere together for a half hour. Mrs. aw said her husband was in excellent ealth and "sure that everything will come out in his favor." The prisoner's attorneys did not visi him yesterday. During the afternoon Thaw received a note from Lawye O'Reilly, explaining that none of the legal staff would call during the day and stating that Mr. Hartridge and the writer were busily engaged in prepar ing briefs to be presented to Justic

Fitzgerald. District Attorney Jerome and hi chief assistant on the Thaw case were at their offices yesterday. Jerome for about two hours dictated to a corps of stenographers a long statement which Miss Collins is having her millinery took them until late in the day to transcribe. Jerome said it was a statemer to be submitted to Fitzgerald and would not be given out in advance of its presentation at court.

SMALLPOX SCOURGE

An Outbreak at Lawrence of Quite Serious Proportions

Lawrence, Mass., March 25.-Twelve cases of smallpox were discovered in a section of the city near Essex street. The cases had been diagnosed as chickenpox, but an examination by physicians of the board of health, assisted by an expert in contagious diseases from Boston, disclosed the fact that the disease is smallpox.

Public vaccination is contemplated. The last public vaccination was 24 years ago. There was a school vaccination in 1893, and since then the schoo vaccination law has been partially observed. Thousands of unvaccinated persons are in the city at present, and here is dire fear that epidemic may

The present outbreak has been traced o a person who arrived from Prince Edward Island, who, although reported at the time to have been a chickenpos victim, in reality had smallpox.

Drs. Smith, Eidam and McGee of the board of health held a conference last night, after an all-day tour among the victims, and decided that the condition at present is fraught with grave poss bilities, which may end in a terrible ep

Managua, Nic., March 25 .- Santo Remirez, director general of telegraph and telephones, made the following statement to the press:

"The Nicaraguan forces have cap tured Choluteca, Honduras, which was held by the Honduran and Salvadorean troops, and President Bonilla has fled by boat. Steamers will pursue the fugitive president. I believe the war is

The government is without further advices concerning the capture of Choluteca, but details are expected shortly. Choluteca is the most strongly fortified town of Honduras. It is on the Choluteca river, about three miles from the Gulf of Fonseca. It was here, some years ago, that ex-President Vasquez was defeated by allied revolutionists and Nicaraguans.

Washington, March 25 .- President Bonilla has fled from the battlefield and the Central American war has practically ended, according to cable dispatches received in Washington by the Nicaraguan minister, Mr. Corea. The fall of the Honduras capital, Tegucigalpa, today, is predicted by the Nicaraguan secretary of foreign affairs, Mr. Gamez.

The cablegram from the secretary of foreign affairs follows:

"Choluteca taken. Salvadorean and Honduran combined armies defeated. President Bonilla hidden in San Lorenzo with 200 men. Sent steamers to capture him. Tegucigalpa will be taken telegraphs and telephones, sent this "It is my opinion that the war is terminated. Bonilla fled from Choluteca by sail."

When shown the dispatch announce ing that Bonilla had fled from Hondura: by boat, Minister Corea expressed the would go to Salvador and again recrui his army for a second attack on Nic aragua unless the United States and Mexico exercise their good offices to the extent of insisting that Salvador and Guatemala maintain neutrality If this is done, Corea says, the war i that it will only be a question of a short time until hostilities are again resumed. The Nicaraguan minister will ask See retary Root and the Mexican ambassador. Mr. Creel, to take some steps to force Salvador and Guatemala to keen their neutrality pledge. Mexico and the United States will egain make a formal offer of their good offices in the settlement of the Central American troubles, according to promi nent state department officials, when the opportune moment for such a proffer arrives, which, it is believed, cannot be far distant. In the event that the offer to assist in hastening the arbitration is not accepted, it is generally believed in diplomatic circles that joint intervention is inevitable. The Mexican ambassador and Secretary Root have been in daily conference and in constant communication with other Latin-American diplomatists.

Famine Helps Sedition to Gain Ground In China

DYNASTY IS THREATENED

A Source of Alarm to United States and Every Other Nation Which Has Interests and People In the Celestial Empire

Washinggton, March 25 .- From Shanghai advices received at the state department, it appears that the ruling dynasty in China is seriously alarmed over the effect of the famine through the country and the opportunity it offers to seditionary societies to enlist converts to the cause directed against the government.

The suffering of the people is used as capital, it is said, in that judicious as suaging of want places the person given assistance under obligations to the Easter vacation with her parents a the societies. The government's in ability to relieve suffering, it is said, has been magnified, and the hardships of the people attributed to lack of sympathy by the government for the poor classes.

The information received here indi cates that a propaganda has been or ganized to further the circulation of stories of the character outlined and it is said that state department officials fear that a spread of hysteria may engender a general uprising. If such should be the result there is danger tha the government might not be able to control the situation. American and other foreign interests then would be jeopardized. So great is the concern that diplomatic and consular officials in China have been instructed to keep Washington advised in regard to the sit uation and of every turn taken.

That the Chinese government recog nizes the danger is shown by the fact that Viceroy Tuan Fang of Yanking has memorialized the throne for $1. 000,000 to purchase East Indian rice to feed his people. Undoubtedly this step was taken to offset the work that ha been done by the seditionary societies as well as to relieve the immediate sur fering. In taking this action the vice roy predicted a general uprising in the famine-stricken districts unless prompt relief is provided, but he did not refer to the trouble that has been stirred up by the anti-government societies.

An extra effort will be made in the United States to broaden the scope of the movement to find relief for the Ch. nese. Already there have been large sums of money collected and dispatched to China to be used in the purchase of food, and in the near future the trans port Buford will sail from San Francisco with a shipload of provisions given by Louis Klopsch, editor of The Christian Herald.

A general movement throughout the civilized world to aid the sufferers, it is believed, will enable the Chinese gov ernment to strengthen its hands and possibly suppress uprisings and riots. For the protection of foreigners in China, the United States and European countries are prompted by self, as well as humanitarian interest, to come promptly to the assistance of the celestial empire.

That any movement which threatens the overthrow of the present dynasty States and every European nation which has interests and people in China is not denied. The life of every white person in China is believed by officials the continuance of the Chinese govern ment as it stands, the Boxer uprising being cited as an instance of what might result if the present government should be weakened.

ployed on all kinds of granite work. Mr. Costa has reduced his invention to a single holder and tools, doing away with bolts and all other additons such as are found in the manypieced holders now in use.

The holder can be used in many different forms and sizes, but the most common holder is the one used re commonly called, is in the case be cooler and more campact so that it can be operated very easily. In order to prepare it for working, the operator places the tools in position in the socket, makes them secure by a blow upon the ends, and the tools are ready for work.

With the bolt hammer, which has been in use up to the present time, considerable labor and time is necessary to get it ready for use. The operator must take it to a vice, place the tools in position, secure them by bolts and nuts and then return the tools to the stone. In removing the tools, the reverse is necessary.

In Mr. Costa's hammer, however tapered key, placed in the tapered slot shown in the bottom of the socket, passes transversly over the inner ends of the tools. operator strikes it upon the wide end a few times, and the tools are all re leased together at the same time. In portunity for the breaking of bolts and shanks, which has been the greatest disadvantage of the hammers now in use.

Another Violent Decline In the New York Market

Drop In Copper Metal Followed by General List Without Exception -- Record of Crumbling Quotations

New York, March 26 .- There was a riolent slump in prices on the Stock Exchange again yesterday, accompanied by exciting trading, but without news to account for it other than a decline in metal prices in London and higher rates for call money.

The monetary situation did not seem ***************** attract much attention, however, nd, according to brokers and members f banking firms, there was nothing to xplain the rapid melting away of ices except that holders of stocks t care much as to the price they got their shares.

American Smelting was one of the reakest features, falling an extreme 13 1-4 points, but the United States steel Corporation shares and the railads also made wide declines. Bankrs generally said that no one was in lifficulties, that brokerage houses had protected themselves with ample mar gins, and that whatever might be the inderlying cause of the recent precipi tate declines in market quotations, they did not believe that it was fear of any one failing to meet his liabilities.

The market opened irregular, with some stocks showing a rather strong general list without exception.

Brokers everywhere had heavy orders to sell and the scene on the floor of the exchange was one of considerable ex citement and confusion as the excited traders sought to execute their com missions. After the first demoralization there came a quieter period of trading and the market steadled only to give way again just as soon as the pres sure to sell was resumed. Favorable features, such as the better feeling in Europe, the reassuring interview with Lord Rothschild, gold per for the Point parish, occurs Wed- engagements in London and an announcement of further government aid ing demand, apparently to close out short contracts, appeared, and gave prices a rally. At the last the market was excited and irregular, with quotations better than the lowest, but showing a wide decline from Saturday's figures. The total sales for the day were 1.702.052 shares.

YEGG GANG CAUGHT

Had a Large Assortment of Guns and Burglars' Tools

Boston, March 26 .- With a handsome woman as their leader, and believed to be one of the most daring gang of yeggmen that ever operated in this count try, six men and their female companion were rounded up by the officers of station 5 in a raid on the premises at 25 Albion street. The prisoners have been recognized, the police say, as men with records and who are wanted in various parts of the country for crimes ranging from highway robbery to at HERBERT A. HAYDEN empt at murder. In court the woman was held in $500 and the men in $1200 each for a hearing ne week hence.

It is believed by the police that the woman who was captured in the raid has, by her fertile brain, planned and earried out a number of daring robberies in various parts of Massachusetts. To her, also, is attributed the organizaion of the gang.

The police found a dress suit case and a steamer trunk which contained the most interesting assortment of safeblowers' paraphernalia which it has been the fortune of them to pounce up on in a long while. There were five revolvers of varying calibre, one of anted to sell them and apparently did which had three notches which interest the police. War of Short Duration Gives In Behalt of His Country

Washington, March 26.-Senor Corea. the Nicaraguan minister, last night received a dispatch from President Zelaya of Nicaragua announcing the capture and occupation of Tegucigalpa, the capital of Honduras.

Nicaraguans, coupled with the recent defeat of the forces of Honduras and Salvador at Choluteca and the flight of President Bonilla of Honduras, puts an end to the latest Central American war. It is now probable that Nicaragua will nstall another president at Tegucigalpa in lieu of President Bonilla and then withdraw her troops to her own terri-

The conflict has been of short duraon, and judging from the reports which have been received here none of he various engagements has been seri us. The casualties have been comparatively light, 400 or 500 in the most important engagement reported, the one at Choluteca.

The United States sent gunboats to th the Pacific and Atlantic coasts rovernment at the time and the govern ment of Monduras approved the action taken by the United States.

Honduras and Nicaragua appeared to be becoming acute. Mexico and the United States endeavored to avert an open conflict. In spite of the fact the president of both countries assured President Roosevelt that peace would be maintained, these promises went for naught, and hostilities broke out in the early part of February. The United situation, and worked to your own advantage. on, but stood ready to put a stop to it if t went too far or threatened seriously o endanger foreign interests.

Setting aside the mule that the Nic the frontier town of Las Manos on night, the cause of the conflict apparenty is found in the ambition of Presilent Zelaya of Nicaragua to see as would favorably consider the claims of Nicaragua in the matter of delimiting he boundary between the two cour ries. An underlying motive lies pos sibly in Zelaya's more far-reaching ambitions; he is credited with a strong desire to bring about a federation of the states of Central America, and Honluras stood in his way. On the other aand, it is asserted in some quarters that President Bonilla brought about the trouble for the sole purpose of everting disaster at the hands of the revolutionary party, daily growing stronger in Honduras.

that each country has time and again lisavowed any and all responsibility for the war, each throwing the blame entirely upon the other. Accusations and counter-accusations from both governments concerned have taken up almost as much space in the press as have the reports of actual engagenents.

This is the second time Honduras and Nicaragua have been at war. The first conflict occurred in 1894, beginning in January. General Bonilla, at the head of a force of Honduran insurgents, invaded Honduras from Nicaragua, and with the virtual support of the president of Nicaragua. Several successes emboldened him to form a ministry with himself as president.

Tegucigalpa was taken after severe ighting on the 25th, and the war came o an end with the signing of a protocol for the consolidating of Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador into one republic.

Honduras has been helped in this war by Salvador, with whom she had an offensive and defensive alliance and she has had to contend with a rebellious outbreak of her own people. This was also the case in Nicaragua, the latent revolutionists in each country seemingly taking advantage of the lifficulties of the government to furher their own cause. Only three Cenral American states have become inolved, Costa Rica and Guatemala reaining neutral.

QUESTION AS TO LUNACY

Judge Opens and Adjourns Court After Long Wait by Attorneys Without Announcement as to His Intentions

New York, March 26.-In anticipation of some action on the part of Justice Fitzgerald regarding the appointment of a lunacy commission for Harry K. Thaw, District Attorney Jerome and all of the counsel for the defense were present in the griminal branch of the supreme court Monday morning at 11 clock. Justice Fitzgerald had fixed case he should desire further evidence from either side or an argument of any

The defendant's family were all in ourt. Mrs. Evelyn Thaw came down town alone and entered the criminal courts building unaccompanied. Mrs. William Thaw and her two daughters, the Countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. George L. Carnegie, arrived together, and Edward Thaw appeared soon there-

There was a long wait for Justice Fitzgerald, who did not arrive until after 3 o'clock. By this time the women members of the Thaw family had become tired out and had returned to their hotels.

When the judge finally took his place on the bench he merely went through almost empty. He looked from the the formality of having the court seslast Friday for the jury to make its reappearance in the case. Justice Fitzgerald made no announcement whatever to the attorneys and they vouchsafed none, the ceremonies in court ocupying less than two minutes.

murmured. Mlle. Flossie said nothing, but her eyes shone. "The question, monsieur?"

"What has become of Mlle. Phyllis Poynton, the young English lady?" The eves of madame seemed to narrow for a moment. M. Louis lit a cigarette with fingers which shook a little, and the fair face of Mlle, Flossie was suddenly white. Then they all three looked at one another. "Do you know whom monsieur may

Shall I do it, or will you earn another roll by giving me the information 1

Madame leaned forward and whispered in the man's ear. M. Louis nod-"Tell him," Mlle. Flossie murmured tremulously. "Monsieur will not break faith with us. He will not let it be known from whence he gained the Sawed and Split to Order at Short Notice knowledge." "Agreed!" the young Englishman declared. "Go on."

Madame held up her hand. "I," she said, "will tell monsieur what we know."

She rose to her feet and leaned over the table. The blue black sequins on her dress glittered and shone in the dull light. Her figure was superb, her neck and bosom a flawless white. The Englishman, however, was unmoved. His keen, gray eyes were fixed upon her, but the revolver remained in his "I invited you into a private room right hand. From downstairs they here," he continued. "If I can aid you could hear the music of violins, the in any way I am entirely at your serv- rattle of glasses, the hum of voices and Madame frowned slightly as she marked the young Englishman's alertness. She was used to victims, and his imperturbability annoyed her. "I trust," she said, "that you will remember, monsieur, that I am breaking a pledged word. If monsieur the director here knew that I was telling you of Mlle. Poynton there would be much trouble for all of us." Duncombe nodded. "Go on," he said.

"Mademoiselle came here first about a month or perhaps six weeks ago,' she said. "From that time on she was a regular visitor. She came alone. She spoke to no one. She was always a mystery. She was very handsomely dressed-for an English girl; quite chic! She spent money, and M. Alfred, the director, kept always a table for her. As time went on we began to feel the mystery. We asked ourselves for what purpose does she come here? For what, indeed! "One night M. Alfred, who was always besieged with questions about her, took too much wine. I have seen that happen with him but once-since that time never. He told us about mademoiselle. She made some in quiries, and M. Alfred was able to tel! her his whereabouts. After that he scarcely expected to see her again, but the next night she was here also.

"Then M. Alfred learned more. Mademoiselle was in a small way an artist, and she had conceived the idea of painting a picture of the cafe-an early morning picture of effects, monsieur understands. There was to be the morning sunlight streaming across the supper tables, the faces of all of us aged and haggard. M. Louis here without doubt a very child of the devil! Oh, a very moral picture, monsieur! It was to convert us all. M. Alfred declared that he would arrange to have it here on exhibition, and we should all mend our ways. Monsieur knew perhaps that the young lady was an artist?"

The question was flashed suddenly upon him as though the intention was to take him by surprise. Duncombe, however, remained unmoved.

"I am here, madame, to ask, not to answer, questions," he said. "Will you kindly proceed? I am greatly interested. Madame put her hand to her throat for a moment as though to loosen her necklace. She had not the appearance of being greatly in love with her questioner.

"There came a night," she continued, "when mademoiselle broke through her rule. A man came in and sat at her table. His name was the Vicomte D'Aubarde, and he was known to most of us, though to the young lady he appeared to be a stranger. They talked earnestly for an hour or more When she left, he accompanied her!" The Englishman had grown paler

Madame saw it and smiled. Her lover perhaps! It was good to make him

"A week tonight," madame replied. Duncombe laid down a roll of notes upon the table.

"I wish," he said, "to prove to you that I am in earnest. I am therefore know from you, and for that I offer going to pay you the amount I promised, although I am perfectly well aware that the story of madame is

"I will pay the bill downstairs," he said. "Good night. Think over what I have said. Ten thousand francs!" M. Louis stood up and bowed stiffly Mlle. Flossie ventured to throw him

Councilman Stone replied yes. The motin of the Councilman to cut the Assessors was lost 10 voting yes and 11 no.

SCHOOL ITEM. Councilman Folconer moved to amend the school budget by combining the first six items into one making the amount $128,065 instead of $132,065. Councilman Falconer then read figures giving the cost per capita in Quncy for several years, the average being $23.34. The amount for salaries is $5,000 more than the commiftee said they would need when the increase was made last year. Councilman Sawyer saw no reatem by item.

Councilman Brokaw desired to consider the items separately.

Councilman Hull the average cost per pupil in Quincy is $21.59 while the average for the State is $28.79. In other words Quincy educates at $7.20 below the average of the State. If you had children in the High school and found that each term the system was changed several times by having changes in teachers you would be willing to increase the salaries. If the policy continues of having new teachers we can not keep up our standard. Councilman Hayward-In to develop children they must be trained under proper conditions. As soon as our teachers get experience they are taken by other places where salaries are higher. We can not economize in educating children who are to carry on business of the city. Councilman Pinkham desired to have the Superintendent of School appear before the Council but the President ruled it out of order.

Councilman Pinkham then moved that the Council go into a committee of the whole. Voted.

Keep off the Tracks

There came very near being a fatal accident at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening on the railroad tracks just south of the Quincy depot. An outward express train and an inward 5 o'clock train were approaching from opposite directions. The boys saw one of the trains but not the other until it was almost upon them. Supt. Austin who was near by saw the danger. He grabbed one of the boys and pulled him from the track and the other boy made a jump and landed on the stone wall just as the train passed. To those that stood on the depot platform and saw them it looked as though the boys would be struck and killed.

A LUNAGY INQUIRY

To Determine Status of Thaw's Mental Condition

A COMMISSION OF THREE

Detendant Says He Has No Doubt That He Will Be Declared Sane--His Lawyers and Jerome Appear to Be Satisfied

New York, March 27 .- Harry K. Thaw may never again face the jury empanelled more than nine weeks ago to try him on the charge of murder in the first degree. Justice Fitzgerald unexpectedly handed down a decision ordering a commission in lunacy to in-********** quire into the present state of mind of Stanford White's slayer.

The decision of the three disinter ested men named to conduct the inquiry will guide the future action of the court as to ordering Thaw to an asylum for the insane or directing that the indefinitely interrupted trial for his life shall proceed.

Justice Fitzgerald announced the appointment of the commission privately in his chambers. Evelyn N. Thaw was there with the lawyers and it became her task to break the news to her husband in the Tombs. Tearful when she | that his wife committed suicide, but the left the judge's rooms in the criminal courts building, the young woman was the testimony of the man's 6-year-old smiling and cheerful when Thaw was accepted the court's decision philosophically and once more declared he had no doubt the commission would declare him a sane man now.

The personnel of the commission named by Justice Fitzgerald lends a new distinction to this already notable case. ## HEADING OFF TAFT

Foraker Attempts to Puncture a Presidential Boom

OUT WITH A CHALLENGE

Wants Ohio People to Decide Who Will Be Choice For President and Senator--May Enter Fight to Succeed Roosevelt

Washington, March 27 .- That Senator Foraker does not concede that Secretary Taft will be Ohio's choice for the presidential nomination next year is made plain by a statement issued by the senator last night. Foraker says that he "does not want any political honors from the people of Ohio without their hearty approval" and he suggests that the proper way to determine who ls the choice of the people to head the Republican national ticket and to repre sent the state in the United States senate is for the Republican state execu tive committee to authorize a primary election to choose delegates to the state convention, which will be called upon to determine these questions. The announcement of State Superintendent of Insurance Vorys that he will support Taft for the presidential nomi nation led Foraker, it is believed, to issue the statement outlining his position. Foraker declares that he is willing to go before the people on his record and that he has "nothing to conceal from his constituents." Foraker does not say that he will be a candidate to succeed President Roosevelt, but it is generally understood among his friends in Washington that at a later date he will formally announce his candidacy and that if the primary election is called in Ohio he will enter into the fight to secure the endorsement of his own state. Foraker's statement in full fol-

"I have been so busily occupied that have had neither time nor disposition to even think about politics, either state or national; especially politics that belong to next year.

"It seems to me premature to be now discussing what is so far ahead. However, in view of the interviews and an nouncements of one kind and another that are appearing in the newspapers I feel that I may with propriety say that I do not want any political honors from the Republicans of Ohio without their hearty approval.

"In order that there may be no doubt as to their preferences, I shall at the proper time request the Republican state central committee to issue a call for a Republican state convention, to be composed of delegates elected by the Republicans of the state at duly authorized primary elections, for the purfor state offices to be voted for at our next state election, but also to determine the preference of the Republicans of Ohio as to candidates for United States senator and for presi-

"If this suggestion should meet with favor, it should be provided that the primary elections shall be held at a convenient time long enough after the call therefor has been issued to enable all who are interested in the work of the convention, so to be chosen, to appear before the people and discuss the public questions about which we are all concerned, so that the people who are interested may act intelligently in the selection of their delegates, thus bringing this selection as nearly to a direct popular vote as it possible under the laws now in force.

"I have no opinions to conceal from my constituents and there is no point in my public record as to which I am not ready to render them a full ac-

Paralysis is a disease whose cause is shrouded in mystery. If you were to investigate earefully all cases of Paralysis you would find that at some time previous to the attack, the patient suffered from some form of rheumatism. Possibly like so many others, he thought it was only a slight matter of temporary inconvenience and paid no further attention to it. Rheumatism is not to be neglected with impunity. The Uric and poissonous Rheumatic Acid must be neutralized and driven from the system as soon as they put in an appearance. Do this with Uric-O.

It is a harmless vegetable preparation and does not contain a single drop of alcohel. It operates by its action upon the blood, muscles and kidneys and cures Rheumatism to stay cured. We might give you testimonials from thousands of people in all parts of the country, but we would rather have you talk with some one whom you know and can believe. Next time you are down town, just drop into the store of E. J. Murphy, Quincy's popular druggist, and ask him about Uric-O. We won't predict what he will say, but we have confidence enough in the remedy to leave it to him. Uric-O is not a cathartic, nor does it affect or distress the stomach in any way. Uric-O is a cure for Rheumatism and for Rheumatism only. That is why it is such a great success. It does one thing and does that one thing perfectly. Most druggists sell Uric-O at 75c and $1.00 the bottle, but you can have a sample bottle free if you cut out this advertisement and send it with your name and address to the Simil Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y. Sometimes they send an order on your druggist for a 75c bottle free of charge in reply to those requests for a sample. Washington, March 27 .-- Although the president has not been thrown into a panic over the apparent financial demoralization in Wall street, it is not unnatural that he should be somewhat concerned over the situation. the secretary of the treasury, collectors of customs throughout the country were directed to deposit their customs receipts in the regular depositories. This, however, did not embrace the socalled sub-treasury cities. These instructions were enlarged by the secretary so that the public deposits with national bank depositories in New York city were increased about $15,000,000 from customs receipts under the provi sions of the act of March 4, 1907. This action is taken with a view to facilitating the redemption of the 4 percent bonds of 1907, and also to render available additional funds for the usual disbursements occuring on April 1.

As a second step the secretary instructed the treasurer of the United States to mail at once to the owners the checks for interest due April 1, 1907, on egistered bonds of the 2 percent conols of 1930 and the 4 percent funded oan of 1907. Meantime the president is saying to callers that he will not at this time oush his campaign in favor of an inestigation by the interstate commerce commission for the purpose of getting at the real value of the railroad properties of the country. There is reason to believe too that there will be a subsidence of railroad regulation talk by the administration until the present storm blows over. The president is aware that his purposes if announced n detail at this time would be misrepresented to the financial detriment of the whole country. #### CLAIMS SELF-DEFENSE

Janitor of Boston Building Kills

One of Its Occupants Boston, March 27 .- William F. Saunders, 38 years old, was shot in the left breast and almost instantly killed late last night in the hallway at 33 Wellington street by George F. Seaver, 49 years old, the janitor of the building. Seaver, who was locked up on the charge of murder, claims that he shot Saunders in self-defense.

Those in the house who heard the shooting rushed into the hall and found the body of Saunders. Seaver was standing nearby with a revolver in his hand and told those who surrounded him that Saunders had attacked himand that he shot him in defending himself. The police were notified and Seaver was arrested. Saunders' wife was one of those who rushed into the hallway and was nearly overcome up-

Cash Prizes For Children

Children are always interested in conests, and the general public may profit when they learn from the young people their views on questions the Daily Ledger will propound. There will be a new question each week, and each week a cash prize of $1 and two other prizes will be awarded. Letters is reply should be limited to 150 words and tell why. They should be forwarded to "Contest Editor, Daily Ledger, Quincy, Mass.," and reach the office before Thursday, April 4. Only boys and girls in the schools of the city can enter the contest, and they are requested to state age and school. Please write on one side of paper only with margin at top and bottom and on each side. The prize topic for the first week is 'Why I like to live in Quincy."

Several of the letters received will be published in the Saturday eight-page Daily Ledger on April 6, when a new contest will be started.

Services Held In Catholic Churches Of the City

Maundy Thursday services were celebrated in all of the Catholic churches in the city this morning with due solemnity.

At St. John's church there was a solemn high mass at 8 o'clock with Rev. John J. Coan as celebrant, Rev. Julian E. Johnstone as deacon and Rev. John J. Casey as sub-deacon After the singing of the Gloria, the organ was hushed and the musical part of the service sung without any accompaniment. This will continue until the Gloria in the mass Saturday morning when the organ will again burst forth. At the conclusion of the mass this morning there was a procession of the blessed sacrament to the special repository in the basement. The processon was participated in by the priests, altar boys and hundreds of ittle girls and boys.

The repository was a handsome lighted with hundreds of candles and will remain there until Friday morning, and public prayers will be offered before it tonight.

At St. Mary's church at West Quincy nigh mass was celebrated by Rev. A. F. Roche. The repository in this church was placed in the shrine of the blessed virgin and was handsomely decorated with flowers and colored around the church before it was deposited in the repository.

In a letter to Fitzgerald, O'Brien stated that upon reflection he was forced by the condition of his health and professional engagements previously entered into to decline to serve as a member of the commission.

As soon as this letter was received y Fitzgerald, he made a new order, apinting David McClure, an attorney of his city, to fill the vacancy. McClure met the other members of the commission and was selected as chairman. He later announced that the first session of the commission will be held this afternoon in the courtroom where the trial has been in progress. ## INVOLVES 45.000 MEN

Wage Disagreement May Result In Great Railroad Strike

Chicago, March 28 .- The 45,000 trainmen of the western railroads seem nearer a strike than at any time since the negotiations were begun two months ago for an increase of 12 percent in wages and a workday of nine hours. The conference yesterday between the representatives of the men and the railroad officials lasted four hours, but was a failure in bringing about a solution of the trouble. The railroads offered the men increases of 7 percent to passenger conductors and 10 percent to brakemen, firemen, baggagemen and allied workers. When the railroad officers declared their offer was the best that could be made the conference came to an end, as the men, by a referendum vote taken last week, had decided not to accept anything less than their original demands.

Representatives of the trainmen are a unit in declaring that a peaceable settlement of the controversy can be reached only by the general managers offering concessions. The outlook is that a strike will be called within the next 24 hours unless the railroads request another conference.

Claims Detention Is Unlawful St. Louis, March 28 .- Another petition for a writ of habeas corpus has been filed in the United States circuit court of appeals on behalf of George W. Leavenworth, Kan. CHAPTER IX. LLE. MERMILLION was not warmly welcomed at the Grand hotel. The porter believed that Sir George Duncombe was out. He would inquire if mademoiselle would wait, but he did not usher her into the drawing room, as would have been his duty in an ordinary case, or even ask her to take

Mlle. Mermillion was of the order of young person who resents, but this afternoon she was far too nervous. During the porter's temporary absence she started at every footstep and scrutinized anxiously every passerby. Often she looked behind her through the glass oors into the street. When at last and drove to the Cafe Montmartre. he reappeared alone her disappoint-

Mademoiselle decided to leave a note. The porter supplied her with note paper and envelopes. She sat down at a small round table and once more glanced around. Convinced that she was not being watched, she hastily wrote a few lines, sealed and addressed the envelope and handed it to the

She entered a cafe and drank a petit verre. As she set her glass down a man looked at her over the top of his newspaper. She tried to smile, but her heart was beating, and she was

"What a fool I am!" she muttered. "It is a stranger too. If he were one of Gustav's lot, I should know him." She returned his smile, and he came and sat down beside her. They had another liqueur together. Later they left the place together.

Duncombe returned to his hotel tired out after a disappointing day spent in making fruitless inquiries in various parts of Paris. He had learned nothing. He seemed as far off the truth as ever. He opened the note which the porter handed him listlessly enough. After-

I will come at half FLOSSIE.

Duncombe drew a little sigh of relief. At last, then, he was to know something. He was very English, a bad amateur detective and very weary of his task. Nothing but his intense interest in the girl herself-an interest which seemed to have upset the whole tenor of his life-would have kept him here plodding so relentlessly away at a task which seemed daily to present more difficulties and complications. Yet so absorbed had he become that the ordinary duties and pleasures which made up the routine of his life scarcely ever even entered into his mind. There had been men coming down to shoot whom in an ordinary way he would not have dreamed of putting off, a cricket match which had been postponed until his return and which he had completely forgotten. Paris had nothing in the shape of amusement to offer him in place of these things, yet in his own mind these things were as they had not been. Every interest and every energy of his life were concentrated upon the one simple object of his search.

He gave the man half a crown and walked to the lift whistling. The porter shook his head, and Duncombe re ceded considerably in his estimation notwithstanding the tip. He considered Mlle. Flossie a little obvious for a gentleman of Duncombe's class. Duncombe treated himself to a cocktail and a cigarette as he changed his clothes. It was positively the first gleam of hope he had had. And then suddenly he remembered Spencer's warning, and he became grave.

He was at the Cafe Sylvain early. He ordered dinner, gave elaborate instructions about a young lady when she arrived and with a glass of abman at the desk was speaking to him.

Close at hand. He looked up. The wo-man at the desk was speaking to him.

to wait. At a quarter to 8 he began to get restless. He summoned the waiter again and gave a more detailed description of Mile. Flossie. The waiter was regretful, but positive. No young lady of any description had arrived expecting to meet a gentleman in a private room. Duncombe tried him with her name. But, yes, Mlle. Mermillion was exceedingly well known

At a quarter past 8 Duncombe dined alone, too disappointed to resent the waiter's sympathetic attitude. At 9 o'clock he returned to the hotel on the chance that a message might have been sent there. He read the English newspapers and wrote letters until midnight. Then he ordered a carriage

He mounted the stairs and passed through the little bar which led into the supper room, M. Alfred came forward, with a low bow.

"You can find me a table, I suppose?" Duncombe remarked, looking round. 'Where shall I sit?" M. Alfred shook his head slowly

His hands were outstretched, his manner sad, but resigned. "I am very sorry, monsieur, but tonight every place is taken. I have had to turn others away already," he declared. "A thousand regrets." Duncombe looked at him astonished. The place was more than half empty. "Surely you can find me a small table somewhere," he said. "I was here last evening, you know. If it is because I am alone I will order supper for two and magnum of wine." M. Alfred was immovable. He renembered Duncombe well, and he was proud of his patronage, but tonight it was impossible to offer him a table.

Duncombe began to be annoyed. "Very well," he said; "I will stay in the bar. You can't turn me out of there, can you?" M. Alfred was evasive. He desired

M. Duncombe to be amused, and the people who remained in the bar-well, it was not possible to get rid of them, but they were not fitting company for

"There is the Cafe Mazarin," he added confidentially, "a few steps only from here, a most amusing place. The most wonderful ladies there, too-very chic and crowded every night. Mon-Deur should really try it. The comhissionaire would direct him-a few yards only." "Much obliged to you," Duncombe answered, turning on his heel. "I may look in there presently."

He seated himself at a small round table and ordered a drink. The people here were of a slightly different class from those who had the entree to the supper room and were mostly crowded sage, with dresses and other articles round the bar itself. Braintree was largely represented t the district court this morning at he inquest held before Judge Avery o determine the legality of the reent town meeting. The inquest was neld upon the complaint of Henry Dugan who was defeated for the office of constable.

Mr. Dugan in his complaint alleges that discriminating marks were made upon the ballot used at the election; that the names on the official ballots were not arranged in alphbetical order; that John Kelley acted as an election officer when he was a candidate for office; that deputy election officers were allowed to assist the regular officers in the counting of ballots, and outside parties were allowed inside the space reserved for election officers.

There were seventeen names on the official ballot for constables, fifteen of whom were to be elected.

Mr. Dugan was not a caucus nomnee, but his name appeared upon the ballot by nominations papers. George E. Adams, Esq., represented the district attorney and C. C.

Stolen Mail Bag Found in Reservation

A spare mail pouch that was stolen from the Atlantic post-office at the time of the burglary March 18, was found Thursday at the Blue Hills Reservation by Officer Donahue of the Park police. It was about 200 feet off Sawcut Nach road near what is known as "The Crags." Officer Donahue turned the pouch over to Supt. Costello of the Park police, who immediately notified the authorities at Boston and Quincy.

The pouch contained one hundred 5 and 10 cent stamps, a number of post-office receipts and two photograph proofs of a man and woman. Whether these proofs were part of the mail that was in the pouch at the time it was taken is not known. As the break at Atlantic took place about 2 o'clock, it must have been nearly day light when the parties reached the place where the bag was left as it is all of three miles away. The route probably taken by the Uric-O Treatment.

If rheumatism continues to spread as it has in the pastfew years, it would seem as though we would before long become a nation of cripples. The terrible destructiveness of this disease is apparent on every side of us. Almost nine out of ten of the cripples one meets had their affliction brought on by Rheumatism. How many thousands more there are that are hopelessly bed-ridden and whom we never see. Rheumatism from the very nature of the disease, can never cure itself, and if neglected, is bound to grow worse rather than better. If you ever have any twinges of Rheumatism go to E. J. "AN ARMED CAMP"

All Central America Is Now on the Alert For Attack

Washington, March 29 .- The moment has not yet arrived when Amer ica and Mexico can intervene to stop Sixty degree temperature this morn- the spread of war in Central America. This was the decision arrived at as the result of a conference between Secretary Root and Ambassador Creel at the state department.

The secretary also had the benefit of the advices received by the diplomatic representatives of the Central American states from their own govern ments. The absence of definite information from the seat of trouble is em barrassing to the officials who are desirous of bringing about peace.

It is feared that the collapse of the Bonilla government in Honduras and the consequent installation of the pro of Nicaragua will result in a combined attack by them upon other Centra American republics. The apprehen sion of such a movement has greatly Friday breakfast. They sold 125 dozen, alarmed all of the other states, and it is said that Central America, after a unusually long term of peace, is now be ing rapidly turned into an armed camp in readiness to repel attack from any

It is said that there is no disposition on the part of this government to play the part of policeman toward these sister republics, but it would welcome any proper opportunity to restore peace.

Knapp said that the visit of himself and Neill will be simply in the direction of mediation and conciliation. The request for these efforts at mediation and conciliation came from the railroads.

Stahl's Suicide Unexplained West Baden, Ind., March 29.-The cause of the suicide, by drinking carbolic acid here yesterday, of Charles S. Stahl, captain and former manager of the Boston, American league club, re mains a mystery. Stahl's fellow players attribute the act to worry about th prospects of the Boston team for th coming season. They say that when he joined the team this year he was morose and seemed to worry all the time. His indisposition continued after he resigned the management of the team a few days ago.

To Consider Labor Measures

Boston, March 29 .- The order for : recess committee to sit next summer and fall for the purpose of considering various labor measures introduced the legislature this year, with the exception of the overtime bill, was adopted in the house, by a vote of 135 to 79. Th so-called labor men of the house, Republicans as well as Democrats, voted against the order. Otherwise the division was generally on party lines, the crats opposing its passage

"Pardon, madame," he said, removing his hat. "I find the rooms of mademoiselle are open, but all is in darkness. I cannot make any one hear." Madame took up her paper.

"Then mademoiselle is probably out," she declared. "It is generally so at this hour. Monsieur can leave his name.'

"But the doors are all open," Duncombe said.

"I go presently and close them," madame answered. "The careless hussy!" Duncombe produced a small piece of gold. Madame laid down the paper at once. She looked at it as though ready to snatch it from his hand. "Madame would oblige me very much if she would ascend with me at once," Duncombe said. "I should like to make quite sure whether the young lady is there or not." Madame was on her feet with re markable celerity. She accepted the coin and carefully placed it in a purse drawn from somewhere among the folds of her voluminous skirts. "We shall need a candle," Duncombe reminded her. She lit a lamp, talking all the while. "Monsieur is very generous," she declared. "Mlle. Flossie is a charming young lady. No wonder she has many friends. There was one," she continu ed, "who came here with her this afternoon, but he left almost at once," she added hastily, aware of her indiscretion. "Ah, these stairs! They grow steeper for one so corpulent. At last!" | you offended all these people?" She pushed open the door and went sideways down the narrow passage. a view of the room beyond. Madame cried out, and Duncombe felt all his vague fears spring into a terrified ap-glance at it. Madame set down the lamp upon the table and made the little room hideous with shrieks. "Good God," she cried, "it is the little one who is dead!"

Duncombe himself fetched in the gendarmes and waited while they took voluminous notes of the occurrence. The murder seemed to them and to madame to be one of a very common class. The assassin had left no clew whatever behind him. The poor girl's rings had been torn from her fingers; her little stock of jewelry ransacked; her purse was empty; everything of value had been taken. There was not a shred of evidence against any one. Madame, who had seen the man upon the stairs, could only say that he was short and wore a black felt hat. The officer who took down what they had to say shrugged his shoulders as he replaced the book in his pocket. The affair would pass most certainly, he feared, into the long list of undiscoverable

Duncombe left his name and address and enough money for the funeral. Then he returned to his hotel. This was the end, then, of the clew from which he had hoped so much. Spencer's warning as to what would surely happen to those whom he might succeed in bribing came back into his mind with sickening insistence. In a measure he was responsible for the girl's death. After all, what chance had he? He was fighting against powers which, moving always in the darkness, seemed able with the most ridiculous ease to frustrate his every move. He re-entered the hotel in a state of complete nervous depression. For the first time he had forebodings on his own account. What had happened to Mile. Flossie might happen so easily to

HUNDREDS KILLED

Roumanian Soldiers In Conflict With Peasants

REVOLT IS SPREADING

Bombardment With Field Gun of Rioters Who Refused to Disperse--Eleven Army Officers Among the Dead

Bucharest, Roumania, March 29 .-The efforts of the government to suppress the revolt of the peasants have met with only partial success. The troops are now acting with increased energy. A large number of rioters have been killed in the numerous conflicts with the soldiery, but as yet there is no sign of permanent amelioration of the situation.

On the contrary, the rioters appear to be becoming more bold and determined. and today the situation undoubtedly is aggravated. As an indication of the nervous apprehension existing even in the capital, the new prefect of Bucharest, as a measure of precaution, ordered all shops in the city closed. This created the impression that the rioters were approaching Bucharest New Advertisements Today. and there was wild panic until it was learned that these fears were ground-

At Tirgovistes a band of peasants attempted yesterday to raid an arsenal and procure a supply of rifles and ammunition. Upon being repulsed by the troops, the rloters set fire to many houses in the town.

The roving bands of peasants in the district of Teleorman were surrounded and brought to bay yesterday by detachments of troops.

At Viaschka a large band of peasants summoned to disperse refused to do so and opened fire on the troops, whereupon the latter fired three shots at them from a field gun, killing 70 men and wounding many more. According to an unconfirmed version of the encounter, 200 of the peasants were killed.

A squadron of hussars sent to Brabova came in conflict with a band of peasants and it is reported that 50 of the latter were killed.

A train running between Bucharest and Komona was stopped by rioters and looted.

The streets of Jassy are empty and the shops still shut. The peasants there apparently are overawed by the concentration of troops. A serious encounter is reported to have taken place at the village of Papanhabestic, in

There have been sanguinary encounters in the district of Dolj, but details are lacking. The peasants there are very riotous and rumor places the number killed and wounded in encounters with the troops at several hun-

The authorities are now beginning to use artillery to bombard the villages where the rioters take refuge. The peasants committed terrible atrocities in the Buzeo district, and the troops sent thither had orders to suppress the disturbances at any price.

It is still impossible to give even an killed or wounded since the beginning of the disorders, but there is apparently good reason to believe that the reports have not been exaggerated and that when the totals finally are learned they will be greater than is now supposed.

Not less than 11 army officers have been killed or wounded. It is reported that in northern Moldavia, where the | 303 Water Street, rloting was temporarily suspended, the peasants intend to recommence their pillaging during the Jewish passover if the promises made to them by the government are not fulfilled.

The authorities are doing all they possibly can to restore order and some of the measures being adopted are most Seeking Facts From Roumania New York, March 29 .- At a meeting of the American Jewish committee to take some action on the sufferings of the race in Roumania at the present time, it was decided to send a cablegram to Berlin to ascertain the exact situation in Roumania and the amount of money needed. The committee has about $200,000 of undistributed contributions.

Population of United States Washington, March 29.-There are now nearly 8,000,000 more people in continental United States than there were six years ago. The above estimate is based upon figures compiled by the census bureau. According to its estimate, the population of continental United States in 1906 was 83,941,510. The population of the United States in 1906, including Alaska and the insular possessions, was 93,182,240.

FORAKER VS TAFT Sponsors at

BOTH WANT NOMINATION

Senator Plans to Get Enemies Under Tatt Standard and Destroy Them--Latter Will Accept the Challenge

Washington, March 28 .- The presistage by the issuance of the statement by Senator Foraker. It has done more to arouse public interest at the national capital in the presidential situation than anything that has appeared on the political horizon since the close of the last campaign. It apparently puts at rest the numerous stories of harmony in Ohio. From the standpoint of the clever politician the statement is prohounced by experts an admirable piece of work.

The so-called primary election which Foraker declares he will ask the Republican central committee to provide for are what his opponents in Ohio have been anxious to obtain. They have declared that Foraker could be beaten if the primary system prevailed. He takes them at their word, but is clever enough to link with his scheme the proposition not only of nominating candidates for state offices, "but also to determine the preference of the Republicans of Ohio as to candidates for United States senator and for president." In other words, Foraker proposes to array all of his enemies under the Taft presidential standard and then to destroy the whole bunch of them at one fell stroke.

Senator Foraker said a week ago that he had not the slightest expectation of being a candidate for the presidency and did not intend to ask his state for the nomination. He expressed the highest personal regard for Taft. He ndicated his unwillingness to believe that Taft had his knife out for him (Foraker) and his whole attitude at that time was receptive. He was ready to shake hands across the bloody chasm. Friends of Taft were elated at the prospect of harmony in Ohio and were of the secretary of war which would lay the foundation for a truce. Elmer Dover, secretary to the Republican great experience in Ohio politics, was willing to undertake the organization of the state in favor of Taft's nomina tion if it were made plain that Taft and Foraker were standing shoulder to shoulder. Friends of Taft thought that in order to capture the indorsement of his state for the presidency he would be warranted in sacrificing any emissaries to take to Foraker. Secretary Taft will accept the nomination for the presidency and it looks now as if he will be called upon to enter the lists with Foraker. The Foraker challenge is just the sort of thing needed to arouse in Taft that enthusiasm in his own behalf which thus far his friends have been unable to inspire. The people of Ohio will have an opportunity to hear him on a number of occaions this summer, as he has already made arrangements to make several speeches on the issues of the day.

Fraud In Glass Contract

Harrisburg, March 28 .- Much of the glass in the electrical fixtures of the new capitol was paid for by the state before it was delivered, according to the testimony before the capitol investigating commission. #### Workmen Had Bad Fall

New York, March 28 .- A huge steel girder slid from the top of the front wall of a power house which is being built in Brooklyn and in its descent carried away a scaffolding upon which a dozen men were working. Seven of the men were badly injured and of the number Joseph Whittaker and George Harrison received fractured skulls. Harrison died from his injuries.

International Police Force Needed Madrid, March 28 .- The Spanish government has issued an official note expressing its whole-hearted concurrence in France's desire to stop the intolerable disorders in Morocco, and it has formally pointed out to the sultan the desirability of his facilitating the early establishment of the international police force in Morocco.

Steel King Says He Never Made a Dollar Gambling In Stocks--Great Wealth Rather De creases Than Adds to Happiness

New York, March 29.—Andrew Carnegie made a vigorous attack upon certain Wall street methods in a speech

"A few gamblers in Wall street are he is delighted. But if they go the Applause was frequent, and as all other way and he has not the stocks to deliver, he thinks the president has gone a trifle too far. "It is a good thing for the country that the gamblers have come to grief. I wish I could invent a system or a plan whereby both sides of the stock gamblers would come to grief. As a business man I can say I never made a dolar gambling in stocks. I would as soon sit down to gamble with eards or at bridge.

"Let me speak as a plain business man. Wall street is not all of America, and there are some places in New York even that are not Wall street. The speculators are parasites feeding and decline to recognize men who make money in this way and render no value for it and give nothing, or manufacture nothing, or exchange in no way a value

"We have had five years of wonderful prosperity. Today, instead of charging $460,000,000 for the Carnegie Steel company, I would ask $640,000,000 for it. Wall street is really in a healthy condition. It is an eruption that is coming out and not going in, and let us rejoice and hope that tomorrow prices will go down.

"Gentlemen, I was born to poverty, But I wouldn't change with the richest man's son of millions born to life What does he know of father and mother; of the boy whose mother is nurse, seamstress, washwoman, cook, philosopher and friend; no teacher except at school? Advice From a Man of Experience on the Difficult Business of Choosing a Wife-Proceed Carefully, Let the Engagement Be Brief and Have the Ceremony as It Should Be. A [Copyright, 1905, by C. S. Yost.] Y DEAR BOY-I have just received your letter announce ing your engagement to Miss Anna May Jackson. I don't know whether to congratulate you or not. So much depends upon the girl, you know. If I could see her and have a ten minutes' chat with her, I could tell whether you have drawn a prize or a blank. As it is, I shall trust to Providence and hope for the best.

Your description is entertaining, but not very informing. You say that she "is as beautiful as Aurora upon a summer morn," that her eyes are "filled with heaven's own blue," that her "hair is a golden aureole surmounting a marble brow," and her cheeks are "like the rosebud kissed by the enamored sun."

Beauty Not Indispensable.

I gather from your poetic if some coal. Beauty, my boy, is a mighty good thing. Your mother was the pret tiest girl I ever saw or ever hope to see-begging your pardon-and she is still the most beautiful woman this side the pearly gates, in my estimato be as fortunate as your father in that particular. Beauty is a very desirable, but not a necessary attribute of a wife, and a man stands a mighty poor chance of permanent happiness who banks on it alone. It isn't always desirable even. It is likely to produce process. If she has nothing, you can vanity, and vanity, besides several extravagance. I won't stop to tell you what extravagance leads to. It would fill a book, and there would be nothing comfortable in the whole volume.

Reminds me of an old friend, one of these art enthusiasts, who fell in love with a flat because of its impressive "facade." He didn't stop to investigate what was back of the "facade, but took a lease at a pretty stiff figure. He wanted a "facade." and he got it good and plenty, as I've heard you re mark. Within a month he found that everything behind that artistic front was a heartbreaking sham. The plas ter cracked and dropped on his head in painful chunks; the doors sagged and refused to shut without a lavish expenditure of power and profanity: the furnace could be induced to supply nothing but refrigerated air-and he had a lease. It's probably too late, but my dear boy, before you close the deal get back of the "facade" if you can.

Not Always a Lottery.

You have been always a pretty level headed youngster, and I have great hopes that you have chosen wisely. Indeed, I get considerable encouragement from the way she spells her names as they were given to her when she was christened. It indicates that if she ever had any silly stage she has passed through it safely. Our Annyes and Mayes and Ellyns are all afflicted with a mental weakness that doesn't do any particular harm if they get over it. As a rule they do, but if they don't Lord help their husbands! After all, though, the average American girl has a mighty good substratum of common sense, and if a man goes into it with his eyes wide open marriage isn't such a lottery as it's cracked up to THAT be. That lottery theory is based on the idea-an idea that all who wear trousers are apt to accept without question - that man, myself in particular.

"The risk is all on my side," says he to himself. "The woman that gets me ought to consider herself in luck." As a matter of fact, there are more masculine than feminine blanks in this world. and when a man contemplates marriage he ought first to consider his own qualifications-get 'em out and look at em through a microscope and don't let any personal bias interfere with a

Three or six months Given the proper financial backing, are my habits and disposition such that a sensitive and sensible woman can live with me for a lifetime without an occasional desire to jump into the river? Few men stop to consider that side of the proposition, and when the wheels of the matrimonial wagon begin to creak they wonder what's the matter. Talk about the divorce evil! If woman wasn't the most long suffering creature on the face of the earth, all the courts of Christendom would be filled with divorce cases. But that's a digression. As I was saying, take stock of yourself and then consider the

You notice I don't ask you about in the spring Miss Jackson's fortune. I don't care whether she has a red cent or not. In fact, I hope she hasn't, for the poor man who marries a fortune is up against one of the hardest propositions our sex can have to contend with. Unless he has character and strength of purpose far beyond the ordinary he is almost sure to degenerate, to become a mere appendage, of less value to himself and the world than one of his wife's servants. If the girl you ex- truly, tion, but you can't reasonably expect pect to marry has money, see to it that she keeps it, and keeps it where you can't get at it. Hoe your own

There's only one way to make a man, and digging for a home is the start even and pull together, and I tell other disagreeable features, leads to you, my boy, there's nothing in this woman hitched to the same load. If she have sense and love she will pull, too, harder perhaps than you can, but if she be a fool, no matter how she may be veneered with the graces of society, no matter how erudite she may be, she will balk or kick over the traces, and if she doesn't spill the load she'll make it all the harder for you to draw. So I say that a few grains of

Don't fool around about it either. I don't believe in long engagements. There is nothing so wearing on a woman as a protracted wedding. If you have no debts and enough money in your pocket or the bank to pay the preacher and furnish up a little flat. don't put off the day any longer than is necessary for her to get ready. As a rule, a girl wants a few months, perhaps a year, for preparation; a man in the first enthusiasm of acceptance wants to be married tomorrow, today right now. The girl is right. The altar should not be boarded like a delayed trolley car. Take your time, but not too much time. The engagement period has its psychical as well as its material purpose. It is a period of preparation of mind and heart as well as of raiment. It is an important factor in the making of future happiness, and it should never be skipped unless circumstances are exceptional. But it should not be allowed to linger beyond the reasonable time necessary for preparation. It is the man who wants to marry on the spot, and it is usually the man who causes the repeated postponement of the wedding. Either he grows indifferent or thinks it necessary to increase his financial resources, and the longer he delays the harder it is to fix the date, while the girl can do nothing but wait and wonder and doubt. Then is the time when "hope deferred maketh the heart sick" sure enough. Don't let your engagement continue more right. Don't go frisking out to a suburban justice of the peace to have the knot tied without trouble and without ceremony. Next to your birth and your death it's the most important event of your life. Your funeral may be an imposing one, but you will not be in a po sition to appreciate it. You will play second fiddle at your wedding, but it's your show nevertheless, and you should make it as impressive as you can. I don't mean by that to encourage lavish expenditure. Gorgeous decorations and all that sort of thing detract from the true feature of the occasion. That, however, is none of your affair. The bride's parents attend to that. The point I am trying to make is that the wedding should take place in the presence of a number of invited guests, as many as practicable. Whether at home or at church doesn't particularly matter, although I prefer a church wedding because it can be made more imand Browning's pressive and because of the deeper religious significance. When I use the word impressive, I don't want it applied to the witnesses, but to you and to the girl you stand up with. It is upon you, both of you, that the impression should be made, and it ought to be strong enough and deep enough to keep you trotting along together for the remainder of your life. I have noticed that these fly by night, "let's go out and get married" weddings are responsible for a large proportion of the divorce cases in our courts. It's like the come easy, go easy money of the gambler. You ought to get the idea of the solemnity and responsibility of marriage pumped into yourself and your sweetheart until you are both saturated with it. Then walk up to the altar with joy in your hearts, and if you can't live happy ever after it won't be the fault of the preacher.

Now, my dear boy, I neither suppose nor expect you will pay the slightest attention to anything I have said. As I heard an alleged comedian remark the other night, "I just had it on my chest, and it had to come off." Yours JOHN SNEED.

YOU COULD See This CITY CROW

Personal Recollections of a Dollar

I am a dollar. A little age worn, maybe, but still in circulation. I am proud of myself for being in circulation. I am no tomato can dollar-not I.

This town is only my adopted home, but I like it and hope to remain permanently. When I came out of the mint I was adopted into a town like this in another state. But after a time I was sent off to a big city, many miles away. I turned up in a Mail Order house. For several years I stayed in that city. Millionaires bought cigars with me. I didn't like that, for I believe in the plain people.

Finally a traveling man brought me to this town and left me here. I was so glad to get back to a smaller town that I determined to make desperate efforts to stay.

One day a citizen of this town was about to send me back to that big city. I caught him looking over a Mail Order Catalogue. Suddenly I found my voice and said to him-he was a dentist, by

"Now, look here, doc. If you'll only let me stay in this town I'll circulate around and do you lots of good. You buy a big beefsteak with me, and the butcher will buy groceries, and the grocer will buy dry goods, and the dry goods merchant will pay his doctor's bill with me, and the doctor will spend me with a farmer for oats to feed his buggy horse, and the farmer will buy some fresh beef from the butcher, and the butcher will come around to you and get his tooth mended. In the long run, as you see, I'll be more useful to you here at home than if you'd send me away forever."

Doc said it was a mighty stiff argument. He hadn't looked at it in that light before. So he went and bought the big beefsteak, and I began to circulate around home again.

Now, just suppose all the other dollars that are sent to Chicago or some other big city were kept circulating right here at home. You could see this town grow.

ALLEGED FALSE ENTRY

Former Official of Lynn Concern Held on Embezz ement Charge

Lynn, Mass., March 30.-William O. Hadley, former manager and treasurer of the Hadley Cement company, was errested here on a charge of embezzling $2300 from the company. He was later released on bail, his father becoming his surety.

An expert accountant made an examination of the books of the company and reported irregularities aggregating $34,000. The specific charge of embezzlement of $2300 covers an alleged false entry on the books, where, it is ciaimed. Hadley entered a fictitious credit to cover a shortage. It is assumed by the experts that the false entry covers the amount diverted at that particular time.

The company is engaged in the mannfacture of shoe cement and disposes of its products all over the world. Up to a short time ago the business was controlled by Hadley, but when he decided to expand it he formed a corporation and several directors were appointed, Hadley acting as general manager and treasurer. Three months ago George W. Belonga assumed the treasurership, succeeding Hadley. Hadley, however, remained with the company as a salesman until last Saturday. when he was discharged. In the meantime an expert accountant had been investigating Hadley's accounts. The arrest yesterday followed.

Fierce Contest For Mayoralty

Chicago, March 30.—Supporters of the leading candidates for mayor have begun to count probable votes and to prepare for a fast finish of an exceedingly bitter political struggle that will be decided at the polls next Tuesday. Settlement of the street railway franchise question is the leading issue, outside of the bitter personalities passed between Mayor Dunne, Democratic nominee for re-election, and Postmaster Busse, Republican choice for mayor, The workers of both parties offer tigures which show the election of both candidates. Every newspaper in the city with the exception of two, supports Busse. The interests of Dunne are being looked after by the two newspapers of W. R. Hearst.

Want Old Privileges Restored

St. Johns, March 30 .- A number of fishermen at Bay of Islands held a public meeting and adopted resolutions protesting against the policy of the government in excluding the Americans from the herring fishery there. The resolutions were forwarded to Governor MacGregor for transmission to the British cabinet. Bay of Islands was built up by the American frozen herring industry and the inhabitants are largely dependant upon American money for their livelihood.

To Settle Strike Question Today Chicago, March 30.-Whether there will be a strike of the employes in the train service of the western railroads hinges on a meeting to be held today between two federal officers and the representatives of the unions and the railroads concerned. The railroads declare possible and the union representatives assert that further concessions will have to be made or today's meeting will fail to prevent a strike. Brewery Workers on Strike

St. Louis, March 30 .- In an effort to enforce demands for increased wages, made by members of the United Brewery Workers' union, about 850 brewery workers walked out of the 23 breweries in St. Louis. The boss brewers refused to grant the sliding scale demand of from 5 to 60 percent increase. They should be purchased in Quincy finally offered a general increase of $1 a week to each employe. The offer was made too late to stop the strike.

Dun & should be purchased in Quincy Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says that easter retail trade surpasses expectations, favorable weather bringing out a very large volume of business during the past week, while activity was not confined to specialties, but extended to all seasonable lines of staple merchandise. Wholesale and jobbing houses received many supplementary

A Check on Gambling

Austin, March 30.-Governor Campbell has signed the bill making gambling a felony in the state of Texas. The law provides a penitentiary sentence for any person convicted of gambling, a jail penalty for the owner of any building in which gambling devices are kept, and imprisonment for 30 days for any person found guilty of playing cards in a private house for a prize.

Shipbuilding Plant Tied Up

Lorain, O., March 30.-Because the American Shipbuilding company employed strike-breakers and private detectives, all the men remaining at work in the yards here walked out. Six hundred were out before, making 1600 men now on strike. The company now has only 40 strike-breakers and the detectives remaining in its yards and the plant is completely tied up.

Doctor Who Was Expected to Quality as Witness For Detendant Has Expressed Opinion That Thaw Is Insane

New York, March 30 .- From sources assumed to be authentic, it was given out late last night that Dr. Hamilton, allenist, will be called upon to testify before the lunacy commission which is to determine whether Harry K. Dr. Hamilton, it was stated, will ap pear as a witness at the request of the ommission and will be the only sanity expert examined. The declaration that Hamilton will be called was a surprise, for it had been generally understood that the commission would not hear any expert testimony as to the defendant's condition of mind. Dr. Putzel, one of the commissioners, it was exected, would be relied upon to deterine any medical points involved.

It was Hamilton's testimony at the trial that precipitated the movement for a lunacy commission. Originally etained by the defense, he examined Thaw and was expected to qualify as a witness for the defendant. Lester yesterday, Medical Examiner Meigs left for Boston, taking with him the viscera from both bodies, which he turned over to Dr. Whitney, the Harvard Medical school poi expert, for analysis.

From developments in the case, which the police are guarding with the greatest secrecy, it is believed that the authorities may have a double murder mystery to unravel.

It is claimed that neither of the girls had an enemy in the world, and that they loved each other very dearly, and their immediate relatives say that in their opinion death was caused by some sort of poison in cider which the girls drank just before they retired. Some of this cider was taken to Boston also by Meigs, but so little of the headache powders which Bridget was in the nabit of taking remained that Meigs could not get enough for an analysis. In some circles rumors were prevaent that Winifred may have been driven insane by the thought that Bridget was about to be married and leave her. It was Winifred that suggested Bridget go across the street to the store of Mrs. Nevins and get the

A New Aid Fable.

This is not a George Ade fable, though it may sling some slang. It is a Home Aid fable.

Once there was a Geezer, who sat around and cut Kindling too small for Cook Stove purposes. He Whittled against Time and Flabbergasted against his Town. You may use whole eggs for the bodfes of animals. If these should prove to be too heavy for that purpose, bore a small hole in each end with a sharp penknife and blow out the contents. Eggshells emptied in this manner will serve admirably in a number of instances.

Bits of twigs, matches or toothpicks make excellent legs and arms. The legs of a knight's horse may be made of pieces of twigs, and so may the legs and arms of the knight himself. In one animal, "Coco," a bit of a root was used for a tail, and a ridiculously funny tail it made too. Two pieces of timothy were used for antennae. Appropriately enough, chicken feathers are a great feature in this fun. They may be used for ears or wings or plumes or tails. In conclusion, use any and every material that is at hand. The more absurd it is the better.

Small scraps of shell fastened to the ends of the arms and legs make excellent hands and feet. Make all fastenings with sealing wax and paint features on your animals with ink. The half shells may be fastened to gether in various ways-some slipped inside of the other and some fastened together so as to make a whole shell.-

A QUAINT OLD CUSTOM.

Sad Fate of Young Men Who Tried to Avoid Easter "Heaving."

Woman's Home Companion.

A very peculiar English custom whose origin it is difficult to trace is that of "heaving," practiced on Easter Monday and Tuesday. Men would heave or lift women seated in chairs above their heads, and women would heave men in similar fashion. Those who refused to be heaved or to heave had to pay a fine. Sometimes men and women would hide away to escape the ordeal and the fine, and at times the result was disastrous-as, for instance, in the case referred to by Taylor in his manuscripts:

"1548-9. This vere & the tuesday after Ester hollydays two yonge men of Salop whose names were Edmonde Reynolds & Robart Clarke were smothered under the hiding themselves from mayds the hill fallinge part the rof upon them."

There may have been many others who suffered more from evading the heaving, but history is silent about & ...... them.-New York Press.

The eggs of each player are all of one color and are unlike those of the other players. The object of the game is for each player to so place the eggs standing upright in the sand as to bring five in a row touching each other. In turn each player out a row for herself, at others cutting off the line of an opponent. The one who first succeeds in obtaining the desired row calls out:

"The raven, chough and crow Lay five in a row."

Monaco's Easter Mystery Play. Monaco recently had its mystery play of the passion, of which one feature was the colonel of Pontius Pilate's army, who was clad in a Roman cuirass, the epaulets of a general, a long rapier, white silk stockings, a gigantic helmet with a towering plume of feathers. Judas' part consisted in throwing himself continually into his master's arms and kissing him in a touching manner. Adam and Eve were personated by a young boy and girl in costumes of Louis Quinze, with powdered wigs, and eating apples off the boughs of an orange tree.

Love Tokens. The arranging and decorating of pasche, or love eggs, and the sending of them as offerings to lovers on Easter Monday were time honored customs, and one of our writers of some years ago assures us that some such than could possibly be obtained on St. with East, signifying "bright" or "shinhandsomest valentine we could buy.

In London there is an old and felicitous custom on Easter Monday, when the boys of the famous Christ hospital school repair to the Mansion House to receive from the lord mayor what are known as "Easter bobs." Each "Greclan" receives a so reign, and the others, according to their relative standing, are given coins of lesser value. Refreshments of lemonade and buns are served, after which the mayor and the civic authorities conduct the boys to Christ church, Newgate, where they hear a sermon.

The Origin of Easter.

The word Easter, derived from the Anglo-Saxon "Eastra," or, in Teutonic, "Ostara," the goddess of dawn or spring, whose chief festival was celegift made by the hands of the sender brated about the time of the vernal was more sure to bring happy results equinox, is probably of the same root Valentine's day by the sending of the ing." # Willard School Teacher Who Has Remarkably Long Service

The Quincy Teachers Association are busy arrangeing for a reception which they will tender to Miss Emeline A. Newcomb, who has just completed her fiftieth year as a teacher in the public schools of Quincy, all of which have been at the Willard buildings.

Just when the reception will be held has not been decided, for the teachers are waiting until the new hall in the High School building is ready for occupancy. This may be at an early date.

Miss Newcomb begun her duties as a teacher in the Quincy schools in April, 1857, being assigned to the second division of the primary department at the Willard school, over which the late Seth Dewing was master. Miss Newcomb has continued to teach in West Quincy, although she now is a teacher in grade IV. A new brick building of 20 rooms has replaced the old wooden building destroyed by fire.

Poison Found In Miss Lawson

The inquest held Friday before Judge Prat:, on the death of Annie C. Lawson who died suddenly Feb. 6 at the home of her uncle, Thomas P. Haley of 346 Adams street, was for the purpose of clearing up the mystery which surrounded her death.

Miss Lawson who was 17 years of age had made her home with her uncle since the death of her mother. On the ill. morning of her death she went up stairs | to dress. Shortly after a heavy fall was heard coming from her room. Rushing for a few weeks rest. upstairs they found her on the floor unconscious. Dr. Hunting was called but the girl was dead when he arrived.

A superficial examination did not disclose the cause of her death, and the following day, with the consent of the family, Dr. Hunting assisted by Dr. Robertson of Boston, performed an street, corner of Mill street. autopsy. They found the organs to be in a healthy condition and the cause of death in doubt.

Medical Examiner Jones was then notified and he sent the organs to Prof. Whitsey of Harvard for analysis.

His report was made at the inquest, and is said that a quantity of corrosive sublimate was found, causing death by mercurial poisoning.

Miss Lawson was very fond of candy trifle easier. and it is supposed that she found some corrosive sublimate lozenges that were kept for antiseptic purposes and supposing that they were candy she ate one of

What has induced the president to Consider favorably the making of a speech at this time is the apparently concerted attempt on the part of men prominent in various financial commu mities to hold him up before the public as being responsible for the present condition in the market. Of these men the president proposes to demand specifications under this charge.

At the present juncture the presi-Clent's concern, apart from his desire to mefute the charge of the railway men that he is responsible for existing unwasiness, is largely political. Obeying Orders.

A celebrated specialist to whom time was money, and who had an imperious temper, made it a rule that all patients should undress before entering his consulting room so as not to waste any of his time. One day a meek looking little man entered with all his clothes on. "What do you mean by coming in like that?" asked the doctor in a rage. "Go and strip at once.

"But I"- faltered the man.

"I tell you I've no time to waste," yelled the doctor, and the man left the room in haste. When his turn came he re-entered the room. "Now then," said the doctor, "that's better. What makes the compass and rivals the can I do for you?"

"I called to collect your subscription for the benevolent society."

Not Too Long.

The chapel of a fishing village in Newfoundland used to depend for its services on the occasional help of the clergy of the nearest town. One wet Sunday the clergyman who volunteered to do the duty drove over in a hack. Tolling the chapel bell himself, he

In the course of his address he expressed the fear that he was wearying his hearer and was gratified to be told that he could not be too long. The sermon, consequently, was lengthened out to some forty minutes

When it was ended the preacher expressed a desire to shake hands with a man who had listened to him with such evident appreciation. On a nearer view (for he was somewhat short sighted) he discovered that he had been preaching to the driver of his hack, who was all the while charging overtime!

N the most unlikely places," Duncombe murmured to himself as he bowed to the Frenchman whose name his friend had mentioned. "I am very glad to meet you again, M. le Baron." he said aloud.

They were in the covered garden at the Ritz. Duncombe had accepted the pressing invitation of an old college friend whom he had met on the boulevards to drop in and be introduced to his wife. And the third at the tea table was M. Louis, known in society apparently as M. le Baron de Suers.

Lady Hadley, his friend's wife, smiled languidly upon them both. She was a frail pink and white little woman, with the reputation of a beauty to sustain, wherein lay her life's work.

"You two know each other, of course," she remarked. "Paris is no larger than London, after all.

Duncombe shook hands with a pale weary looking youth, most immaculate ly dressed, but whose whole appearance was distinguished by marked symptoms of lassitude and ill health. They sat in easy chairs almost opposite to one another, and Duncombe found the other's scrutiny almost embarrass

It being one of the first Mutual Quaker City quartette, in their musical comedietta, "The Villiage Blacksmiths," etc. CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.

For the fourth time this season a Shakespearean play will be the offering at the Castle Square. Beginning with "Julims Cæsar" in October, "Twelfth Night" and "As You Like It' followed and now during the coming week, there will be a grand revival of the "Merchant of Venice" with elaborate scenery from designs by Frank Chouteau Brown and all the stage effects and good acting that have made the previous Shakesperean productions at the Castle Square so notable. Of all Shakespeare's plays "The Merchant of Venice" is undoubtedly the trongest and most effective for dramatic purposes; the variety or its characters and the picturesqueness of its scenes lending themselves readily to the skill of Stage Director.

HOLLIS ST. THEATRE. The enthusiastic spirit in which Mr. Gillette and his most picturesque comedy drama, "Clarice," have been welcomed back to the Hollis Street theatre, Boston, far transcended the modest anticipations of the managementto such a degree that Manager Rich cabled Mr. Raster concert by the Sunday School under the a month. She leaves a husband, two in London, urgently requesting an extention of the star's engagement Easter week. Public announcement of this prolongation of stay was no sooner made than the inordinate demand for seats for the extra week tempted Mr. Rich to again cable Mr. Frohman, asking for the additional week following Easter. This second plea was granted, but not until after a succession of cables had passed between Boston and London. Inasmuch as the distinguished actor does not contemplate ever appearing in Boston again in "Clarice," he has been induced to play an extra matinee on Wednesday April 10. In view of the fact that his remaining two Saturday matinees are practically sold out already, i stands to reason that the extra matinee that Mr. | Hancock street. Gillette is to give April 10, will in all probabil ity, be a sell-out," also.

PARK THEATRE.

Robert Edeson, Boston's favorite diamatic son, returns to the Park theatre for a limited angagement of two weeks, beginning April 8th, with the regular matinees and a special matinee Patriots' Day. As the college-bred Indian, whose nobility of character made him beloved by his associates, Robert Edeson has furnished a new characterization in the American drama that stands out like a bas-relief among the original and unique creations of the decade. Among the many moments of particular interest, the firelight scene, where the lonely Indian makes a declaration of his love to the beautiful white girl, gains great attention. Racial prejudices are handled by the author with consumate skill, and his facile pen has interwoven the bright, breezy comedy of youthful college life with the low, sad music of the Caucasian's irjustice to the Indian. Next year Mr. Edeson has arranged to ap, ear in a brand new American production.
